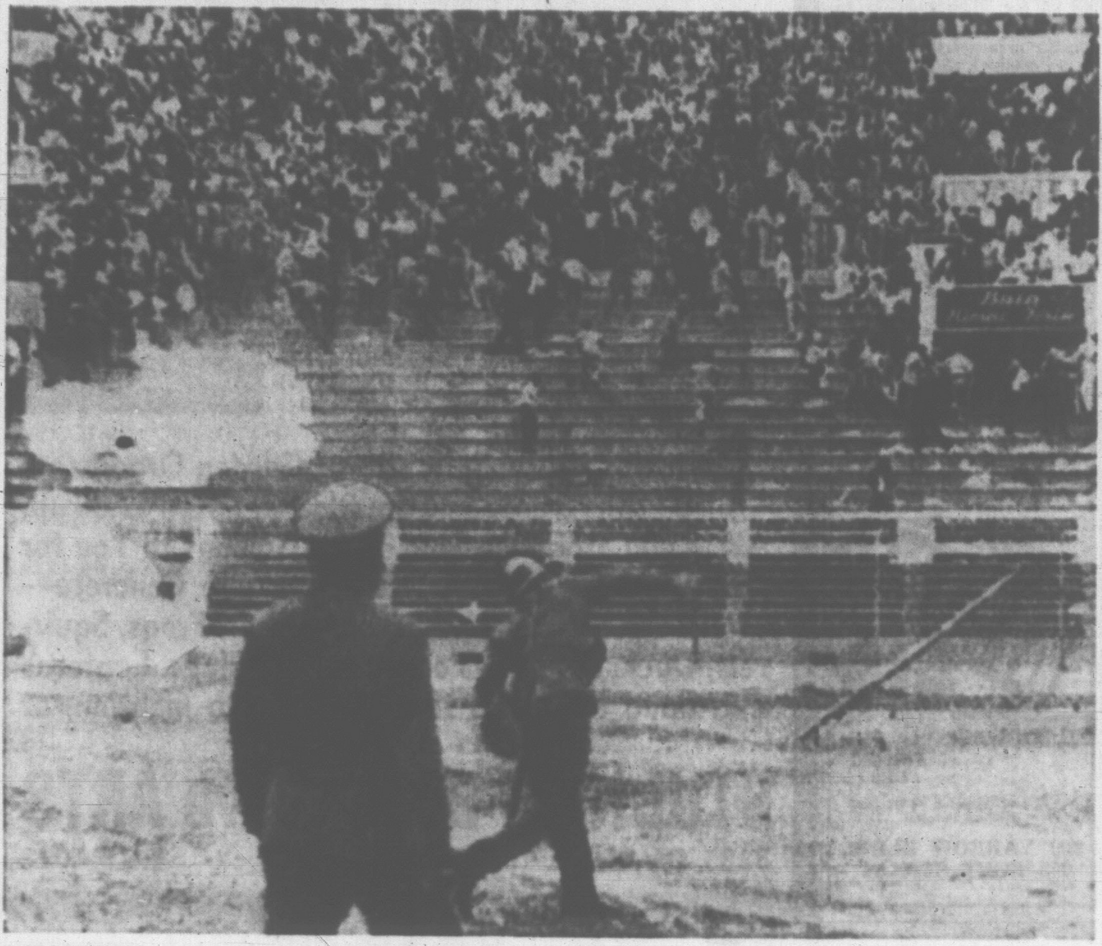
268 Peru Soccer Fans Die In Wild Stadium Stampede



POLICEMAN tosses tear gas bomb toward spectators in stands in Lima, Peru, stadium in futile effort to control riot that killed 268 persons Sunday. At least 300 others were injured. A crowd of 45,000 was in the stadium for the international soccer match with Argentina. (AP Wirephoto.)

Police Tactics Rapped

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — The government decreed semi-martial law today to halt rioting after a stampede in the soccer stadium in which at least 268 persons were killed and more than 300 injured.

A state of national mourning was ordered.

The riot-stampede in the National Stadium started when a Uruguayan referee discounted a goal scored by Peru in a game with Argentina and the latter won, 1-0.

Hot-headed fans in the crowd of 45,000 swarmed on the field to attack the referee and police started throwing tear gas grenades. The crowd stampeded for the exits only to find some of them still closed. Hundreds were trampled to death in the mass hysteria.

A baby was born in the stadium at the height of the rioting. It was not known whether the child and mother survived.

Priests walked among the trampled as the panic eased, administering the last rites. Most of the deaths were due to asphyxiation.

A check of hospitals and morgues showed at least 268 dead and more than 300 injured. At first it was feared the death toll was over 400.

The casualty count was made more difficult by the hundreds of persons who jammed corridors seeking to identify the dead.

WALL SHATTERED

The huge stadium was jammed today by thousands of curious. The shattered steel wall separating the playing field from the bleachers gave mute testimony of the violence of the stampede.

Hundreds of glass windows were shattered. Some sections of the stands had been burned.

There were two piles on central stairways of shoes of the victims trampled to death. A great blotch of blood on one wall showed how people had been crushed against it by the thousands stampeding for the exits.

Three buildings in front of the stadium were charred and smoking ruins. They had been attacked, burned and looted by the rioting mobs which surged into the streets after the disaster.

TEAR GAS BARRAGE

Most of the deaths were caused by the crush of the crowd seeking to flee the barrage of tear gas hurled into the stands by police.

Newsmen at the scene said the small police force present—some 40 men with two dogs—made excessive use of tear gas, perhaps because they were afraid of being overwhelmed.

Newsmen also said the tear gas was thrown into the stadium seats instead of among the rioters who had broken down the steel wall between the stands and the playing field, and were swarming onto the field.

Police identified the principal trouble-maker at the game as a

EYEWITNESS DESCRIBES HORROR

'Screaming for Help, Gasping for Breath'

Among the 45,000 in the stands Sunday when disaster struck at an Argentine-Peruvian soccer game in Lima was Roland Selfio Angeles. This is his account.

By Rolando Selfio Angeles

LIMA, Peru (AP)—I saw people crushed to death in the tunnels of National Stadium, and heard the horrible screams of others trying to escape the human stampede.

I was on the east side of the field when the trouble started Sunday afternoon.

Argentina was leading 1-0 in the last minutes of the soccer game when Peru sent a ball into the net.

You should have seen the fans scream and yell. Because of interference on the play the Peruvian players protested some, but the game went on.

The crowd jeered, booed and whistled and some bottles and rocks were thrown on the field. But things were not yet out of control.

SCREAMS AT REFEREE

Then away down the field on the south side of the stadium a heavyset man started running toward the referee, screaming insults.

The police grabbed him quickly, roughed him up some and got him off the field.

The players resumed the game, but about that time at the south end of the stadium another fellow ran out on the field and started for the referee.

By now the crowd was really screaming, and began to pour out on the field.

The referee ran for his life, and escaped. The players left the field without any trouble.

FIRE TEAR GAS

The police started shooting tear gas into the stands to try to calm the fans down a little and keep them off the playing field.

But, especially at the north end of the stadium, things really got out of control. The fans started slugging it out with police.

Spectators everywhere then tried to leave the stadium before they got hurt. The ones who went through the tunnels at the south end were lucky. The gates were open.

The real trouble was at the north end, where the gates were closed.

There was a stampede. The first people ran to the gates and were crushed by the ones behind them trying to get out. They began to pile on top of each other.

They were screaming for help and gasping for breath. I saw some collapse and fall to the ground. They were trampled to death.

In the stands, fans were fighting fans, to get out and head for the exits.

IN VIET NAM

A-Bomb Jungle Goldwater Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Barry Goldwater proposed Sunday the use of low-yield atomic weapons to defoliate the forests along South Viet Nam's borders and expose the jungle supply lines of the Communist-led rebels.

The Arizona contender for the Republican presidential nomination also urged bombing of bridges, roads and railroads used for bringing supplies from Communist China and North Viet Nam unless the Communists halt military shipments over them. He said such non-atomic attacks on supply lines should be carried out "wherever they may be."

He said U.S. authorities should "consult with the leading Red Chinese in North Viet Nam to the effect that we are stronger," before bombing the supply routes, and predicted they would back down and cut off the shipments.

"I think those people understand what we would be getting at, and we should be doing it," he said in an interview recorded for a radio and television program.

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass accused U.S. Senator Barry Goldwater Sunday of issuing a "canibalistic call" for the use of atomic bombs in South Viet Nam.

The Tass commentary said: "He did not dare to say straightforwardly that the bomb would wipe out everything living from the face of the much suffering land of South Viet Nam."

RED CHINESE MASS TROOPS

LONDON (AP)—Red China has massed 100,000 troops and dozens of fighter planes to come to North Viet Nam's aid in case the South Viet Nam war takes a northward turn, the Sunday Times reports.

French Back Cambodia's Attack Claim

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—France today supported Cambodia's aggression charge against the United States and Viet Nam and brushed aside Washington's proposals for a UN border patrol on the Viet-Cambodian frontier.

French Ambassador Roger Seydoux told Security Council the frontier incidents should be left to the three-power international control commission, in which Communist Poland has a veto along with the other members, Canada and India.

SNUBBED by Russian and Czech delegates during Security Council speech at UN today was South Viet Nam's ambassador, Vu Van Mau. Communists do not recognize South Viet Nam government.

IWA Split On Contract Proposals

The International Woodworkers of America is "split right down the middle" over a contract proposal aimed at settling the coast lumberworkers dispute, a union spokesman said today.

A majority of IWA negotiators last week agreed to recommend acceptance by union members of a conciliation report offering wage increases of 28 cents an hour over two years, plus 15 cents for tradesmen. The union was demanding 40 cents in one year.

Two strong locals in the 26,000 member union have already said they will recommend rejec-

IODE Asks Plebiscite To Settle Flag Issue

FREDERICTON (CP) — The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire said today the Canadian government is depriving "citizens of their rights to vote" on the distinctive Canadian flag issue.

The IODE, in a telegram to Prime Minister Pearson unanimously backed by members of the IODE's 64th annual meeting here, said the "national chapter, IODE, deplores that in this democratic country our government would deprive individual citizens of their rights to vote on an issue as vital as the Canadian flag.

"The IODE strongly urges that the prime minister hold a national plebiscite in order that the people of Canada may decide whether the Canadian Red Ensign or a flag of a new design shall be the official flag of Canada."

CHURCHILL SAYS RED ENSIGN 'DISTINCTIVE'

Tories Plan Long Fight Against Canadian Flag

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Progressive Conservative and other opposition members favoring the Red Ensign are prepared to wage a long drawn-out battle in the Commons against adoption of Prime Minister Pearson's proposed distinctive Canadian flag.

Gordon Churchill, Conservative House leader, made this clear today when he vigorously and emphatically denounced Mr. Pearson.

"We are not going to have a flag thrust down our throats by any sawdust Caesar," he said in an interview. "I feel very strongly about this and you can quote me."

The official Opposition, the Progressive Conservative group, will move a want of confidence motion in the Liberal minority government today. However, it will not be concerned with the flag.

Mr. Churchill pointed out that the Conservatives could hardly cast a want of confidence motion on the flag issue at this time because so far there was nothing officially before the House. All that the opposition groups know about the Liberal government's flag proposals are what they have read in the press or what Mr. Pearson has told them in reply to questions.

Consequently, Mr. Churchill indicated that the Conservatives would not be introducing a motion of confidence on the flag despite Prime Minister Pearson's challenge to them to do so last week. They will wait until the flag resolution is introduced and on a vote on the resolution the minority government will stand or fall.

Mr. Churchill was forthright in his stand. "I am for the Red Ensign," he told The Times. "If you think I am going to swallow the Pearson personal design you are wrong. We have a distinctive Canadian flag now in the Red Ensign and that is the flag I support.

"This pretense that adopting a new distinctive design will make for national unity is a delusion. It is purely an attempt to delude the people of Canada. I think it is nonsense to bring this matter forward at this time unless the adoption of a new flag was generally acceptable.

"We are going to have a good fight in the House. It has been a live issue for only a week now that the bombshell has been dropped and already the reaction is setting in. The debate in the House will inform the public and we intend to see that there is a thorough debate."

FLAG BALLOT

Ensign Leads Polling But Both Sides Hot

Victorians are pretty hot on the flag issue!

Over the weekend close to 1,000 letters containing the Times' flag ballots reached the office.

A number of them were accompanied by letters explaining reasons for the votes.

Not all of the ballots were processed for today's paper.

But the count at this juncture indicates that Times' readers favor the Red Ensign better than two to one over the new maple leaf design.

Here is the actual count so far:

Red Ensign	601
Maple Leaf	254

The notes on ballots and the letters indicate the depth of feeling on the subject. Several of those objecting to the new design do so because it eliminates the Union Jack as part of the flag.

Here are a few comments:

"The Hon. Mr. Pearson seems to forget the Red Ensign is a sacred symbol, a flag to be honored always . . ."

For a united Canada; A large Maple Leaf; One for All and All for One."

"As a German I have the experience how a flag change splits the nation."

"Born in Canada 67 years ago . . . To me this is one of my proudest moments . . . to live under a real Canadian flag . . . I shall always love the Union Jack and think it should always be flown . . . but I remain a Canadian who is very happy to live under our own Canadian flag."

"I think the flag issue is only a political football."

For the convenience of those who have not sent in their votes, the ballot form is repeated today.

Just mail it to "Flag Ballot, Victoria Daily Times, 2631 Douglas."

I am in favor of the new maple leaf design for Canada's national flag ....

I think Canada should confirm the Red Ensign as the national flag ....

Pity the poor postman come June.

That's when Yukon Queen Tours begins its Inner Harbor cruising with two sternwheelers, Yukon Queen and Yukon Belle.

Instead of selling ordinary, flat, cardboard postcards for visitors to mail home, YQT has come up with a novel approach — tin cans, with labels announcing that this one contains "Homogenized Paddlewheel Foam — dehydrated — churned up in Victoria's Inner Harbor," and that one holds "Genuine Steamboat Smoke—purely invisible."

First on the mailing list is the Yukon itself.

In exchange YQT will receive from the frozen North a collection of canned Yukon Cold and Alaska Highway Dust.

We repeat — pity the poor mailman.

To the casual motorist driving past Little League Park on Hillside, it seems as though tap roots from the park have suddenly sprouted pitcher's mounds at random through the pavement.

Like mushrooms from some bituminous nether region.

But the sign is merely a seasonal harbinger of the city's paving program.

That stretch of Hillside is due for a topcoating, and such street hardware as manhole covers, gas valve covers and catchbasin tops must be raised up, with a gently sloping collar of asphalt, prior to paving.

well-known underworld figure, Matias Rojas. They said he had led the mob onto the field to attack the referee after the protested decision.

The government action in decreeing a state of emergency — semi-martial law — came after the stadium mobs surged through the streets, stoning and setting fire to buildings and cars.

Civil rights were suspended for 30 days and police were authorized to arrest, search and seize without warrants.

President Fernando Belaunde Terry personally expressed "consternation and sorrow." He ordered an official investigation of charges police firearms killed at least 10 persons in the riot.

Police denied they used guns but newsmen said some stadium guards did resort to their sidearms.

The mobs also destroyed a restaurant, burned a city bus and at least three automobiles and set fire to a brick factory and part of the swank Jockey Club. One car was turned over with its occupants inside.

Police quickly dispersed other mobs marching on city hall and the presidential palace to protest "police brutality." There was no major violence.

URUGUAY REF

The trouble started during an Olympic-elimination soccer game when Uruguayan referee R. Angel Pazos disallowed a Peruvian goal that would have tied the score in a game with Argentina, 1-1.

Despite a steel barrier separating the stands and playing field — a common precaution against violence in Latin America—a fan got onto the field and attacked the referee.

Police ejected the interloper and Pazos suspended the game. The crowd went berserk. Fans swarmed onto the field and tried to get at the Argentine players. Police rushed them into a locker room from where they were escorted safely to a hotel.

Outnumbered police tried to contain the crowd throwing tear gas and firing shots into the air and some 2,000 fans stampeded and headed for the exits. They found them closed and barred and sought to fight their way back into the stands only to be hurled back by the avalanche of people trying to get out.

Scores of persons, many of them women and children, were trampled underfoot and others were crushed against walls or gates.

Some months ago a mob angered by the outcome of an international soccer match also stormed through the city, wrecking and looting.

Finally, after it was too late, the exit gates gave way and some fans were able to get out. They were gasping for air. Others lay dead, and everybody pitched in and started carrying them out, or fanning others with their coats or newspapers to get them some air.

Outside of the stadium there was rioting, and hoodlums had a field day setting fire to cars and buses and trying to rob the dead who were stretched out on the sidewalks.

Police put dead and dying into ambulances, cars and taxis and sent them to the hospitals.

tion, a third is reported to be recommending rejection, and a fourth is lying doggo.

11,000 INVOLVED

Members of Vancouver local 1-127 and Duncan-Nanaimo local 1-80 will be asked to reject the formula. This involves 11,000 members.

Port Alberni local 1-85 is reported planning to recommend rejection also. Victoria IWA representatives will not comment on their attitude. There are 1,600 members in the Victoria local 1-118.

Port Alberni MLA John Squire, speaking for the IWA, today confirmed his 4,100 members will be asked to reject the proposal.

MEETING TONIGHT

A meeting will be held at 7:30 tonight, Mr. Squire said, and Tuesday he and other local executives will travel the west coast.

"We will go into all the camps and bring them up to date with the situation," he said.

The four points of contention as far as the big local is concerned involve travel time, wages, vacation and shingle-mill conditions.

He said a minimum increase of 21 cents is necessary in the first year of a contract.

'NO NEED'

"There is no need for a strike," Mr. Squire said. "The differences can be negotiated. Mr. Fisher's recommendation as a basis for settlement has a deal of merit."

IWA regional council spokesman in Vancouver, Grant MacNeil told the Times today the split has developed into a propaganda battle.

Ballots are in the hands of the eight IWA locals and must be returned by June 8.

'NOT JUSTIFIED'

Mr. MacNeil said the council stresses that rejection of the proposal is "not justified because of the gamble involved."

If it is rejected, he said, the regional policy committee must return to the negotiating table, and 16 "objectionable" company demands will have to be considered. These did not come into the current conciliation proposal.

"Why gamble 28 cents an hour —which would take the base rate to $2.36, as high as Washington and Oregon went after a two-month strike?" he asked.

Inman to View Waxworks In Far East

A Victoria man is going on a trade tour of Japan and Hong Kong to look at the waxworks.

The party leaves Vancouver Airport June 3.

The tour will last three weeks, with a four-day trip to Hong Kong.

Mr. Inman said he is interested in importing entertainment displays from Japan and in wax figures made in Hong Kong.

He also plans to investigate the possibility of importing building supplies from Japan.

The tour is the first official B.C. trade mission to Japan.

Businessmen are paying their own way and will split up in Japan to visit various industries.

Departure time from Seattle will be 8:30 a.m., arriving in Victoria at 12:20 p.m. and departing from Victoria 5:30 p.m., arriving in Seattle at 9:30 p.m.

FRENCH PLANE BUILDER'S WIFE FREED

Kidnapper 'Charming,' Says Victim

PARIS (AP)—Three men are being held in the kidnapping of Mrs. Marcel Dassault, wife of the builder of France's nuclear-carrying Mirage IV bomber fleet, who says she wasn't mistreated during 35 hours as a prisoner.

"The chief was charming with me," said the 63-year-old socially-prominent Parisian after two gendarmes stumbled onto the kidnappers' hideout Sunday.

"But they were dangerous men. I wasn't afraid but I was ready for anything."

Mrs. Dassault, who had belted one of the kidnappers in the stomach with her umbrella, said the men provided her with covers during a chilly night and brought her grilled steaks and boiled potatoes when she complained of being hungry.

The three suspects, said by police to have been mixed up in prostitution and other underworld activities, still were being questioned today.

SEEK FOURTH MAN

A search continued for a fourth man, who outraced police cars and disappeared in Paris. His name was thought to be Dominique. Investigators said he was a cool, experienced criminal.

Mrs. Dassault was freed when two village gendarmes, participating in a check of farms and summer cottages north of Paris, shouted "is anyone here?" outside farmhouse.

They broke in when a woman's voice replied "yes, don't leave." A gunman meekly handed over his pistol and said some friends offered him a little money to guard a farmhouse. He was Mathieu Costa, 26, a bartender, of the French island of Corsica.

The second man arrested, Pierre-Gabriel Darmon, 35, a native of Algeria, was grabbed by police who waited for someone to return to the farm.

Nearly 1,400 Attend Witnesses' Assembly

Jehovah's Witnesses of the south Vancouver Island circuit concluded their three-day assembly in Victoria Sunday night with a peak attendance of nearly 1,400 at the S. J. Willis Secondary School.

"At no time in man's history have times been as urgent as they are now," said circuit supervisor Richard Arnett in a public talk Sunday night.

"This is due to various pressures that are brought to bear against each and every one of us, and one of these is the pressure of widespread immorality."

Mr. Arnett said crime in the United States has increased 69 per cent since 1950 and the world is confronted by the worst era of lawlessness in its history.

"Another pressure is that of materialism resulting in a consuming desire to be rich. This has become like a cancerous growth causing many to cheat, steal and even kill.

"National disturbances and the fear of nuclear war with weapons that threaten the very existence of our civilization constitute another pressure."

One of the highlights of the assembly was a two-hour color film produced by the Watch Tower Society showing around-the-world series held in 24 cities last year and attended by 580,000 persons from 161 lands.

A baptism was performed Saturday at which 23 new ministers of the Jehovah's Witnesses were ordained and dedicated by complete water immersion.

'Flag Fight Ups Chances Of Election'

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Dalton K. Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative party of Canada, said Sunday the handling of the flag issue by the Liberal government has increased the possibility of a general election.

But he said he could not elaborate until he had met with party officials in Ottawa. He had just returned from a month-long visit to Europe.

Mr. Camp told the Ontario Young Progressive Conservative conference he has favored a distinctive Canadian flag and the establishment of O Canada as the national anthem for 20 years. But he had hoped this could be achieved outside the political arena.

He accused the Liberals of political adventurism in the manner in which they introduced the issue. They were driven by opportunists and guided by expediency, he said.

A few hours before Mr. Camp spoke, the emergency committee to save the Canadian Red Ensign distributed petitions to delegates. The petition urged a national plebiscite on the flag question.

U.S. Rejects Laos Parley

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States today rejected French and Soviet proposals for a full-scale international conference on Laos unless there is first an effective cease-fire and the Communists withdraw from recently captured territory.

The state department declared that unless these conditions were met there would be "no benefit" in convening a 14-nation Geneva conference for Laos similar to the one held in 1962.

In making this declaration, the United States essentially backed the position of Laotian neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma, who said over the weekend he would attend such a conference only if similar conditions were met by the Communist side.

The state department said it was still attempting through "diplomatic channels" to reverse what it called the "deterioration of the situation" in Laos.

STILL ATTACKING

Military reports reaching here indicated that Communist forces who during the past week ousted the neutralists from their bases in the Plain of Jars are still attacking neutralist positions north and south of the plain.

Officials here said the Communists appeared bent on trying to isolate and destroy neutralist military units in the area.

The United States has publicly promised to take any measures "necessary" to deal with the situation if diplomatic efforts fail.

Job Seekers May Get Fares Paid

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP) The federal government should pay the fare of any unemployed Canadian whose only hope of finding work is to move to another part of the country, Labor Minister Allan MacEachen said in an interview here Saturday.

He said the federal government is looking "pretty hard" at its present method of determining who should get assistance for transportation costs in such cases. At present the only jobless who qualify for the transportation payment are those who live in so-called "labor surplus" areas.

Mr. MacEachen added: "As it stands now if you live in Toronto and you are unemployed and you want to go to Vancouver where you know you can get a job, you have to get there the best way you know how because Toronto is not a labor surplus area.

"But it seems obvious to me that the problems you face without a job in Toronto are no different than those faced by the unemployed Canadian who happens to live in a labor surplus area."

U.K. Jobless Down

LONDON (AP) — Unemployment in Britain is at its lowest rate in 2½ years. The labor ministry said Monday there were 369,121 unemployed in May, a drop of 42,477 from the April figure. In May last year the figure was 554,000 or 2.4 per cent. This month's percentage is 1.6.

'DONE WONDERFUL JOB IN CUBA'

Former MLA Lauds Castro

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, former New Democratic Party member of the British Columbia Legislature, returned from Cuba Sunday with nothing but praise for the Castro regime.

She spent three weeks on the island as the guest of the Cuban government.

"Despite the fact Fidel Castro is a dictator," she told an interviewer, "I think he has done a wonderful job in Cuba.

"It's a great pity they can't be left alone. With the aid the Cuban people are getting from Russia, China and Czechoslovakia, they will eventually turn their island into a paradise. . . ."

She said she found Cuban workers well-fed and prosperous. There was little evidence of the "so-called suppressed workers in a military state".

There was a free college education for all students with sufficient ability.

Mrs. Steeves felt that "If Premier Castro ever calls a free election I'm sure he will receive the support of the average people".

"There is a lot less opposition to the government there than people are led to believe."

Canadian Average: 37.05 miles per gallon

We've always claimed that the Volkswagen 1200 gets 38 miles to a gallon of regular gas.

But sticking to our figure hasn't been easy.

Some customers say they get 45 mpg. Others report in the low thirties. (It seems to depend on how and where they drive.)

So we decided to settle the question once and for all. We sent questionnaires to VW owners across Canada.

The results are above. (You can double check our average simply by adding the figures together and dividing by 313.)

So much for gas.

How about oil?

The average is 1500 miles without adding a drop.

Tires? The average is 35,000 miles to a set.

Trade-in? The average is better than average because Old Faithful never goes out of fashion.

There's one more thing we should tell you.

The average Canadian doesn't buy a Volkswagen.

But then who wants to be average?

Preparing to Separate?

THE DECISION OF THE QUEBEC government to commission a study of the overall consequences of separatilsm is a grave move.

It is the first official indication by the provincial government that action to set up a separate Quebec state outside of Confederation is being considered. The foremost separatist in the government, Resources Minister Rene Levesque, in all his provocative public utterances, has not been understood as speaking officially for the government. The only man who can speak officially for the government, Premier Jean Lesage, has until now omitted the threat of complete separatism from his public statements.

It is, of course, entirely possible that Mr. Lesage's authorization of the Quebec study is merely to put more pressure on the federal government. Obviously Prime Minister Pearson thinks this is the case since he stated last week in the Commons that the Quebec study was "entirely academic" because "no such separation is going to take place."

The prime minister, however, could be wrong. There is a political limit to concessions which the federal government can grant to Quebec, without losing the support of the rest of the country. If this limit is reached with Quebec still unsatisfied with its place in Confederation, then a separate Quebec state could be a distinct possibility. The Quebec government may be simply running a bluff with its economic probe of the consequences of separatism; on the other hand it may be deadly serious.

The prevailing opinion of Canadians outside of Quebec is that from the economic viewpoint a separate Quebec would be an absurdity — that the new state could not endure without the rest of Canada to support it. This may or may not be true, but it should be remembered that the world has become increasingly filled in the past decade with independent states which began as economic absurdities but which are now beginning to make their own way. And Quebec would not start off with the handicap of many of these states, of being backward in industry, resources or population.

Those who criticize the present federal government, and the prime minister in particular, for "giving in" to Quebec, for not taking a tougher line against the demands for more provincial rights, seemingly forget that there is another side to the economic question of separatism. And this is quite apart from the vast political problems involved and the pressure on both parts from the United States.

Those who are saying, "Let Quebec go, who needs the French-Canadians anyway?" should look more closely at what Canada would be economically without Quebec.

They should consider what would happen if a market of 5,000,000 people with an annual consumer spending power of nearly $10 billions were lost to them. They should consider what it would mean to them if Quebec's vast, rich and largely untapped natural resources were no longer contributing to the general wealth of Canada. They should consider the difficulty of holding Canada together as a unit with an independent state sitting astride the lanes of communication and transportation between east and west.

There are many serious students of the Quebec situation who take the pessimistic view that there is little hope of keeping French-Canada in Confederation, that any steps taken now will be too little — and much too late.

This is a view to which the majority of Canadians, French or English-speaking, must not subscribe. People of goodwill and intelligence, both in Quebec and the rest of Canada, who see separation as a disaster for the whole nation, are still in a majority. They can prevail over the still relatively small numbers of Quebec separatists and anti-Quebec bigots if they will only apply their goodwill and intelligence to the task.

Money for Schools

AN UNSATISFACTORILY small number of Greater Victoria property-owners have given an eminently satisfactory answer to the school board's request for permission to borrow money to build classrooms and purchase other facilities.

The percentage majorities supporting the referenda were well above the 60 per cent, though only one in four or five qualified to mark ballots bothered to vote.

At the same time Esquimalt rejected the swimming pool proposed by the council as an addition to its recreation centre in equally emphatic terms—and with a much larger turnout of voters.

If there is a lesson in these respective votes, it seems to be that the community recognizes the need to give the young generation adequate facilities for education but is far from convinced that relatively expensive recreational amenities are essential. Coming on the heels of Oak Bay's rejection of its recreation centre, the Esquimalt vote should impress all municipal councils.

One other point needs emphasis now the new phase of the school expansion program has been approved. It is that architects and the board should take some pains to see that additions, where they are made, are constructed in reasonable conformity to existing school buildings. This should not eliminate desirable features in new construction.

A splendid vote of confidence has been passed on the school board. Now let the trustees proceed to provide the necessary accommodation without delays that would continue the shift system in some localities.

Retire the Steam Engine

IT IS PARTICULARLY UNFORTUNATE that Port Alberni, still struggling to recover from the recent flooding, should now be set back by a strike in the huge complex of sawmills and pulp and paper mills on which the community largely depends for its livelihood. A spread of picketing to other MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Company plants may compound the problem.

Union solidarity has put some 3,000 men out of work, with further walkouts likely, but the initial dispute concerns only 60 office workers. The latter seek union recognition and substantial pay increases —as much as $75 a month over current base rates of $200 to $450. Obviously there will be wide initial disparity between the union and management stands, to be whittled down through the slow process of negotiation, perhaps with conciliation or eventual arbitration.

But meanwhile the slow process of unemployment, used-up savings, family debt, lost production and community hardship will also be taking place.

It is time that both union and management should devise a wholly new approach to settlement of disputes — one which would preserve production and payrolls along with the right of both sides to fight for their causes at the bargaining table. The present process is too destructive, too costly and too hard on the economy of the individual, the company, the community and the country.

This century has produced marvels of scientific and technical invention. New industrial processes, new medical skills, new heights in human betterment have been reached. But we still conduct labor-management disputes in the fashion of the man in the fable, who burned down his house each time he wished to roast a pig.

Labor, management and government, with assistance from every type of expert they wish to call in, should concentrate on devising a 20th century approach to a 20th century problem. The steam engine has given way to the electric motor, the electronic relay and the computer. And steam engine methods of settlement in labor problems should likewise be replaced.

An Excellent Show

ALL WHO SAW THE ANCIENT ceremonial drill of the Queen's Own Rifles at Work Point last Friday and Saturday will agree on the excellent display which the unit provided.

The QOR have made a name for themselves in war and in peace over the past century, and now carry into the new era of modern warfare the enduring qualities of discipline, precision and smart soldiering. It may be becoming anachronistic, but this was a show to stir imagination and excite admiration in any human being who can still be stirred or excited.

Need Study

Montreal La Presse

THE legislature's committee on the constitution has just taken the wise decision to have experts study the possible impact of independence on Quebec's political, economic, social and cultural realities.

Certain persons have expressed interesting opinions on these various points, notably on the economic effects that could result from separation. But it can be said that no really serious study of the problem has been made.

This study is vital if we want Quebec to decide its course, as is its right, with full knowledge of the situation. For, whether it pleases us or perplexes us, the separatist hypothesis cannot be brushed aside with a sweep of the hand. It is one of the paths Quebec could choose to follow. Everybody has the right to know exactly where such a pursuit would lead us.

The majority who are opposed to independence could be tempted to say to the minority: "Prove to us that your pretensions are well founded;" but the minority would nevertheless have a right to answer: "Prove to us categorically that we are wrong."

In the two cases, at any rate, it is a matter of establishing proof. . . The studies that this proof presupposes are too vast and necessarily too costly to be left to the initiative of some zealots.

That is why we approve when the legislature's committee on the constitution has the burden carried by the government itself, in other words, by the taxpayers as a whole.

Mr. Gordon Hints at Even Higher Federal Deficits

MR. Walter Gordon, in a little noticed comment, has suggested a new and somewhat startling justification for higher budgetary deficits. In reply to Mr. Paul Martineau, who expressed some curiosity about the Government's general plans for making good the revenues it has sacrificed to provincial demands, the Finance Minister suggested that Ottawa would have three choices. The first two are the obvious ones. It may be necessary to impose higher taxes. Alternatively another review of government expenditures may disclose items which could be eliminated without detriment to the national economy.

Western

Mr. Gordon touched only lightly on the third choice and it is surprising that he was not pressed to amplify his thoughts about it.

It is, he explained, "to consider, in the light of the fact that additional revenues are being made available to the provinces and therefore that their deficits would be reduced below what they otherwise would be, whether in these circumstances a higher federal deficit may be justified."

Such consideration would have to await a later date when the economic conditions a year hence were known.

There are two suggestions here. The first is that provincial governments now in the red will use the new-found revenues to restore their budgetary positions. Provincial deficits may not disappear but at least they will be substantially reduced.

In view of the announced plans of the major governments and their insistence that they must have more and yet more to meet their bills for roads, education, social services and a back-log of other demands, this expectation seems whimsical. It requires at the least that the provincial governments will display a much higher sense of responsibility than Mr. Gordon's own colleagues.

The second notion is that federal and provincial deficits are more or less interchangeable. If the latter go down, Mr. Gordon is entirely justified in going up. By a happy coincidence this will also be the path of least resistance.

Without in any way dismissing provincial deficits as of no importance, it may be suggested that Mr. Gordon is indulging in a new and very dubious doctrine. It was apparently not in his mind when he wrote Troubled Canada and it is not to be found in his original "face the facts" Budget of June 13, 1963.

In his well-known book Mr. Gordon was at pains to warn the country that there was no prospect of any overall reduction of taxes until the increase in total national output brought about a much larger yield from present tax rates. In this context, he wrote:

"Until this time, we shall have to become reconciled to paying taxes at about their present weight unless a majority of the people are prepared to allow our governments to curtail the services they are now providing. The only alternative way of paying for such services would be a policy of permanent deficit financing, of 'printing money', a course that, if persisted in, could lead only to disaster."

Mr. Gordon went on to say that, while deficits might be justifiable and necessary in periods of heavy unemployment, positive measures to correct such conditions and to restore budgetary stability should be taken as soon as possible. "Not to do so would be an invitation to inflation which no responsible government could contemplate."

This is important testimony because it indicates the special character of the federal deficit. The fact is that the national government has the power, which it used in spectacular fashion during the war, to carry deficits by inflation, by 'printing money'. But Mr. Gordon was formerly persuaded that this was a prescription for disaster.

If Mr. Gordon came to office with the theory which he offered, albeit in tentative fashion, on Tuesday, it is remarkable that he failed last June to urge spending restraint on the provincial governments. What he did say was that, while readjustments of revenues and responsibilities were possible "naturally no federal government can ignore the problem of federal finance in seeking to lighten the burdens upon provincial treasuries."

This doctrine has apparently suffered a curious metamorphosis. Lighten the burdens on provincial treasuries, the minister now suggests, and one can ignore the dangers implicit in the federal deficit.

In June Mr. Gordon informed Parliament that there had been a resurgence of confidence since the election. "But if this is to be justified," he warned, "it is important that we begin to put our national house in order; that we begin to move toward balancing our federal budget under conditions of high employment. We must take the first step in this direction now."

Mr. Gordon, accordingly, took the first cautious step, followed in March 1964 by a second and ultra-cautious step. He then remarked with satisfaction that, taking everything into account, the economic effects of the second Budget were "about right in our Canadian situation as we see it for the coming year."

It is difficult to escape the conclusion that the minister's zeal for order in the national house has diminished almost to the vanishing point during his term of office. His mind has turned instead to future justifications of large disorders. But, of course, the matter is in a sense academic at this point and a Finance Minister may always hope, like Mr. Micawber, that something will turn up — even, as Mr. Gordon wistfully suggests, in the capitals of the ten high-spending provincial governments.

Further Opinions on a Change in the Canadian Flag

Sharing the Jack

In regard to the current flag issue it would seem most timely to note that, apart from the Mother Country, the three senior members of the Commonwealth, namely, Canada, Australia and New Zealand are the only ones in whose flags the Union Jack forms a part.

Each of those flags is nevertheless quite distinctive and different from the others, but they all have this one thing in common. Such I suggest is most appropriate and something of which these three nations should take pride and treasure, particularly at the present time when so many recently established states choose to claim membership in the Commonwealth but show little regard for adherence to its institution or traditions.

Without elaboration of the background of this issue which has Quebec as its source, I suggest that it would be a most inappropriate and indeed shameful act if Canada, the senior one of these three sister nations, should decide to now adopt in the place of her present flag a new one from which the Union Jack would be omitted, and by so doing divest herself of the only outward symbol of her identity with the Commonwealth and the nation to which she, and indeed the world, owes so much.

Such would in no way enhance her prestige or status, or our self-respect, but rather the opposite, and would be an unworthy act on our part.

Keep the Finest

If Canada must have a territorial flag, stripped of historic and religious significance, up the Thunderbird!

Canada is a Christian country. Let us cherish the cross, bearing witness to our faith, for which heroes have given their lives. If we must have a new flag, let it be an embodiment of all that is finest in the Red Ensign.

LYN MORROW,

President, Progressive Conservative Women's Association of B.C.

Presumptuous

Not much attention need be given to Canadian Legion views on the flag. Not many months ago they were satisfied to fly the Union Jack. Since they can't have it, they now tell us the Red Ensign should be our flag.

It is quite plain the Legion represents a certain faction of veterans. They presume to speak for all veterans both living and dead on the issue of a flag.

During World War II many servicemen were not pleased with the lack of identity, but we knew no change could be expected during such difficult times. Many considered the Red Ensign to be little improvement over the Union Jack.

Now, the Legion would have us believe we would be breaking a sacred trust with fallen comrades with the choice of any other flag. They do not represent the view of many that I knew, and they certainly can not speak for the dead. I would think they would have more respect for the departed than to presume to speak for them.

Form of Nationalism

You are wrong in your editorial comment on the subject of the new flag. What better time to introduce a strengthening symbol around which to build a separate Canadian identity than when the country is coming apart?

Canada will never remain a nation without some new form of nationalism —and where better to start and build it than with a "Canadian" flag?

R.D.B.

In the Corners

Those of us who come of Briitsh stock observe with disappointment and misgiving the apparent determination of the federal government to introduce what they are pleased to call a "distinctively Canadian" flag—one which completely ignores the Union Jack which has so well served us since Confederation. The unimaginative design of a spray of three maple leaves means nothing. The maple, with it's gorgeous autumn colouring, flourishes in the New England states just as it does in Canada.

There is, I think, some validity to the contention of French Canadians that they are not fully recognized in Canada, though they represent a third of our population. If we must have a new flag—and I am not yet convinced that such a thing is necessary—let us have an ensign with the Union Jack in top corner, and the tri-color of France in the other. Then, if some silly ass wants to splash some maple leaves in the middle, I won't quarrel. But, without the Union Jack as part of our national emblem, I shall never fly any so-called Canadian flag. The Union Jack is my flag and will continue to be until I die.

No Hard Choice

Your wordsmith, Mr. Mayse, as well as some of your editorial writers seem to have the idea that the flag question is a fight between Quebec and the rest of the country.

There are also many letters to the editor about the flag we served under in two wars. (No one mentions Korea and the Stars and Stripes.) I did not see many flags in France. I did not see much of base camp or headquarters. The only flag I saw was the Union Jack used to cover our dead at funerals when we could get them out of the line. No finer flag was ever spread over better men.

In spite of all this I favor a distinct Canadian flag. Something to represent all of Canada and only Canada. Something of our own. No man can serve two countries and two flags. Hard as it may seem for some we must make a choice.

For me it is no hard choice. I was born here. This is my country. I have no loyalty to any other country. I expect to be buried here eventually (no rush, of course) and if I should have the honor of a military funeral a real Canadian flag would be my choice.

The Canadian Legion, Army, Navy and Air Force Vets do not represent all the ex-service men in Canada no matter what they claim. I would have no objections to a plebiscite on this matter and also no doubt about the outcome. However, if a plebiscite should be held it would be unfair to allow people to vote who do not hold Canadian citizenship.

There are a great many people from the Old Country living here who are not really Canadians. They have the vote in elections. They make their living here but they have taken no oath of allegiance to Canada and their loyalty is to Britain. They are Englishmen living in Canada and have no intention of becoming Canadians.

As to the design of our flag I would say the simpler the better. The maple leaf is generally recognized as a Canadian symbol in spite of the learned gentlemen who point out that no one species of maple grows in every province. Who cares? We make it ours. Pull it down if you dare. As for the abstract idiots, the college of heralds and other assorted nuts, let them take off for Mars and design flags for outer space.

No Flag at All

Since so much is being said about a new flag for Canada as to make this a problem which Prime Minister Pearson has declared wide open for free discussion, I wonder if I may question the wisdom of causing a dispute deepening the already too hostile and nationalistic feeling of enmity and hatred now so plainly evident and getting more worldwide.

Instead of creating more antagonistic, separate and jealous nations, adding colors to hated other national ensigns, and in our case creating a new flag, would it not be better if we boasting Canadians were to set an example of peaceful co-existence where without any "flag," without any strutting, without any boasting about our forefathers, about our national origin, we do our thoughtful best to contribute to world peace, to gaining peaceful settlement to some of the many world problems— i.e., Cuba, Viet Nam, Egypt, Israel, Laos.

I am convinced a new flag for Canada will accomplish little in settling these problems. Why not let Canada try a humble attitude or spirit of helpful co-existence rather than creation of a mere flag as a semblance of pride and expected adoration?

INSIDE POLITICS

With Douglas Fisher, M.P.

I counted more than 30 persons whom I recognized in the audience at the Girouard Inquiry. Almost all were newspaper men. A splendid indication, one would think, of the importance of this investigation into the transfer of Mr. Girouard's allegiance from the Social Credit to the Conservative camp despite Liberal wooing.

It is my opinion that you, reader-citizens, may place a different judgment on the importance of this committee work. Many of you are probably thinking: there must be better things for both members of Parliament and journalists to be about. One of you told me today that the Girouard Inquiry reminded you of the late Judith Robinson's remark in 1940 that a bomb dropped on the House of Commons would do less damage than anywhere else in Canada. This lady thought it an even better remark for today. But it seems bombs are not needed today.

I cannot comment upon the unfinished work of the committee, other than that its mood is not unlike that of the House and the interest it evokes has another parallel to the House. It centres upon a French-Canadian MP. He symbolizes in his switch the shifting loyalties in Quebec. The old adage ran: "Zeus is dead: Whirl is king." The old gods (in politics, at least) are dead in Quebec and a whirling picture which few claim to see clearly has replaced them.

Canada Can Never Be Same

I heard the comment at the inquiry by English-speaking Canadians: "I can't understand what this is all about." By "this" they and I mean the attitudes taken by the French-Canadian politicians to each other and their field of operations. The mystery won't be solved by the statement and examination. Yet it will remain the prime topic of interest until the turning months reveal whether Quebec is to leave us or on what basis she will stay.

It is my feeling that part of the discontent among members of all parties is an intuitive response in each to the fact that Canada can never be the same in our personal imagination. The concepts or symbols that we carried out of the war until the fact of the "quiet revolution" hit us are shattered. It is a mistake, I believe, to think English-speaking Canadians do not have a strong nationalism. But it was never articulated beautifully or widely in stirring song and thrilling story. When pressed, we defined ourselves in negative terms: that we were not Americans and not British, whatever the environment of the first or the traditions of the second may have willed us.

Thus there was a deep pathos for me in the information we got in our inquiry that one of the points the Liberals who wooed Mr. Girouard wanted to make to him was that their party stood for a distinctive national flag.

Our compatriots through their representatives in the Quebec Legislature have decided to have a commission of inquiry into the possible consequences of separation and an independent Quebec. Official Ottawa has been silent about this, perhaps with correctness and good judgment. But the silence does not reflect a lack of interest and concern. Or so I hope. Whatever I may hope, I feel that the silence represents the last acknowledgment I need before noting the almost complete eclipse of the federal representatives from Quebec as spokesmen for Quebec. Premier Lesage and his colleagues in Quebec City are the primary spokesmen for Quebec. Both Messrs. Lesage and Levesque have told us this over the CBC national television. They are right. They are truthful. And it is very sad, in general and for the many able men who sit here from La Belle Province. This may be part of the reason they divert themselves so intensely with the Girouard case.

After decades of good wishes and fraternal declarations on thousands of platforms in thousands of speeches, after hundreds of invocations to the contributions of Sir George Cartier and Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Ernest Lapointe and Louis St. Laurent we have reached the point where no great French voice can speak from Ottawa and reach the hearts of French-Canadians in Quebec. Why? Because those hearts are beating to the tempo from the capitol on the St. Lawrence.

Roof Fell In on Dupuis

Last year the story was that once Lionel Chevrier, the so-called "old guard" leader of the Federal Liberals, was gone, an exciting co-operative rapport would follow between Ottawa and Quebec. Last year the story was that Rene Levesque had had his day; he had failed to get the federal and provincial Liberals separated as organizations: soon he would be dropped. Chevrier has gone to charm the Londoners. Levesque is still with Lesage, talking about an "associate state" status for Quebec and pleasantly indicating that it is too early yet, given so much understanding from Ottawa about Quebec's destiny, to think of bombs and dynamite. The split of the Liberal organization is now certain.

Two months ago a Pearson minister, Yvon Dupuis, tackled Mr. Levesque courageously. He told him to get out of the party: "Rouge" in Quebec and "rouge" in Ottawa. The roof fell on Mr. Dupuis.

Maurice Lamontagne, the nice, professorial Secretary of State and an inner man of the Pearson circle, went into Quebec and called for bravery in denouncing separatism and those who talk about it. His words dropped flat and his message died without raising echoes or answers in Quebec. After his gallantry and after all the grand assurances by Guy Favreau of the decentralized delights of Mr. Pearson's new Canada and new politics, the Quebec Legislature has gone ahead to investigate the possibilities of separation as it would affect Quebec. No word about how it might affect the rest of us, the sons of all those generations who feted the likes of Cartier and Laurier. When I remember hearing Rene Levesque refer to Sir Wilfrid Laurier as "a Negro king" the new separation commission does not surprise.

Optimists Like Commission

The optimists say the commission will be a good thing. It will find out how costly and how bad separation will be. It seems to me that in the anatomy of any revolution there is a diagnosis by all right-thinking people that a sane constitutional monarchy is certain. They are the ones who get the shock at the guillotine's erection. In our case there won't be any guillotines or ropes. Even bombs and dynamite seem improbable. This is the quiet revolution and Ottawa is very quiet now, except about Mr. Girouard.

HOME GARDEN

Color (It Seems) Never-Ending

Color need not vanish from the rock garden by the end of May.

Hilda

Even the beginner in gardening may continue to enjoy an interesting display of plants which will not be difficult to grow and are easy to maintain in satisfactory condition.

Three of the easiest kinds of plants suitable for the beginner's rock garden are the dwarf campanulas, or harebells; various low-growing dianthusus or pinks; and helianthemums, or sun-roses.

With an assortment of these three, one would have color from mid-May through to the end of July. The sun-roses would, in fact, carry through August if their first flowers were cut off.

Dwarf campanulas of varying habits are among the daintiest of rock plants, and they contribute blue bell-shaped flowers of various sizes.

Some are upright facing, others are nodding, but all are attractive. Small plants soon spread in a pocket of soil in a crevice, to form a thick mat.

Among the dianthuses suitable for the rock garden or rock wall, are many of truly dwarf habit, having stems only two or three inches high. Some have small crimson flowers, others are pink or white. The leaves are usually a pleasant grey all year round, though at least one species makes a dark evergreen mat.

The helianthemums are unfortunate in having two common names—sun-rose and rock-rose. Rock-rose rightly belongs to another plant, the cistus.

Many fine showy colors are available in sun-roses—pink, orange, yellow, red, and white. They are well named, for they open with the sun and close on cloudy days, but the succession of blooms seems never ending.

Arab Unity 'Gaffe' Cost Nikita Ground

By GEORGE McARTHUR

CAIRO (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has sacrificed some of the tremendous success of his state visit to Egypt by tilting with President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the touchy subject of Arab unity.

Diplomats are wondering why the wily Bolshevik started the argument.

Khrushchev opened up with a podium-pounding speech at Aswan a week ago in which he said Nasser's nationalistic Pan-Arab view of Arab unity was too limited.

Hinting broadly at the Soviet Union's $270,000,000 contribution toward the Aswan high dam, Khrushchev asked: "Do you want us to go home?" He said that within the Arab concept of unity there should be a place for a Communist role.

Khrushchev, 70, called for unity of a Communist kind—workers of the world united and ignoring racial and nationalistic lines.

NASSER REPLIES

The premier's speech did not sit well with fervent Arab nationalists. Nasser, in a speech in Cairo Tuesday, rejected the Communist view, but said that the Arab struggle for unity was non-racial, anti-imperialist and remained sympathetic to the Moscow-led socialist bloc.

In his turn, Khrushchev stuck to his original ideas, but added soothingly that he had a deep understanding of Arab causes. He said "our policies, our interests not only do not conflict but go parallel with yours."

The Egyptian press quickly claimed victory for Nasser's views and defeat for unnamed imperialists who "have been trying to sow discord between our country and the Soviet Union."

The English-language Egyptian Gazette said "it would, of course, be an idle exercise to attempt to put in the same bracket the Soviet Union's concept of a unified socialist-Communist world and President Nasser's concept of Arab unity."

Having emphasized this point, however, the paper added: "What Khrushchev said in his speech Tuesday merely serves to show that the Soviet Union's approach to Middle Eastern affairs is more in tune with Arab trends than that of the West."

Privately, well - informed Egyptian officials went much further in condemnation, less far in attempting to patch up the dispute.

They say Khrushchev's popularity here, admittedly high, is a personal thing for past debts such as Soviet arms and help for the Aswan dam.

The Egyptians freely admit this debt but feel slightly betrayed that Khrushchev attempted to use it for his own political ends.

'Don't Curb Foreign Investments'

By KEN SMITH

Canadian Press Business Editor

MONTREAL (CP)—Placing a curb on further foreign investment means Canadians must also be prepared to hobble their economic progress, Herbert H. Lank, president of Du Pont of Canada, said today.

He told the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that recent events in Canada can also scare away some of that needed capital.

He told the 1,200 delegates that foreign investors have provided Canada with immense supplies of capital and skills to accelerate its growth "far beyond what we could have accomplished alone.

"We are going to need more, not less, of this sort of tangible and intangible help in the future.

SAVINGS NOT ENOUGH

"It is generally acknowledged that Canadian savings are not yet substantial enough to finance future industrial and resources development at the rapid pace we have come to expect, even if Canadian investors were more daring."

Mr. Lank said that in meeting European and American businessmen "I have noticed that Canada is creating a feeling of uncertainty in the minds of some people who have money to invest here.

"Our serious political squabbles at the provincial and national levels, our consideration of restrictive legislation that tends to scare money away and our emotional and sometimes ill-informed outcries concerning the domination of our economy by outside interests have our friends worried."

OUTLOOK OBSOLETE

An overly nationalistic outlook "is obsolete and self-defeating in an age that is moving toward more and more international interdependence."

John Deutsch, chairman of the Economic Council of Canada, warned the businessmen that they will have to help pave the way for future technological changes by recognizing the social and human adjustments involved.

MARKET SUMMARIES

CPR Rise Sparks Toronto Trading

Canadian Pacific Railway climbed 2⅛ to a new high of 48⅝ in brisk dealings on the Toronto stock exchange today.

The increase gave industrials a solid look despite some hefty losses, and overshadowed a sharp decline by golds.

Montreal prices moved fractionally higher, with trading extremely active among industrials but light in mines and oils.

Chrysler gave Wall Street a small boost late in a moderate session.

AT TORONTO, Argus Corp. was ahead 1⅛ to 17½ while Moore Corp. and Building Products gained $1 at 55 and 36½ resvectively. Best gain in the main list went to Algoma Central and Hudson Bay Railway which jumped 4¼ to 36¼ on small turnover. The warrants were up 2½ to 15.

Canada Packers B dipped $1 to 74, Algoma Steel 1⅛ to 69¾ and Inco ¾ to 85⅛.

Dome slumped $1 to 28¾ in pacing the gold decline. Smaller losses went to a long list of issues which included Giant Yellowknife, Dickenson and Cochenour Willans.

AT NEW YORK International Harvester, whose profits were up sharply, advanced more than 2. Union Carbide was up about a point.

The performance of the miner-find stocks, which have been favorites in recent weeks, was contradictory. Texas Gulf Sulphur was running second to Chrysler in volume and rose a point or better. U.S. Smelting lost 3. Occidental Petroleum fell more than a point.

AT MONTREAL utilities led the advances as CPR jumped two points. Bell Telephone, Rolland Paper A and Loblaw A were up ¼ each.

Falconbridge and Hudson Bay Mining each lost ½ and Canadian Breweries ⅛.

In speculative mines on the Canadian exchange, Mount Pleasant climbed nine cents. Kodiak Petroleum fell 10 cents, White Star Copper four cents and Talisman three cents.

AT LONDON Courtaulds ran into profit-taking while other sharp falls were registered by Klinger Manufacturing, Plessey and British Cocoa and Chocolate. On the other hand, Dunlop improved and Cannon Holdings remained prominent.

Hudson's Bay was a shade lower.

Oils were generally easier but Ultramar improved further and Premier reflected American support. Plantations were quiet.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate. Midland Pete was up at .17½ and Peace River Pete at .45. Utica was up at .55 while Peso Silver was down at $1.72. B.C. Forest dropped to $28.50 while Trans Mt. Pipe climbed to $19.25.

Trade Fair Pronounced Big Success

VANCOUVER (CP) — The third British Columbia Trade Fair, bigger and more successful than ever, ended Saturday with just about everybody happy over the results of the last 10 days.

"Just walk around and look at those exhibitors," Godfrey Holloway, fair manager, said Saturday. "They're all smiling."

"They've done very well here."

Just how well 140 exhibitors, displaying goods from 40 countries, did during the fair will take a month or more to determine.

And the full effect of the displays that showed everything from Oriental cars to Communist carpets will not be known by the individual exhibitors for months or even years.

GOOD SALES

But Mr. Holloway said there were some dissatisfied exhibitors after the 1958 and 1961 fairs but this year he has found none.

Also:

A Japanese motor company sold 30 cars and 16 trucks since the fair opened.

An Indian display handled 200 inquiries by importers interested in establishing distributorships here for various merchandise;

A Spanish display was sold out completely;

West Keeps Embargo On Exports

PARIS (AP)—Western trade with Communist nations is slowly and steadily rising, but the Western embargo on exports of strategic items is holding firm, according to the international watchdog group which keeps a close eye on the exchanges.

Exports to the Soviet bloc and China made up 4.2 per cent of the West's total exports in 1961, the last full year for which figures are available. Imports from the Soviet bloc and China made up 3.9 per cent of the Western world's total in 1961. Both these figures are almost double the comparative 1952 figure.

Sources close to the 15-nation co-ordinating committee called Cocom for East-West Trade say that the controls over exports to the Communist nations are not intended to dampen international commerce.

"We are not waging economic warfare," said on informant. "The principal objective is to prevent the flow of strategic materials which could add to the ability of the Communist powers to wage war."

The hitch comes in the definition of strategic materials. For some items there is immediate unanimous agreement. For others, long and heated technical arguments consume days every year before a compromise is reached.

WITNESS DESCRIBES MASS EXECUTIONS

'Egyptians Slaughter Children'

ADEN (AP) — An Arab soldier who says he once served in the personal bodyguard of Yemeni President Abdulla Al-Sallal claims to have witnessed the mass execution of political prisoners in San'a and the slaughter of village children by Egyptian troops fighting the Yemeni royalists.

Hussein Ali Billaili said at a press conference Saturday 360 Yemeni merchants and royalist officers were rounded up and then, by moonlight and the glare of army truck headlights, were shot one by one beside a well on the outskirts of the capital.

Their bodies, he said, were hurled down the well.

Hussein said he watched as Egyptian troops machinegunned children in the streets of two villages.

He claimed public executions in a San'a city square were a frequent occurrence.

Prisoners, their hands bound behind their backs, were lined up in two ranks of four. The executioner went from man to man stabbing them in the shoulder, then, as they jerked forward, sliced off their heads with a curved Arab scimitar. The bodies were thrown down a well but the heads were impaled on San'a's Baab Al Yeme Gate.

Hussein deserted from the army of the Federation of South Arabia in April, 1963, and made his way to Yemen. He was taken with five other deserters to San'a where he served for 15 days in Sallal's 40-man bodyguard.

He said that subsequently he heard rumors he was being accused of reactionary sympathies and decided to desert once again and return home. He gave himself up to federal army authorities, was court-martialed and served 53 days detention here for desertion.

Asked whether he believed Hussein's story, a federal government spokesman at the press conference said he knew the man's family and there was no reason to doubt what he reported.

HAWES BACK ON COUNCIL IN EASY WIN

Former Oak Bay councillor Fred Hawes will take his place at the council table tonight after an absence of one year and five months.

In a byelection Saturday Mr. Hawes, manager of Shawnigan Lumber Co., defeated retired naval officer and school teacher Eric Makovski, 1,431 to 844.

The council seat, which was vacated earlier this year by Fred Robinson will be contested again in December.

Mr. Hawes, who previously served on council for eight years, said today, "I am very happy for the support of the citizens and will try to do my best by them."

Only 27 per cent of the eligible voters turned out at the poll.

Wartime Training Unit Holds First Reunion

Men of the wartime No. 32 Operational Training Unit, RAF, which operated from Patricia Bay Airport, held a successful reunion in the Net Loft Saturday night.

"It was so successful we plan to hold a reunion every year," said Victoria entertainer Jerry Gosley, who presided over the gathering and presented selections from his Smile Show.

About 65 of the 2,000 original members of the unit and their wives, who returned to British Columbia after the Second World War, attended the reunion.

The only man who served with the unit during the war and is still serving in B.C. is Flt.-Lt. Dennis Bate of RCAF Station, Comox.

A. E. Richman, Saanich parks superintendent, was the first of the original personnel to return to Canada immediately after the war.

The British Commonwealth Training Station was set up in 1941 and operated until 1944 when the RCAF took over.

Chairman of the reunion organizing committee is David Huggins, 1657 Richardson.

STEWART BATES

CMHC Boss Dies at 56 In Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Stewart Bates, 56-year-old president of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, died Sunday evening after suffering a heart attack in a restaurant.

Mr. Bates, a native of Scotland, has been a distinguished public servant since arriving in Canada in 1936. He has been head of the government's housing agency since 1954.

A distinguished scholar in his native country, Mr. Bates began his public career in Canada as secretary of the Economic Council of Nova Scotia in 1936.

Two years later he served as economist with the royal commission on Dominion-provincial finance—the Rowell-Sirois commission.

He then took four years away from government service to become professor of commerce at Dalhousie University in Halifax.

He returned to Ottawa in 1942 as assistant to the deputy minister of fisheries. He later served as director-general of the reconstruction department before returning to the fisheries department as a deputy minister.

He held that post until joining Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Crash Kills Ex-Mayor of New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The body of deLesseps S. Morrison, one time "boy wonder" mayor of New Orleans whose burning ambition was to be governor, was returned Sunday for burial at the scene of his triumphs and failures.

A small group of city officials and friends looked on as an air force plane landed with the flag-draped coffin of the 52-year-old former mayor and former U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States.

On board, too, were the coffins of his seven-year-old son, Randy, and five other persons killed Friday in the crash of a chartered twin-engine plane.

Others killed were: Ovide J. Cenac, 59, of Houma, president of the Cenac Towing Company; Raleigh Pellegrin, 47, of Montegut, a Cenac employee; Hugh Ward, Brownsville, Tex., the pilot; and Mrs. Carolyn Vandergrift, 35, and her seven-year-old son, Christopher, both of whom had moved from Washington, D.C., to West Palm Beach, Fla.

In West Palm Beach, Mrs. Margaret Price said Mrs. Vandergrift, her daughter, and Morrison were engaged to be married. There had been no public announcement in New Orleans. Morrison's wife had died several yeas ago. Mrs. Vandergrift was divorced.

The aircraft went down in fog-shrouded foothills southwest of Ciudad Victoria, Mexico, where Morrison—defeated this year in aa bid for the state governorship—was on a business trip. There were no survivors. Cause of the crash has not been determined.

WOMAN DEAD IN SUITE

Toronto Hunts Strangler

TORONTO (CP)—A 44-year-old bank clerk from Saskatchewan was found strangled to death Sunday night in her suburban York township apartment and police immediately began a hunt for a male friend.

Police said Elsie Payne had been dead about a week.

Sergeant of Detectives Robert Bamlett of the Metropolitan Toronto homicide squad said police entered Miss Payne's apartment to investigate at the request of a relative.

Sgt. Bamlett said Miss Payne was killed with a silk stocking knotted around her neck. She was found on her bed fully clothed.

Scratches on the woman's hands indicated she had fought with her attacker but there were no other signs of a struggle.

Police believe she was killed during the May 16-18 holiday weekend. She did not show up for work at the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce last Tuesday.

AFTERMATH OF A CRASH . . .

Rescue workers had to work quickly Sunday when two cars hit the retaining wall and burst into flames during the early laps of world 600 stock car race at Charlotte, N.C. Glen "Fireball" Roberts, driver of the car in the foreground, is in critical condition in hospital with third degree burns over most of his body. Ned Jarret, driver of the other car that burst into flames, was not seriously injured. The race was won by Jim Paschal in a 1964 Plymouth. (AP Wirephoto.)

Fastest Field Ready to Roll For Indy Purse

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The conventional front-engine cars still outnumber the faster rear-engine models, but whether the roadsters are bound for the junk-pile won't be answered until Saturday's 48th annual 500-mile auto race at the speedway.

The fastest field ever was completed late Sunday, with the 33 starters in the holiday grind for a $500,000 jackpot averaging a record 152.540 miles-per-hour, 3.5 miles faster than last year's average.

It will be 21 to 12 in favor of the front-engine machines—18 of them conventional four-cylinder roadsters plus three powerful, super charged Novis — against the dozen rear-engined cerations.

Only four rear-engine machines qualified last year, but three were among the first 10 at the finish. This time, seven rear-engined Fords made it, including the three fastest in the field, driven by pole-sitter Jimmy Clark, Bobby Marshmann and two-time race winner Rodger Ward.

GRANDPA BUMPED

Four days of time trials ended with a car driven by chunky Paul Russo, Indianapolis, a 50-year-old grandfather and veteran of 15 Memorial Day races, the only "bumping" victim.

Rookie Bob Wente, St. Louis, the national midget champion who will be 31 Thursday, qualified at a speed of 149.869 mph to eliminate Russo's car, which made the lineup temporarily at a clip of 148.644.

Wente became the seventh "500" newcomer to make it. The others are Walt Hansgen, Dave McDonald, Ronnie Duman, Johnny White, Bob Harkey and Bob Mathouser.

Australia's Jack Brabham joined Scotland's Clark as the only foreigners among the starters. He was the first qualifier Saturday at a speed of 152.504, then flew to Holland for Sunday's Grand Prix.

Saturday's fastest qualifier was Bobby Unser, Alburquerque, N.M., in a new four-wheel drive Novi at 154.865. Unser was the first pilot eliminated last year when he crashed on the third lap of the holiday race.

MALONE FASTEST

Jim McElreath, Arlington, Tex., put the second Novi into the field Saturday, and Art Malone, Tampa, Fla., followed suit Sunday—the second year in a row that Andy Granatelli got all three of his temperamental machines into the race.

Nine unsuccessful attempts to crash the lineup were made during Sunday's wind-whipped trials, five after the field was completed. Among the latter were Maston Gregory, an American living in Paris; Jud Larsen, Kansas City, Mo.; Bob Christie, Grants Pass, Ore.; Al Miller, Roseville, Mich., and Chuck Rodee, Indianapolis.

Malone was the fastest qualifier at 151.222 and Bill Cheesbourg, Tucson, Ariz., the last successful one and slowest at 148.711, before the bumping began.

Norm Hall, Hollywood, Calif., also qualified at 150.094.

Cars driven by Malone and by rookies White, Wente and Harkey succeeded on their third and final attempts.

RATHMANN, CARTED OUT

Such other noted speedway veterans as 1960 winner Jim Rathmann and Duane Carter along with Russo, failed to qualify.

There were half a dozen accidents, including two crashes over the weekend, but the drivers escaped unhurt. In the most serious mishaps, Dempsey Wilson, Lawndale, Calif., hit the wall on his qualifying attempt Saturday and rookie Bobby Johns, Miami, Fla., crashed on Sunday.

There will be no running at the speedway until Thursday morning when a two-hour period had been set aside for the field to make final dress rehearsal practice. Then the oval will be closed until the flying start of the race Saturday.

Paschal Wins World 600 Stocker Race

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Jim Paschal, 38-year-old High Point, N.C., Plymouth driver, won the world 600-mile stock car race Sunday after wrecks or mechanical failures had eliminated most of the early favorites.

Paschal, driving for the Lee Petty team of Randleman, N.C., won $25,540 and a share of the lap money in recording his first victory on a major speedway. Richard Petty, Paschal's driving teammate, finished second and Rex White of Spartanburg, S.C., was third in a Mercury.

The average speed was slightly more than 125 miles an hour.

Only 15 cars from the starting field of 44 were running at the finish.

EAGLE OWNERS BUY STADIUM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jerry Wolman and Earl Foreman, owners of Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, have bought Connie Mack Stadium, home of baseball's Philadelphia Phillies.

Wolman said the stadium was purchased from the J. A. Schliefer Properties of New York, who recently bought the site from Milton Schwartz, New York realtor.

Angels Buy Perry

NEW YORK (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels have bought outfielder Bob Perry from their Hawaii farm club in the Pacific Coast League to bring their roster up to the 25-player limit.

CLARK SINGES FIELD IN DUTCH GRAND PRIX

ZANDVOORT, The Netherlands (UPI)—Jim Clark's record-breaking victory in the Netherlands Grand Prix enabled him to pull into a first-place tie with Graham Hill for the 1964 World Road Racing championship.

Clark travelled 208½ miles in his slim-line Lotus in 2 hours, 7 minutes and 35.4 seconds Sunday to break his own record of 2:08:03.7 set in last year's event.

The Scottish farmer led from start to finish and lapped the entire field with the exception of England's John Surtees, who finished second in a new V-8 Ferrari. Peter Arundell of England was third in a Lotus and Hill, winner of the Monaco Grand Prix earlier this month, wound up fourth in a BRM.

Special to The Times

SHAWNIGAN LAKE — Lake Washington Rowing Club captured the senior 8's event Sunday at the Shawnigan Lake Boys' School Invitational Rowing regatta.

Lake Washington edged Vancouver Rowing Club by three seconds over the 2,000-metre course, winning with a time of 5 minutes, 41 seconds.

In the senior fours with cox event, Vancouver Rowing Club finished two lengths ahead of Lake Washington.

Lake Washington took the senior fours coxless with a time of 6:36, edging out UBC by one second.

Ted Nash, Olympic gold medal winner, won the senior singles for Lake Washington.

In junior events, Green Lake Rowing Club of Seattle took the 8's event, defeating host Shawnigan Lake Boys' School.

Lakeside Club of Seattle won the heavyweight division of the junior fours coxless event, and Green Lake captured the lightweight class.

Shawnigan Lake won the junior fours with cox event, a race in which 12 crews took part.

TOPS FESTIVAL ROLLOFF

Bowling Bus Driver Headed for Bermuda

Bus driver Ray Hodgkinson bowled his way to Bermuda Saturday night by winning the Lower Island fivepin roll-off in the Players Bowling Festival.

Hodgkinson picked up an all-expense paid vacation to New York and Bermuda by rolling games of 233, 183, and 140 against 38 area finalists at Gibson's Bowladrome.

He was one of 150 bowlers who earned the trip in the cross-Canada competition which initially drew 166,470 entrants.

Qualifying rounds boiled the number down to 10,000 finalists, who rolled off Saturday.

In the competition, each bowler was competing against himself and the person collecting the highest score over his average was named the winner.

TENPINNERS FAIL

Hodgkinson, averaging 138 in league play, made the finals with a 153 average in his qualifying attempt. His 556 total Saturday gave him an average score of 185 plus, better than 32 pins over his qualifying score and good enough for the win.

Island tenpinners failed in a bid for the same trip, however.

Total of 64 keglers bowled off Saturday at Aurora Lanes against 139 competitors bowling in New Westminster.

Winner was S. Sesselmont of Pender Harbour, a 156 average bowler who turned in games of 223, 144, and 221, for 588 pins, 40 over his average.

Meiderich Gains First Tour Win

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Germany's Meiderich Soccer Club rallied from a two-goal deficit Sunday to defeat a team of St. Louis amateur all-stars 5-2.

It was the first victory for the Germans on a North American tour that began with a 2-1 loss to Monterrey, Mexico.

Golden Bears Stroke To Win Over Huskies

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The coveted Ky Ebright Challenge Cup went home to Berkeley Saturday after California's Golden Bears outstroked Washington's Huskies by half a length in the Western Intercollegiate Rowing Championships at Mission Bay.

The varsity finals event was about even between defending champion Washington and California until the last 500 metres, when the Bears mustered enough energy to pull away and win by the half length.

Time for Cal was 6:11.7 for the 2,000-metre course. Washington finished in 6:12.0.

Third was sprightly Long Beach State, followed by the University of British Columbia, UCLA and Stanford.

In the junior varsity finals, the Huskies redeemed themselves, taking the event from Cal.

The race was perhaps the most unusual of the day because the Washington shell hit a buoy about midway in the course, lost considerable water, then made it up to win.

Behind California were British Columbia, Long Beach State, Orange Coast College and San Diego State.

IN FRONT ALL THE WAY

CRASH MARS SPORTS CAR RACE

'Frisco Salesman Wins at Westwood

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dave Ridenour, a San Francisco car salesman, piloted his well-tuned Comet Genii around the twisty 1.8-mile Westwood race circuit Sunday to easily win western Canada's top sports car race.

The Californian took the lead at the start of the 108-mile race and held it to the checkered flag. Some of the top Canadian and United States racing drivers offered his powerful car little competition.

With Ridenour settled in first place, spectators turned their eyes to a fiercely-contested battle for second place between veteran U.S. driver Chuck Parsons of Monterey, Calif., in a low-slung Lotus 23B, and Toronto's Ludwig Heimrath in a Cooper Ford.

Parsons finally beat Heimrath.

Ridenour set a lap record on the course with one lap of 87.5 m.p.h.

The race favorite, a $15,000 Chevrolet Cheetah piloted by Allen Grant of Seattle, was forced into the pits with engine trouble.

The race was marred by a crash in which Eppie Wietzes of Toronto suffered a double fracture of one leg. His light Cooper Ford literally took off when it was caught by a gust of wind while moving down the main straight at 150 miles an hour.

The car crashed and was badly damaged. Wietzes was taken to hospital but was not in serious condition.

The bodywork on several other cars was dented and scraped in several smaller accidents, but no other drivers were injured.

A crowd of about 9,000 watched the American drivers carry the race in their fast cars. Gary Wright of Portland, Ore., drove his Porsche 904 to fourth place.

Another Portland driver, Gerry Bruihl, took fifth spot in his English-made Lotus 23B.

Fattest Thing About Joe Is His Batting Average

Young Torres 7-for-10 As Braves Belt Cards

Times News Services

"Boy, are you fat!" Warren Spahn exclaimed nine years ago when Joe Torre first appeared in the Milwaukee dressing room, accompanied by big brother Frank, then the Braves' regular first baseman.

Spahn didn't get an argument—the younger Torre, at 15, weighed 240 pounds—but today the Braves' pitching ace would be the first to admit that the fattest thing about Joe is his .370 batting average.

On the other hand, if you had asked Bobby Bragan Sunday, after Torre's hitting rampage led the Braves to a 7-4, 10-0 doubleheader sweep of St. Louis Cardinals, the Milwaukee manager would have told you Joe is the fattest commodity in the game.

"He's the most valuable piece of baseball property today," Bragan said, following Torre's 7-for-10 spree that lifted him from seventh to third position in the National League batting derby. "I wouldn't trade him for anybody, not even Willie Mays, because I'd be giving up eight years."

Torre's current streak lends weight to Bragan's claim. The catcher-first baseman has hit at a .418 clip since May 1, raising his average 79 points from .291. He hit his fifth and sixth home runs of the month Sunday for a total of nine, five less than his 1963 output.

While Milwaukee closed within 1½ games of the NL lead, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati kept pace with double victories. The Pirates stunned San Francisco Giants 3-0 and 5-3 while the Reds downed Chicago Cubs 6-5 and 12-4. Los Angeles Dodgers employed Sandy Koufax in relief to nail down a 3-0 victory over Philadelphia Phillies and Houston Colts blanked New York Mets 5-0 in a night game.

Torre singled four times Sunday in the Braves' first-game victory, credited to Spahn, and drove in two runs. His two homers and a single, good for three more RBI, backed Denny Lemaster's three-hit pitching in the nightcap.

The Brooklyn native has 54 hits, second in the league, and is third in RBIs.

Pittsburgh southpaw Bob Veale stopped San Francisco on two hits and fanned seven Giants in the opener for his fourth victory. Rookie righthander Tom Butters drove in three Pirate runs in the second game and recorded his first major league victory with help from relievers Bob Priddy and Al McBean.

Bosox' Stuart Dediscovers Tongue

Mays had one hit in five at-bats and his batting average fell from .400 to .393.

Dick Stuart rediscovered the English language today.

It's been a long silence for the Boston slugger, who wouldn't even open his mouth to sneeze in the last month. The one-time scourge of the voice-ways, never slow to tell the world of his triumphs, was silenced by his own inability to hit a baseball.

The man who smashed 66 home runs at Lincoln (Neb.) in 1956 and another 42 with the Red Sox last year, had a paltry two to his credit after more than a month of the current season. This along with an anemic batting average kept the big man with the big ideas speechless.

Stuart finally snapped his slump and gave himself something to talk about Sunday when he blasted a pair of game-winning homers, including a grand slam, to power the Red Sox to a 6-2 and 3-1 doubleheader sweep over the Kansas City Athletics.

Stuart hit the grand slam—his second of the season — in the eighth inning of the opener and then connected for a two-run drive in the fourth inning of the nightcap to once again provide the winning margin.

The homers were the third and fourth of the season for Stuart and his first since April 28. The first baseman also had another hit in the second game to boost his batting average to .230.

Baltimore Orioles moved into a virtual tie for first place with Chicago in the American League by sweeping the Minnesota Twins, 2-0 and 7-6. The White Sox dropped the second game to Washington, 3-0, after taking the opener, 6-4. In other games, Los Angeles Angels beat New York, 3-0, in the first game, with the Yankees rallying to take the nightcap, 8-5, and Detroit Tigers defeated the Cleveland Indians, 7-5.

Transport's McAvoy Gave Holt Bad Time

Transport Workers catcher Mike McAvoy gave George Holt nothing but trouble Sunday, as the Transports edged Greaves Movers 3-2 in Senior Amateur Baseball League action at Royal Athletic Park.

McAvoy collected three hits in five trips to the plate and figured in two Transport runs, one of them the winning run in the bottom of the ninth inning.

Holt, on the mound for Movers, watched McAvoy single to drive in John Yankoski for the Transport win, after Movers had tied the game up 2-2 in the top of the ninth.

Winning pitcher Pete Jolly drove in McAvoy in the fourth frame for Transports' second run, after McAvoy got on base with a double.

STOLEN BASE HURT

Yankoski scored Transport's first run after a walk, stolen base and Gary Bishop's single.

Dave Rivers drove in Jerry Parker in the sixth inning for Movers' first run, and Barry Cozier scored on an error in the top of the ninth for Movers' second tally.

League-leading Independents made the most of three hits, and an inning of wildness, to defeat McLarens 4-2 in Saturday's game.

MABEE HAD HELP

Stan Thame walked in Independent's first three runs and a throwing error allowed the leaders to score the fourth in the fifth inning.

Bob Mabee, backed by four double plays, earned credit for the victory.

TEN UNDER PAR

Birdie Finish Wins for Mike

MEMPHIS (AP)—Mike Souchak blasted out of the sand for an 18-hole birdie and won the Memphis Open golf tournament Sunday with a 10-under-par 270.

Souchak broke open a four-way tie for the lead when he pushed out of a trap beside the last green to within four feet of the pin. He dropped his putt for a one-under-par 69 and $7,500 first prize.

Billy Casper, Tommy Jacobs and Gene Littler, along with Souchak, each reached the 18th at nine under par. Casper and Jacobs each parred the hole, for a second-place tie at 271 while Littler went one over par, good for a tie for fourth with Art Wall Jr., Doug Sanders, Bob Rosburg, Mason Rudolf and Gay Brewer at 272.

It was the fourth straight sub-par round for Souchak, a muscular former football and golf star at Duke University now in his 13th year on the pro tour. He had a card of 69-65-67-69—270 over the par 34-36 — 70, 6,466-yard Colonial Country Club course.

The win was his second tournament victory of the year. His earlier win was in the Houston Classic in April. It was the 16th triumph for Souchak in his pro career.

Souchak started the final round in a four-way tie with Sanders, Littler and Casper, at nine under par 201 which was the lowest 54-hole score of the 1964 tour.

The $7,500 first-place purse brought Souchak's winnings to $22,463 for the year and put him sixth on the money list. Jacobs and Casper got $3,650 each, and Rosburg, Wall, Rudolph, Littler, Sanders and Brewer got $2,216.67 each.

Arnold Palmer continued to draw large galleries to the end despite his finish at 276 with a final round 69. Jack Nicklaus pulled in at 274 after shooting his second straight 66.

Nanaimo Goes Down In Tame Boxla Tiff

NANAIMO—They shelved their tempers and dug out some polished, offensive patterns. The result: a fast and clean Inter-City Lacrosse League game.

TIME OUT By JEFF KEATE

"I got a hot streak going and don't want to cool off—mind if I play through, Mac?"

Vancouver ran best and easiest in this one, and defeated Nanaimo 18-13 to move to within one point of front-running New Westminster.

Only 10 minors were called in Saturday's free-wheeling affair, a marked contrast to some of the "gang wars" that have prevailed earlier this season.

MEET SHAMROCKS NEXT

Alec MacKay's Vancouver squad had plenty of opportunity to polish up their shooting eyes in preparation for an important home-and-home series with third-place Victoria Shamrocks this week.

Only three Vancouver players failed to get on the scoreboard, with Pete Black and Bill Chisholm scoring three goals each. John Surinak, Bob Marsh and Syd Warick scored two each, while others came from Gord Gimple, Ron Bodnar, Alec Carey, Doug Carter and Ed Nelson.

Terry Davis topped Nanaimo scorers with four goals and set up two others. Ted Liebich and Larry Biggs added two each and Murray Thomas, Ed McDonald, Bill Russell, Larry Gilmour and Larry Clarkson got the others.

Vancouver goalie Norm Nestman got his assist—his second in two games—when he fed Marsh a floor-length pass in the second period and Marsh scored.

NHL Or Bust Caron's Aim

DOLBEAU, Que. (CP)—Alain Caron, one of the most prolific scorers in professional hockey, says that if he doesn't make the National League next season he will quit the game.

"It is this year or never," says the powerful winger, who scored 77 goals in 72 games with St. Louis Braves during the season that just ended.

Though he has had trouble with his legs in the past, exercise has made it easier for him to skate. He has no trouble whatsoever scoring.

Jack Adams, president of the Central Hockey League in which Caron played, said last season he believes the St. Louis scorer could count 40 NHL goals "if he was used with a centre able to pass him the puck."

CASS LEARNS HOW MUCH AFRICANS 'LOVE' HIM

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—Cassius Clay, world heavyweight boxing champion, said Sunday he would like to fight his next title bout in Africa.

"I never realized I was so popular and loved by Africans," he told a big crowd which turned out to watch him in an exhibition match at Kumasi.

"I am so overwhelmed and fascinated and I feel it an obligation to arrange my next championship fight here," he said.

Cassius fought an exhibition bout with his brother Rudolph.

The clowning champion never hit his brother and at one stage chased the referee. The crowd loved it and cheered him wildly.

Clay's parting quote: "I'll wear the crown for 10 years, then retire."

McColl and Young Top Tee Tourney

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again . . ."

Harry Young and Bill McColl "tried again" Sunday and succeeded in capturing the seventh annual Centennial Foursomes golf tournament at Uplands.

The Victoria Club combination topped a field of 66 twosomes by firing 75-9½—65½.

Young, chairman of the Victoria District Golf Committee, and McColl placed third in the event in their first try last year.

Lex Sutcliffe and Wilbur DeSilva, a Gorge Vale partnership, captured runnerup honors with 74-7—67, a half-stroke better than Stuart Keate and Jack Melville, Victoria club.

Another Victoria Club pairing, Cliff Horwood and Alex McCabe, captured a special "righty-lefty" trophy presented for the first time by the Vancouver Island Lefthanders' Golf Association.

McCabe and Horwood finished with a net 70, good enough for fifth place in the overall standing.

Young-McColl (V), 75-9½—65½.
Sutcliffe-DeSilva (GV) 74-7—67.
Keate-Melville (V) 78-10½—67½.
Kerr-W. Allen (RC) 78-8½—69½.
Horwood-McCabe (V) 77-7—70.
Aune-A. Holmes (RC) 80-9½—70½.
D. Ritchie-Thirlwell (U) 81-10½—70½.
C. Maxie-Kent (RC) 80-9—71.

Shuttle Fans Riot at Finals

TOKYO (AP) — Indonesian fans at the world badminton championships rioted Friday when tournament officials tried to stop them from flashing photo lights at Danish contestants playing Indonesia for the title. Indonesian retained its world crown 5-3.

About 100 Indonesians, mostly students, swarmed out of the stands and clashed with police after officials told them the flashes were bothering the Danish players, Erland Kops and Henning Borch.

Play was suspended about 20 minutes until police got the Indonesians to calm down. No injuries or arrests were reported.

Kidd, Crothers Nipped at Tape

MODESTO, Calif. (CP-AP)—Bruce Kidd and Bill Crothers of Toronto, two of Canada's leading gold medal prospects for the Tokyo Olympics this year, got a preview of their Olympic competition Saturday night—and both finished second.

Bill Baillie of New Zealand finished one second ahead (8:37.1) of Kidd in the two-mile run and Jan Underwood of Oregon State University came from behind to nip Crothers at the finish in the half-mile distance at the California relays. Winning time was 1:48.7.

In the mile, Dyrol Burleson, former Oregon star, beat Chicago's Tom O'Hara on the final stride.

Time for the tactically-raced mile was 4:00.2 for Burleson, 4:00.3 for O'Hara from Loyola of Chicago and 4:01.7 for the 17-year-old Wichita, Kan., high school ace, Jim Ryun.

RACING ROUNDUP

Favored Kelso Fades

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Kelso, making his first start in six months and carrying 130 pounds, ran next to last in his California debut Saturday as Cyrano captured the $55,500 Los Angeles Handicap at Hollywood Park.

Practically never in the race at any stage, Kelso, the heavily-backed favourite, ran eighth in the field of nine. Cyrano, second choice with the crowd of some 55,000, took charge at the top of the stretch and won the seven-furlong event in 1:21 4-5 pulling away. Quita Dude was second and Admiral's Voyage third.

Jockey Johnny Rotz, flown from New York to ride Cyrano for the Greentree Stable, did an artful job in riding the sprint-loving five-year-old.

While the magnetic name of Kelso, winner four times in a row of horse-of-the-year laurels and second all-time money-winner in horse racing, merited his popularity, the physical facts were against him.

PREFERS LONGER RUN

Seven furlongs is hardly his distance. He hadn't raced at this short distance since his young years.

His 130 pounds, which included jockey Ismael Valenzuela, was six more than Cyrano's package. And he hadn't raced since last Nov. 11 when he lost by half a length to Mongo in the Washington, D.C., International at Laurel.

The race figured to be a tuneup, if nothing else, for Kelso's next date at Hollywood Park. This is the $100,000-added Californian two weeks away. The distance and the weights will be more to his liking then.

At New York's Aqueduct track, Oil Royalty, the favorite, staged a spectacular rush from last place and won the $57,200 Top Flight Handicap by half a length over another fast closer, Tona. Smart Deb, the early pace-setter, was third in the 1⅛-mile test for fillies and mares before a crowd of 49,155.

Oil Royalty ran the nine furlongs in 1:50 4/5 and earned $37,180 for owner John Gaines.

At Cherry Hill, N.J., Inbalance, running as an entry with Inside Story, won the $28,350 Camden Handicap at Garden State Park by a head over Why Lie. Rebellious was third.

The crowd of 31,751 made the Brookfield Farm entry the odds-on-choice and Inbalance paid $3.40, $2.60 and $2.20 after running the 1⅛ miles in 1:50.

Firemen Claim Soccer Crown

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Firefighters nipped Columbus 2-1 Sunday to win the Pacific Coast Soccer League playoffs before the biggest crowd of the season—close to 3,000 fans.

In the last Coast League game of the season, Firefighters had to come from behind a 1-0 halftime deficit.

Inside left John Comuzzi gave Columbus a 1-0 lead at the 39-minute mark, scoring on a free kick from outside the penalty area.

Firefighters came back strongly in the second half and scored at the three-minute mark of the half when centre forward Art Hughes fought off two tacklers before hitting the net with a 10-yard drive.

Hughes also scored the winning goal midway through the second half, heading in a high pass from inside left Art Bennett.

Firefighters now have one game left before emerging with a clean sweep of soccer honors for the 1963-64 season. Next Sunday the Firemen meet Columbus again, this time in the Province Cup final for the provincial championship.

KAMLOOPS DIRECTOR WINS

Toronto's Barn Filled With Drama Fete Prizes

By DOUGLAS AMARON

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—A Toronto theatre group, bridesmaids a year ago, went home today from the Dominion Drama Festival with a bundle of prizes, including the coveted festival trophy for the best play and $1,000 in cash.

The Barn Players of Broadview YMCA won the top awards for their production of A Taste of Honey, Shelagh Delaney's play about life in the Manchester slums. Individual members of the company won three of the four best-acting trophies.

Lieutenant - Governor W. J. MacDonald presented the prizes Saturday night at the close of an eight-play festival that adjudicator Philip Hope-Wallace of London, Eng., said was the most enjoyable of four he has judged in Canada since 1949.

A glittering last-night audience that included Premier Walter Shaw overflowed the 1,000-seat Fathers of Confederation Memorial Theatre that was completed just an hour before the curtain went up on the first play of the festival a week ago tonight.

The Barn Players reached the Canadian finals for the first time at Kitchener, Ont., last year when a Sherbrooke, Que., company won the DDF Final Festival Trophy. They received one award then.

WORDSWORTH BEST ACTOR

Saturday they not only took the best-play prize but Roy Wordsworth (Geoffrey) won the Henry Osborne Challenge Trophy as best actor, Stellar Finlayson (Jo) the Nella Jefferis Challenge Trophy as best actress and Dorothy Spencer (Helen) the best supporting actress award, presented by the Canadian Association of French-language radio and television.

Amateur adjudicators who sold out the theatre for every performance had forecast a victory for the Barn Players after their polished Wednesday night performance right up to the final show Saturday night, My Three Angels by the St. Thomas More players of Hamilton.

"A big, broad, bouncing, successful realization" of the Sam and Bella Spewack comedy by the Hamilton church group left the issue in doubt, however, until Mr. Hope-Wallace announced the names of the winners shortly before midnight.

The Hamilton players won a festival plaque as the English runner-up, the Martha Allan Trophy for visual presentation, and the best supporting actor award for Larry Alford's performance of Joseph, one of the three convicts.

WIN FRENCH AWARD

The French runner-up was La Quintrala by Les Compagnons de Gil of Montreal who won five other individual and group prizes. Three of the awards were automatic since their play was the only Canadian and only French production in the festival.

Sentimental favorites for awards were the North Kamloops PTA theatre wing whose 32-man Chips With Everything company included 24 high school teen-agers. There was thunderous applause when their young director Tom Kerr, a Kamloops teacher, was named best director.

Mr. Hope-Wallace said he had made the award—the Louis Jouver Trophy — for the way in which Mr. Kerr brought "very immature but enthusiastic players up to festival pitch."

STUDENT BANDS SET FOR PARK DOWNBEAT

School band concerts are planned for this Sunday and two more Sundays in June as season-openers preceding the regular concerts in Beacon Hill Park.

Appearances of the bands enable the public to hear and see the result of instrumental work being done as an adjunct to classroom work in the schools.

First was presented at the weekend by Mount Douglas Senior band, to be followed by Oak Bay Senior, directed by David Dunnet.

On June 14, S. J. Willis Junior band will perform, under direction of Howard Denike, and on June 21 Colquitz Junior will play, directed by Emil Michaux.

Concerts are made possible through Victoria parks board facilities, and are supported by Victoria Musicians' Union.

Trustees to Attend Graduation Nights

School trustees will attend recognition ceremonies arranged for graduating classes at Greater Victoria, Saanich and Sooke school districts in the next month.

In District 61, ceremonies will start with Esquimalt Senior Secondary Friday, with Trustees Peter Bunn and Leslie Karagianis representing the board.

Four remaining ceremonies are set for June 5 as follows:

Victoria Secondary, Trustees George Curran and Edward J. Wood; Oak Bay Senior Secondary, board chairman Mrs. A. B. Thompson and Mrs. E. M. Maunsell; Mount Douglas Secondary, Trustee Dr. Carron Jameson; Mount View Secondary, Trustee John Porteous.

Two 50th anniversaries are set for the same night, June 5, at Quadra and Monterey elementary schools.

Edward Milne Senior Secondary School, in District 62, holds its awards night following a track meet June 25.

Saanich District 63 gives recognition to students at Claremont Secondary June 25, and at North Saanich Senior Secondary June 5.

Hello Dolly, Luther Named Tops on B'way

NEW YORK (AP)—The musical "Hello, Dolly!" and the drama "Luther" were chosen Sunday night as the outstanding productions of the Broadway season at the American Theatre Wing's Tony Awards ceremony.

Carol Channing, star of the musical, was picked as the feminine musical star and Bert Lahr won the male musical star award for his work in "Foxy", a show that reached Broadway after being produced at Dawson, in the Yukon.

The stellar dramatic cittations went to Sir Alec Guinness in "Dylan", and Sandy Dennis, of "Any Wednesday".

"Hello, Dolly!" swept to the biggest win in the 18-year history of the Tony Awards by capturing 10 of the 20 silver medallions awarded for "distinguished contribution" to the American theatre.

Skeena Going For Refitting On East Coast

HMCS Skeena leaves Esquimalt Tuesday for major conversions in an eastern shipyard.

Soon after arrival at Halifax most of her ship's company of 200 officers and men will return to the Pacific Command.

Navy spokesmen say they do not know whether the destroyer-escort will return following conversion.

INSTALLATIONS

A hangar and flight deck for anti-submarine helicopters and variable depth sonar equipment will be installed by early summer, 1965.

The ship will sail via Panama, San Diego, St. Vincent in the Caribbean, and New York.

Since her commissioning in 1957, Skeena has served in Pacific Command's Second Canadian Escort Squadron at Esquimalt, B.C.

ADVICE TO GRADUATES

Be Harmoniously Offbeat!

Young men and women leaving school can be individualistic, yet live in harmony with society, graduating students at Belmont Senior Secondary School were told Friday.

Address to the class was given by Dr. A. E. Carlson, a professor at Royal Roads Canadian Services College, at the school's annual awards night attended by 73 grade 12 students and their parents.

Dr. Carlson said a person should examine himself, knowing his strong points and characteristics needed to be a rounded individual, as well as his weaknesses.

HAZARDOUS

It can be useful to hold strong opinions in society, he said, but stating them indiscriminately can be hazardous.

Ten scholarship and bursary awards were given, totalling $875 in cash.

They were won by Lois Rayner, $100 Royal Bride Chapter IODE; Marilyn Maxie, $50 IODE; Matti Valikoski, Eleanor Ruffle, Burt Meek and Peter Parker, $100 each High School Association scholarships; Jean Davies, $150 Victoria District PTA Council; Marilyn Maxie, $100 South Vancouver Island Lions Club; Linda Quiring, $50 Bonnie Barrett Colwood bursary fund; Matti Valikoski, $25 Green challenge trophy to High School Association scholarship winner.

Book awards were won by:

Jaswant Bains, Mary Ellen Foley, Colin McTavish and Jiy Gilham, each a Grade 11 class winner under High School Association sponsorship; Burt Meek (mathematics 91), Alfred Kuhnert, tied with Matti Valikoski (chemistry 91), Burt Meek, by reversion Marilyn Maxie (English 91), Eleanor Ruffle (French 92), Matti Valikoski (history 91), all under IODE sponsorship.

Peter Parker was winner of the IODE citizenship award.

General proficiency award was won by Lois Rayner and valedictorian was Jean Davies. Sharon Jenson won the outstanding effort award of the school association and other book prizes were won in English by Lois Rayner, and physics by Alex Muir.

Certificates for excellence in subject fields were won by Jaswant Bains, biology, social studies and mathematics; Mary Ellen Foley, maths; Vincent Giles, social studies; Bernard Grunert, biology and maths; Marianne Grunert, English; John Holts, maths; Lynn Koellmel, art; Patricia Neal, biology.

Gail Perry, biology and art; Janet Silman, English; Maureen Thors and Mollie Woolcock, French; Susan York, English; Jean Davies and Verla Johnson, secretarial practice; Marilyn Maxie, chemistry; Robert Muir, electricity; Heather McPherson and Linda Quiring, English; Alden Roberge, history.

QORs Saluted By Old Soldier

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

More than 3,000 men, women and children defied a chill wind to watch the much-rehearsed performance of the spectacular Feu de Joie by the First Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, at Work Point Barracks Saturday afternoon.

And the youngsters had a great great time cheering the troops and picking up the spent cartridges fired in rapid succession by 200 highly-trained riflemen.

"It was a magnificent performance," said Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes, VC, who reviewed the troops and returned their salute at a march-past.

He was accompanied by British High Commissioner Sir Henry Lintott and Lady Lintott; Maj.-Gen J. M. Rockingham, commanding officer, Western Command, and Lt.-Col. H. C. F. Elliot, commanding officer of the First Battalion, QORs.

The Royal Canadian Navy was represented by Rear-Admiral Landymore, Flag Officer, Pacific Coast, and the Royal Canadian Air Force by Air Commodore R. C. Weston, senior air officer, Pacific Command.

The Red Ensign and the Union Jack were alternately raised and lowered during parts of the historic Feu de Joie ceremony.

The First Battalion band accompanied the intricate movements with a number of popular selections concluding with the Australian song "Waltzing Matilda."

Officers and men held various celebrations in the evening and these included the opening of a new bar in the sergeants' mess.

The battalion held a retreat ceremony at sunset.

Blotches Feared In Paint-up

The complete success of the downtown paint-up program may be jeopardized by a few building owners and tenants who have so far failed to give wholesale support to the plan.

In a progress report to Victoria city council, special projects and architectural consultant Roderick Clack said that some building owners and tenants fail to appreciate the value of co-operative participation and have not followed the over-all plan.

"A few tenants fail to understand the importance of detail beyond paint-up—signs, lettering, awnings—as an integral part of the improvement scheme," he said.

"A few building owners or tenants accept the plan but are unable to see their way clear to proceed at this time."

Mr. Clack said that every effort should be made to ensure that all work is carried out according to the master plan.

"The full impact of the paint-up plan can only be achieved when all suggested improvements are considered and acted upon," he said.

Six premises in the Government Street "tourist row" area have been completed according to the plan and six more are tendered and ready to start.

A further 39 individual paint-up plans for this area have been prepared by the special projects office.

Six premises in the rest of the downtown section have been face-lifted according to the plan and seven individual paint-up plans have been prepared on request.

Victoria Constituency Association of the New Democratic Party will meet tonight at 8 in Woodsworth Hall, 721 Courtney.

Discussed will be business to go before the forthcoming provincial meeting.

REINSTATED by court order in U.S. military academy at West Point is cadet John H. Dunmar, 21, of Anaheim, Calif. He was expelled for "quibbling," defined by academy officials as deliberately deceiving another person. Secretary of Army Stephen Ailes ordered Dunmar's reinstatement when federal Judge Edward Curran threatened him with contempt of court action unless he did so, pending the hearing on a temporary injunction against the cadet's ouster.

Soviet Building Big Moon Rocket?

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States has obtained information indicating that Russia is developing a larger rocket booster, perhaps for a manned expedition to the moon, the New York Times says.

A Washington dispatch adds in part:

The information is not conclusive, but indications are that the Soviet Union is developing a rocket booster comparable to the 1,500,000-pound-thrust Saturn I booster developed by the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Such a Soviet development would introduce an important element into the space competition because thus far the relative standings have been dictated largely by rocket booster power.

The new evidence, therefore, has strengthened the belief of some U.S. officials that, despite contradictory statements from the Kremlin, the Soviet Union is intent on a manned expedition to the moon.

'What's the Point?'

CANBERRA (AP) — Sir John Eccles, a Nobel Prize winner, says the race for the moon is "futile, fantastic and crazy."

"I don't know the point of going to the moon," Sir John said in a speech to the Australian National Science Faculties Association conference Sunday. "It's an awfully dull place with just dust, mountains and no climate."

Sir John, professor of physiology at Australian National University, said thousands of good scientific brains were being used on futile projects associated with attempts to put a man on the moon.

Eccles won the 1963 Nobel Prize for medicine for his work on the nervous system.

U.S. DOCKERS HONOR BANKS

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Hal C. Banks, ousted president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.), was honored in absentia Sunday night by local longshoremen for "outstanding service to labor."

Banks, free in Canada on $25,000 cash bail while awaiting the hearing of an appeal against an assault conspiracy conviction that carried a five-year prison term, forwarded by telegraph from Montreal his appreciation to the Great Lakes district of the International Longshoremen's Association.

Esquimalt Rejects Swimming Pool

Esquimalt ratepayers turned down the opportunity of having their own swimming pool on Saturday.

In a referendum to decide on the $383,000 pool, 1,007 voted against it, with only 733 for it. A 60 per cent majority was needed for passage.

Returning officer J. W. Allan said the total vote represented only 46.61 per cent of those eligible to vote.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele said: "I am very disappointed in the vote. I had hoped it would go over well."

The pool, he said, would have tied in with the sports centre.

Acceptance of the pool would have meant borrowing $277,500 over the next 20 years with the balance of the $383,000 total coming from the municipal development loan fund and the winter works program.

Included in the pool facilities would have been a wading pool and diving tank as well as a 25-metre swimming pool.

Margaret Jenkins-Bank Street PTA will meet tonight at 8 in Margaret Jenkins auditorium to conduct business and hear the grade 2 and 3 choirs.

Well it doesn't anymore.
That fine old bottle has launched its last sip.
We've designed a new container for Gooderham's Bonded Stock. Tall and refined with classic lines.
(Our whisky's now in the best shape ever).
And we age Bonded Stock longer now as well.
To make every drop just a little more mellow.
One thing though. Bonded Stock's smooth lightness we don't change. Our blenders know a good thing when they taste it.
Judging from the number of people who buy Bonded Stock Whisky, so does the rest of the country.

GRADUATING CLASS MEMBERS Lorraine Saunders and Gordon Fearn listen intently at the University of Victoria Baccalaureate Service held at St. Andrew's Cathedral Sunday evening. Graduates, their families, faculty members and friends heard Bishop Remi de Roo call for a richer blend of theological, cultural and scientific studies.

'Critical Intelligence' Held Must for Future Leaders

A society swayed by six-word newspaper headlines needs critical intelligence, 168 graduating students at University of Victoria were told today by congregation speaker Msgr. Jacques Garneau.

The Roman Catholic priest, an associate director of the National Conference of Canadian Universities and Colleges, was chosen to speak at the university's first congregation in which degrees were given in their own right.

"The development of critical intelligence appears to be quite as important a goal for our universities to pursue as is the transmission of professional skills," the speaker said before a crowded gymnasium at Gordon Head campus.

'BEYOND KNOWLEDGE'

Tomorrow's leaders must reach "understanding beyond knowledge," he said.

Part of this can come through a meeting of French and English-speaking cultures in Canada, an opportunity in which Canada has singular advantage.

Past difficulties come, he said, not only through lack of knowledge but "from a failure to understand that our mental schemes are far from being similar and that our different ways of thinking stem from different philosophical influences in both cultures."

'HAPPY RESULTS'

The speaker said his own experience working in the Ottawa headquarters of NCCUC has shown him that English empiricism allied with logical French thinking can produce "surprisingly happy results."

He charged students with the fact that their university education provides them with a "framework within which continuous innovation, renewal and rebirth can occur."

As Canadians, graduates must provide leadership using courage, vision, tolerance and foresight, he said.

LIVE TOGETHER

For Canada to play its full role in international affairs, Canadians must learn to live and operate together.

"We must make our confederation work. If we fail to do so, we will at the same time make a pitiful and notorious showing of ineptitude and unworthiness to bear our international responsibilities," Msgr. Garneau said.

He urged students to be themselves, to keep an open mind and have a friendly heart.

The speaker is a descendent of the first Frenchman to settle on land granted by Samuel de Champlain on the heights of Quebec, where 18 years later, in 1863, the College des Jesuites—forerunner of Laval University—was established.

He spoke a few words in his native language to express how touched he was to be chosen speaker at today's historic occasion, and to wish the class noble careers.

Judge J. B. Clearihue, a member of the original Victoria College class 50 years ago, was named chancellor when the university attained full status last July. He was officially installed before granting degrees to the 129 arts and science graduates and 39 education graduates.

One honorary degree, that of doctor of laws, was conferred in the ceremony, singling out professor emeritus Jeffree A. Cunningham, a zoologist who served Victoria College 27 years.

On Sunday night, Roman Catholic bishop of Victoria Remi De Roo, addressed the graduating class at its baccalauerate service in St. Andrew's Cathedral.

He said it is appropriate that age-old links between church and university should be strengthened.

'PARTNERSHIP'

The church and university should be "partners in the pursuit of truth," he said.

In developing the intellectual personality of the student, a university education should enable the student to achieve mastery over his knowledge, the bishop said.

There are two levels of knowledge—the scientific and the theological, finding their unity in God's plan for the universe.

And the pursuit of knowledge and possession of truth are common heritage of church and university, Bishop De Roo said.

"The churches should consider no scholar an adequate theologian who has not first acquired the qualities of a university graduate. Divine truths themselves cannot be made relevant to human life if they seek expression in a scientific and cultural vacuum," he said.

"Only superficial minds will claim that there is any real contradiction, any irreducible opposition between the definite conclusions of science and the authentic doctrines of the Christian tradition."

Young Driver Flies Through Malahat Air

A stolen car driven by a juvenile crashed through a guard rail on the Malahat Sunday morning and went 125 feet through the air before hitting a tree.

It struck the tree, bounced off and landed 50 feet away. Colwood RCMP said parts of wreckage were scattered in a radius of 300 feet.

The driver had not only stolen the car, in Saanich, but was also driving while under suspension.

He is reported today in satisfactory condition in hospital and will likely be discharged soon, after which he will appear in juvenile court.

FAST START ASSURED AFTER YES VOTE ON SCHOOLS

Trustees to Huddle With Architects

Greater Victoria School Board will meet architects this week to plot a building schedule that will give priority to schools facing serious crowding problems.

The meeting is being arranged on the heels of Saturday's approval of nearly $6.9 million worth of new school construction in the next three years.

A 24% turnout of voters resulted in 82% approval for the program.

'BREAD, BUTTER'

Trustee Peter Bunn said architects should give some consideration to the huge program.

"This is bread and butter work. We feel, sometimes, we have been put to the bottom of the pile. We're here all the time. Some big apartment job may be just a flash in the pan."

He urged architects to be imaginative in their detailed plans for new construction, especially where entirely new schools like Reynolds Road and Christie Point junior secondary schools will rise.

FLEXIBILITY

"We would like to see some flexibility in construction, not just a 24 by 36-foot room that meets square footage requirements.

"You can have round rooms, or rooms that join to become a single large room if you want, and it doesn't need to be more expensive.

"I want to see something better, a little more imaginative, more trouble, needing more brains, and if our own architects (those working in Victoria) can't come up with something likt that, we should go abroad to find those who can."

80% AFFIRMATIVE

Mr. Bunn said it has been proven elsewhere that schools built with imagination are not only more useful to the school population, but to the community.

"We got an 80 per cent vote, the highest vote of confidence we've ever had. We're honor-bound to do the very best we can, especially with these junior high schools," the trustee said.

Ratepayers passed the capital construction bylaw by 9,469 to 2,100. The second bylaw, to provide $158,379 for purchase of the Paul building for administration, passed by 9,300 to 2,289.

88 IN SAANICH

Degree of support went as high as 88 per cent, in Saanich, and Victoria voted approval by 81 per cent. Only 14.25 per cent of those eligible cast ballots in Victoria.

In Oak Bay, 27 per cent eligible voted 74 per cent in favor of the school bylaws.

John Gough, district superintendent, said he was pleased by the vote of confidence shown in the board and by the prospect of moving his crowded staff of 55 out of Craigdarroch Castle to the university's Paul building.

Although only a fifth of eligible voters turned out at the polls in Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt, they gave 20 per cent more support than was actually required—60 per cent of those voting.

But trustees will never hold an important vote again on the same day as other issues are being decided, board information officer Bunn said.

Trustee Bunn said it is too risky to the passage of a capital project to have voters influenced by other matters. For example, he said, Esquimalt was seeking expression of opinion on a community swimming pool.

The pool was turned down by a substantial margin—1,077-733—even though the 46 per cent vote was highest in the area.

"The people took it out on the referendum," he said, noting the margin of support here was lowest of the four municipalities.

Talks Under Way With Peterson On Alberni Strike

Management - union representatives in the Port Alberni office workers strike were still closeted with Labor Minister Leslie Peterson in his office at press time.

The strike of 60 office workers has idled 3,000 men in the Alberni valley at MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Company.

The office workers are seeking an average increase of $75 per month.

They rejected last Tuesday a conciliation offer of 5 per cent increase on wages ranging between $200 and $450 per month.

International vice-president of the Office Employees' International Union, William Lowe, asked Mr. Peterson to call the meeting. He said he wanted the company to clarify its position.

It appeared to have changed, Mr. Lowe said, following a letter from the company to all employees making "many misleading statements" about wages and conditions.

Island Woman Killed In Duncan Collision

City Man Involved In Highway Crash

A 60-year-old woman was killed in Duncan in a two-car motor accident Sunday morning.

Dead is Mrs. Georgina Paterson of Lake Cowichan.

The accident occurred at 11:30 a.m. at the intersection of James Street and the Trans-Canada Highway near Cowichan Secondary School.

Mrs. Paterson was a passenger in the car driven by her husband, Stanley.

The other car was driven by William L. McLaren of 431 Arnold Street, Victoria.

Duncan RCMP said Mr. Paterson was crossing the highway from a westerly direction on James Street when he was in collision with the McLaren vehicle travelling north on the Trans-Canada Highway.

STOP SIGN

A stop sign is posted at the James Street intersection but there are no traffic lights.

Coroner D. K. McAdam will open an inquest into the fatality this evening but it will then adjourn until a later date.

Funeral service will be held from the Hirst Funeral Chapel, Duncan, Thursday at 2 p.m. Cremation will follow.

TOP KIWANIAN:

'Freedom Calls For Action By Individual'

The president of Kiwanis International spoke on his concept of freedom at a banquet attended by members of 30 Vancouver Island and Lower Mainland Kiwanis clubs Saturday night.

Charles A. (Nick) Swain of Cape May, New Jersey, told the gathering tnat "the preservation and the enhancing of freedom calls for individual action.

"People must be responsible for their own welfare" and guard the entrance of government into any field of service now handled by voluntary service organizations.

He said that "the free enterprise economy has produced the kind of social and economic structure which we enjoy today."

In a press conference, he said services such as the Kiwanis provided—the Oak Bay pavilion, Hammersley Park, a playground, an orphanage helped by Kiwanians, the new Kiwanis home for "displaced girls" and the Kiwanis senior citizens' village—should be performed through private organizations.

SAFEGUARDS

He said Kiwanis has begun expanding into 10 other countries than the original Canada and the U.S., but only with "due safeguards to make sure control remains in the parent countries."

He said Kiwanis were only establishing branches in "freedom-loving countries," and that membership would be withdrawn "if they went Communist on us."

AUTONOMOUS

Member clubs in the U.S. South could bar Negroes because they are "autonomous."

This would not violate the Kiwanis objective "to encourage the daily living of the Golden Rule in all human relationships" because, he said, "their idea of the Golden Rule may be different from ours."

Mr. Swain said the organization is fighting the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision barring prayer in government-supported schools, a controversy "started by a couple of atheists."

Mr. Swain, whose organization includes 5,300 clubs and 260,000 people, left for Edmonton Sunday after a tour of Victoria and the Butchart Gardens.

TOP HONORS in a six-week naval operations course at Halifax were won by Wren Muriel Bertrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Bertrand, 1885 Quamichan Avenue. Muriel attended Victoria High School before joining the Wrens in October of last year.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Electric Club: Crest Motel, 12:15 p.m.; Earl Lehna, president, Western Home Guard Patrol.

North Victoria Kiwanis: Tally-Ho Travelodge, 6:15 p.m.; Miss R. Bourneman, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Victoria Kiwanis: Empress Hotel, 12:10 p.m.; "The Canadian Open Golf Championship."

CAR MUSEUM, CAFE?

Bastion Square Plan Revealed

The Bastion Square restoration seeds planted last year by Mayor R. B. Wilson began bearing fruit today—in the form of a potential $250,000 private-enterprise tourist development for the Duncan Block, located next to the temporary City Hall.

Most likely development for the block—bought for $41,000 by the city last year to save it from possible destruction—is an antique car museum combined with an authentic Victorian-era restaurant.

W. P. Enman, president of the Royal London Wax Museum, offered to buy the property for $40,000 and submitted a 10 per cent cash deposit. The $1,000 difference in price reflects retention of one corner of the property at the rear to connect with the Yates Street carpark.

A highly pleased Mayor Wilson and the civic finance committee recommended council accept the offer subject to discussion of a few minor points.

The offer said Mr. Enman and his associate A. L. Batty:

"Agree to place or have placed into operation an entertainment attraction of a calibre similar to the London Wax Museum within a period of three years from date of final acceptance of this offer."

They also undertook to clean and paint the front of the historic building, probably using sand blasting or steam removal of the existing grime, and "not attempt to have these buildings destroyed or removed . . ."

UP TO CITY

The offer also indicated that it was contingent on the city going ahead with its plans for landscaping Bastion Square and building a pedestrian mall to Government Street by 1965.

In an interview, Mr. Enman said no conclusive decision has been made yet as to the exact type of development in the building but the investment will involve about $250,000.

"We have a number of ideas we are considering but I would say that the leading ones at the moment are creation of an antique car museum — in which authentic cars would each be placed in a period scene with appropriate background as the figures are in the wax museum — combined with a genuine, authentic restaurant of the Victorian era."

He added that he is leaving for Japan next month as part of a trade delegation and while there "I'll be looking around for any other ideas that are good."

BOUGHT LAST YEAR

Love for old buildings with a genuine Victoria heritage — and a lively appreciation of opportunities to rehabilitate the city — prompted Mayor Wilson last year to convince city council that it should buy the Duncan Block, which was one of the city's original hotels and centre of pioneer night life, as the keystone for redevelopment of Bastion Square.

The gamble has paid off handsomely since then.

On the strength of the city's restoration hopes, it obtained the vacated Courthouse for use as a temporary City Hall which will be turned into a new home for the B.C. Maritime Museum this winter.

CAFE ABUILDING

In addition, a "brazier" type of restaurant is now being built by a private developer across the square and the city has purchased the Heaney block, original home of the city's board of trade, which will be developed into a school of music and possibly other fine arts.

Driver Crashed Wrong Car

A driver who had "had a few beers" made the mistake of crashing into the rear of a police car on Government Street late Saturday night.

Albert Ward, 1060 Southgate, was unsteady on his feet and his voice was slurred when police talked to him at the scene. As a result he was arrested and charged with impaired driving.

Today he pleaded guilty to the charge when he appeared in city court but was put over for sentencing because he said he needs his licence for his work.

Bank Crest Bounces On Bennett

Premier W. A. C. Bennett has been on a wild crest chase, historical writer James K. Nesbitt said today.

W. C. Budd, the premier's executive assistant, last week went to see a big sandstone carving reputed to have decorated the original Bank of B.C. building here at the turn of the century.

Mr. Budd's idea was to put the old crest on the new Bank of B.C. headquarters to be built in Vancouver.

But it turns out to be the wrong crest.

Mr. Nesbitt dug the evidence out of the provincial archives.

He came up with a picture of the crest in question atop a building on lower Yates St. which was torn down in 1949.

It was the original home of the Bank of British North America.

SMALLER CREST

The Bank of B.C., a completely different establishment, was on Government St., and a picture of its original office shows a much smaller crest over the doorway.

Mr. Budd wasn't that interested anyway today.

He said he only went to look at the crest, now at Derick Stratford's Douglas St. service station.

"I never offered any money for it," he said.

DEAR ABBY . . .

A Lot of Scratch!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I love flowers. For many years my tulips have taken prizes. Last year some new neighbors moved to the north of us. They keep chickens. But their chickens are not cooped up or fenced in to keep them on their own property so every morning those chickens head right for my bulbs. So far I have had about $200 worth of fine imported bulbs scratched up. I don't want to fence in my property because it will ruin the looks of it; neither do I want to start a feud with my neighbors. Have you any suggestions?

LOVES FLOWERS

DEAR LOVES: I assume you have already complained to your neighbors. If you have, and were ignored, ask your lawyer to write them a letter pointing out their legal responsibilities. If that doesn't work, you may have to sue. Two hundred dollars worth of bulbs is not chicken feed.

DEAR ABBY: When a child must go to the hospital for a tonsillectomy operation and the mother is unable to go, isn't it all right for the father to be there instead? A friend of mine, right out of the blue, asked me how I could have stayed away from my child at a time like that. She said nothing in the world could have kept HER away if it had been her child. She hurt me terribly when she said that. Abby, I have small children at home and no one to leave them with, and things beyond my control made it impossible for me to go to the hospital that day. Did I do wrong?

HURT

DEAR HURT: No. Your friend was just blabbing and unmindful of the hurt she was causing—at least if she is a GOOD friend.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter's girl friend has asked my daughter and four other girls to be her bridesmaids. She made it clear that each girl was expected to pay for her own gown. The bride and her mother picked out the gowns without asking any of the bridesmaids for an opinion about price. Both my daughter and I were shocked when we found out how much the gowns cost. This bride has very expensive tastes, which she herself cannot afford. I think if the bride wants her bridesmaids to wear such expensive gowns, she should pay for them. My daughter says she would rather turn down the honor of being a bridesmaid than complain about the price. To give you an idea of how overboard the bride went, each dress is $69.95, plus tax! And my daughter has never spent more than HALF that amount on even her best dress. I would like some advice.

WORKING MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Since the price of the gown is more than twice what your daughter would ordinarily spend on a gown, I think she would show good judgment to decline the "honor."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "E": If you let a man know that you believe him to be faithful, it will help keep him that way. Call a man a cheat and you give him ideas.

Leave Oversized Suitcases At Home on Weekend Trips

By PENNY SAVER

When taking a weekend trip to the mainland or up-Island, I detest having to "cart along" my oversized suitcase.

Like many of my friends, I prefer to carry only one small case containing the main essentials.

Suitcases I noticed in one shop recently are ideal for this type of trip. They come in three sizes, priced at $4.50, $4.95 and $5.50, or in sets of four for $14.95.

Cases come from Japan and are made of heavy plastic. They feature zipper closings and extra zipper pocket on the outside of the case.

For overnight trips when you prefer something even smaller than these suitcases, a flight bag is perfect.

Ones selling at $1.98 in this shop come in dark blue with a picture of the Parliament Buildings in white on one side. Bags are lined in plastic that is stitched as well as glued for long wear.

If eating light lunches or dinners on the patio is your "cup of tea" during the summer, a set of king size TV tables is in order.

Tables are selling at the special price of $9.99 for a set of four. They are designed with pale pink roses against a white background.

One of the tables is complete with rollers and makes an ideal serving table. Tops of the tables can be removed and legs folded for compact storage.

Wondering where Penny shopped for these items? Then, give her a call at 382-3131 and ask for name and location of shop.

Former Victorian Wed At Campbell River

The bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goulding of Victoria travelled to Campbell River to attend the wedding of Marlyne Victoria Dyck and Noel Allan Vanstone in St. Peter's Anglican Church.

The bride and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Dyck of Campbell River, are former Victorians. Groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vanstone of Campbell River.

Mrs. Martha Milligan, the bride's aunt, sang "I Love You Truly." Rev. Trefor Williams officiated and organist was Mrs. V. Palmer.

Church was decorated with gladioli, tulips, dogwood blossoms and lilacs for the occasion.

Entering the church on her father's arm, the bride was lovely in a classic gown of silk organza over taffeta faille, styled with a portrait neckline and lily point sleeves. Lace rosettes highlighted the bodice and skirt. The veil of silk illusion misted from a pearl and crystal tiara. Red Talisman roses formed her bouquet. Jewelry was a gold pendant containing a pearl, gift of the groom.

Ming stoles of chiffon enhanced brocade dresses worn by bride's attendants. Maid of honor, Miss Marlene Berger, wore blue while bridesmaids, the Misses Beverly Eldridge and Loreli Jeanpierre, both of Victoria, were in pink and yellow respectively. They carried white carnation bouquets.

Kathryn Vanstone, the groom's sister, wore a flower frock of white chiffon and carried a pink carnation bouquet.

Jim Perkins was best man and ushers were Gary Richens, Vancouver, the groom's cousin, and Keith Hudson.

A. Attfield, Victoria, proposed the toast to the bride at a reception in the legion hall. Mrs. F. Fischer had decorated the three-tier wedding cake which centred the head table. It was topped with bells and doves and set on scalloped lace. Pink and white streamers and bells formed decor of room.

For a honeymoon trip to the United States, the bride chose a navy blue double-knit suit trimmed in white and white blouse, white accessories and pink rosebud corsage.

Newlyweds will make their home at Campbell River.

Cut Bias Strips For Cord Belts

"Dear Eunice:

"Can I make a thong belt out of satin seam binding and finish the ends with Japanese knots? Can fabric also be used?"

Mrs. S. W.

Dear Mrs. S. W.:

It is possible to make a narrow cord belt with satin bias binding. Usually these are made from fabric of most any type, but you would have to cut your own bias strips of fabric. These cannot be made by using the straight grain of your fabric, but must be made on the bias.

For full information about making finished cording and also the Chinese ball buttons, please send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Sew Simple, in care of this newspaper.

Women Journalists Earn Average $6,000 a Year

HAMILTON, Ont. — Canada's women journalists earn, on the average, $6,150 a year according to a survey completed this month by the Canadian Women's Press Club to mark its 60th birthday. While 16 per cent make less than $4,000 a year, a similar number make over $8,000. Two out of three think they should be paid more. The results were announced at the Ontario-Quebec regional conference held here this weekend.

The survey covers 10 provinces and all branches of journalism including newspapers, magazines, radio and television, public relations and related fields. More than half the respondents work on newspapers and magazines; one in four in public relations and advertising.

The survey indicated that women journalists tend to be in a middle age group—almost two thirds being 40 and over—and average 14½ years in their profession.

Their educational level is high—one-third are university graduates and one-half have at least one year's exposure to college training. They are steady workers who have been with their present employers almost nine years. Forty-two per cent carry out supervisory duties over an average of four persons.

Those anxious for promotion—36 per cent—are career women in their late thirties who have worked 1½ years less than their average colleague. Two out of five of this group feel that advancement is precluded because they are women.

While the survey covered part-time workers, the results announced today are based on replies from those working full time.

Complete finds will shortly be made available to all members of the Canadian Women's Press Club.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A Marriage That's Based On Physical Attraction?

Brides and roses seem to bloom during the month of June. I do not know why June has been selected as the most traditional time to enter the state of matrimony. I suppose it is because summer months lend themselves to a more leisurely honeymoon and June is a beautiful month and college is just out.

Lowman

Regardless of the high hopes of the brides and their grooms, a sizable percentage of these marriages will fail. For years psychologists have delved into this mystery. One factor is the great number of very young marriages. Often these young people are not mature enough to know what characteristics they want in their lifetime partner. The marriage is frequently based on physical attraction with little understanding of the responsibilities which marriage involves. The young folks are not prepared to face these.

Many psychiatrists feel that movies and the theatre and television have given them a "storybook" idea of romance. Therefore, a bride and groom are shocked when she finds that he is just as unattractive when he has the sniffles as anyone else is and he finds that his angel sometimes loses her temper and is unreasonable.

Be that as it may, I am sure that good health is the best dowry a bride can bring to her marriage. It will add humor and sparkle to their days together, whereas poor health brings chronic fatigue and a long list of minor discomforts which dampen the joy of living.

Also in this day of large families, a young woman needs an ample store of energy and stamina in order to fill her many roles as wife, mother, housekeeper, hostess, civic, school and church worker, accountant, shopper, seamstress, cook, psychologist and trouble-shooter.

The importance of good nutrition in the health and energy, and the happiness and success of a family has been well established. Any bride who does not become informed about this subject is doing her husband and future children a great injustice. Their health is in her hands.

If you are going to be a June bride at any time you may want my leaflet "Keeping Romance Alive." If so, send a stamped, self-addresed envelope with your request for leaflet number 63 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

IODE Proudly Meets Flag Issue Head On

FREDERICTON (CP)—Eighty Union Jacks were carried into the New Brunswick legislative assembly chamber Saturday night by Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire standard bearers, symbolizing what probably will highlight the 64th annual national chapter meeting here—the Canadian flag issue.

The Order, a voluntary organization of some 29,000 Canadian women, has for several years supported the adoption of the Red Ensign as Canada's flag.

MUCH HISTORY

During the opening ceremonies of the five-day meeting, Mayor William T. Walker, of Fredericton said it is unfortunate that the Red Ensign, which has had so much history, "has been completely scrapped." The Union Jack should have "at least a small place" in the Canadian flag design.

Mrs. D. W. McGibbon, national president of the order said at the opening ceremonies that contrary to the "cynical opinion held it in some quarters, particularly by some columnists," the Order was not an "outdated organization with an old-fashioned name and ideas."

She challenged anyone to name another Canadian women's organization that does as much for education, to help the poor of Europe, Asia and Africa and to assist Canadian Eskimos and Indians.

Premier Louis Robichaud of New Brunswick presented the order with a special medallion from the national chairman for International Co-operation Year, in recognition of its charitable contributions to the world's needy for "many years."

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"Barbra, this big penthouse of yours . . . with the four terraces and six chandeliers, even one in the bathroom, the stained glass windows, and that big 'Exit' sign that lights up . . . it must be tremendously expensive?"

"Expensive? Yeuh . . . but everything good is expensive."

Q.: But when you started planning this palatial hangout last fall, did you have any idea that "Funy Girl" would be such a success?

BARBRA (busily cutting stems off some roses and placing them in an antique vase she'd just bought): Ummm . . . yeah.

Q.: Now that you have this great success, are you really happy?

BARBRA: When I get my house done, I'll be really happy!

Q.: Wasn't your success too fast? You never suffered, did you?

BARBRA: Not really. My psychiatrist, if I had one, which I never had, might have said the kid was very disturbed she never suffered. But I don't suffer because I never suffered.

Q.: But at 22 to have a penthouse, isn't that too young?

BARBRA: Why? I don't have a chauffeured car or anything.

Q.: But Mary Martin and those kids didn't make it till they were about 28.

BARBRA (still arranging the flowers—and giggling): That's their problem! Ray Stark says I should enjoy life. I shouldn't have to wait for cabs and ride in trucks. Last week I couldn't get a cab so I asked a truck to take me. And I took a truck today. Life seems easy but there are a lot of pressures.

Q.: It must be a big responsibility carrying a show on your back?

BARBRA: Yeuh, that's why I get stomach aches now, getting all those pressures. You have to start thinking about the show at 5 o'clock, you can't eat too much . . . it stops your life!

Q: What about your husband? (referring to Elliot Gould, who had just finished a picture, "Confessions" in Jamaica).

Q: Another Humphrey Bogart?

BARBRA: He'd love you to say that!

Q: What do you tell people who ask your advice about getting into show business?

BARBRA: I tell them, "Do what you want. If you have enough guts and courage, you don't have to ask me! Why ask me? That's kind of weak!"

Q: Were you advised by a lot of people to have your nose done over?

BARBRA: Yeuh. By a lot of people.

Q: What did you tell them? To hell with it?

BARBRA: Yeuh.

Q: Were they a lot of friends of yours?

BARBRA: I never had a lot of friends.

Q: I notice your Paisley kitchen and your red patent leather bathroom, and that office with the typewriter. Is that your workshop?

BARBRA: We have a secretary. She works there.

I was just gasping when a friend of Miss Streisand's said to me, "Are you stupid, or something? This girl is only 22, but thanks to about four albums, she hasn't thought about money since she was 18!"

WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Tony Bennett'll have a fat dramatic role in "The Cincinnati Kid" with Spencer Tracy . . . A swimmer named Britt Sullivan offered to help publicize the "Unsinkable Molly Brown" film by jumping off a NY bridge, swimming around Manhattan or staying under water indefinitely. Price: $4,000 to $10,000 . . . The "Thin Red Line" movie, about war in the Pacific, is a big hit—in Japan.

Sidney Poitier said at Eddie Condon's his biggest thrill, next to winning the Oscar, was the reception he got in his native Bahamas . . . George Sanders will use three Rolls-Royces in different colors, as a billionaire in "Shot in the Dark."

Comedian Terry-Thomas said at Shine's dentists are always offering to fill in the gap in his teeth, gratis. Naturally he says No—it's his trademark.

Pres. Johnson's home-town caterer, Mary Kooch, is writing a book titled "What's Cooking in Texas," with LBJ's favorite recipes . . . The Beatles were asked, "Who's your favourite rock and roll singer?" and all replied, straight-faced: "Sophie Tucker!"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A fellow announced that he wouldn't let his wife buy an expensive red dress: "It clashes—with my salary."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: If you want to know who's boss in your house, you or your cat, just ask yourself, when was the last time your cat got out of a warm bed in the middle of the night to let you out of the house?—Harold Coffin.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe

Andy sends a complete 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Ulana Domazar, age 12, of Toronto, Ont., Canada, for her question:

What happens when trees are grafted?

In the fall, the boughs in our orchards are heavy with juicy plums and peaches, apples and pears. Our summer gardens are bedecked with tea roses and sometimes roses of different varieties bloom on the same tree. These wonders of the plant world are possible because of grafting.

A grafted tree is two plants growing together as one. It keeps the best qualities of both original plants, which makes it valuable as a fruit tree. Our orchard trees are descended from wild ancestors. When you plant a seed from a big, red apple, it will grow into a tree, but its fruit may be sour little crab apples like its wild relatives. Its roots, however, may be able to cope with unfriendly soil better than those of the orchard tree bearing big, red apples.

The first trick of grafting is to select a tree with a sturdy root system, at home in its native soil. This is called the stock of the grafted tree. The second trick is to select a twig or slip from a tree that has proved it can yield lush fruit or flowery blossoms. This part of the twosome is the scion. The third trick is the grafting operation and this is possible because of the way in which plants grow, adding new tissue to their woody stems.

Growth occurs in a thin layer of cells that lies between the woody tissue and the bark. This is the cambium. During the growing season, the cambium multiplies its cells, adding a layer of woody tissue on the inside and a layer of bark on the outside. When two twigs are slit and their layers of cambium placed in contact, they grow together as one.

Sealed With Wax Or Tape

There are several ways to perform this grafting operation. As a rule, the stock is a young tree with its top cut off and its roots left in the soil. The scion is a twig sliced from a tree that has proved its ability to yield fine fruit or flowers. The bark is peeled back to expose both layers of cambium, which are placed in contact with each other and sealed together with wax or tape.

In time, the stock and the scion grow together and become one tree. The stock provides the grafted tree with water and nourishment from the soil, keeping all its sturdy qualities. The scion becomes the leafy branches and when the time comes, it bears fruit or flowers just like those on the tree from which it was taken.

Andy sends a World Book Atlas to Karen Robinson, age 13, of Sarasota, Florida, for her question:

Where exactly is the sound barrier?

The sound barrier is a term coined by airplane designers. It refers to the speed of sound as it affects a speeding plane. Sound travels through ordinary air at about a mile in five seconds and when a plane reaches this speed it meets a terrific wall of resistance. As it breaks through this so-called sound barrier, we hear the crack of a sonic boom.

The sound barrier has no special place, for it can be met by a speeding plane anywhere in the earth's atmosphere. We can, however, say when the sound barrier occurs. It is met when a plane reaches a speed of about 750 miles an hour.

WHERE THERE'S a parade there's a clown. This one—10-year-old Glen Wade under the disguise—takes a "breather" en route to chat with Brigitte Hahn, eight, winner in the decorated bicycle section.

EVEN DOGS JOINED IN

Glanford Tots Tackle Rugged Parade Route

By PAT DUFOUR

Inspired by the Victoria Day parade, scores of Glanford Ave. area children staged their own whoop-de-doo on Saturday.

From the corner of Glanford and Agnes they trudged along Tait, Broadway, Agnes, Glanford, Broadway, Baxter, Glanford and Baker to the end at Glanford School.

It was a course worthy of an infantry regiment's training camp, including unpaved roads and hills that showed no mercy on the pint-sized pushers of decorated bicycles, toy tractors and pedal cars.

Adding to the worries of "parade marshal" Maureen Mayzes, 16, a motley assortment of neighborhood dogs insisted on joining the parade.

Most favored was May Queen Cathy Mayzes, seven. She covered the route in luxury, being pushed and pulled along in a wagon while her two princesses, Rozanne and Enid Crawford, followed behind via "shank's pony."

The princesses are sisters of the parade's originator, David, who inveigled his mother, Mrs. Clifford Crawford, into arranging the affair after watching last Monday's downtown parade.

Mrs. Crawford organized mothers so the competitors could fill up on cookies, cakes and candy after they'd completed the afternoon's exercise.

Brigitte Hahn, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Hahn, 4096 Glanford, took first prize in the decorated bicycle section.

Runner-up was five-year-old Sandy Crawford, who adopted a "no comment' attitude when asked for his parents' names. In third place was Blair Morris, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Douglas Morris, 568 Agnes.

David Taylor's decorated pedal car won first prize in the "four-wheel" section. He was trailed by Brad Troutman, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Troutman, 4080 Glanford, who drove a rose-decked toy tractor.

There were no prizes for the sturdy types who plodded the hilly route, dressed as clowns, harem dancing girls, Hawaiians and pirates.

This reporter, "persuaded" to act as judge, had misgivings when detailed off to confine activities to assessing merits of the adorned vehicles.

It would have seemed more to the point to have been able to reward those with the most staying power.

Cheap Drugs For Addicts Supported

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British Columbia Conference of the United Church of Canada has called for a federal program to give narcotics addicts drugs at cost.

Delegates to the 40th annual meeting of the B.C. Conference of the United Church of Canada were told here Friday addicts need a minimum of $38 daily to support their habit.

"They turn to theft and prostitution to get it," said Gordon MacGillivray, secretary of the Association of United Church Men in B.C.

The 250 ministers attending the conference urged the provincial government to start a crash program in social welfare, with a full-time welfare minister, more social workers and additional institutions for delinquents and potential delinquents.

OTHER MOTIONS

Other motions approved called for:

A campaign to publicize vocational training;

"Severe" government restrictions of cigarette advertising;

Increased financial support for alcohol research and education;

Re-affirmed opposition to legal lotteries;

Removal of the clause in the Criminal Code barring social workers from giving advice on family planning;

Revision of laws on criminal abortion;

Other provincial governments to set up industrial pension plans similar to one in Ontario;

TRIPLE AID

Tripling of Canadian foreign aid contributions;

Continued support for the United Nations Freedom from Hunger Campaign;

Encouragement of contributions to funds promoting civil rights such as the Martin Luther King fund in the United States.

Delegates also approved plans for operating a United Church home for unwed mothers.

Road-e-o Winner

CLOVERDALE (CP) — Jim Merrill, 17, of Whalley became British Columbia's 1964 safe driving champion during the weekend in a Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored road-e-o. Commerce sponsored road-e-o. Merrill, competing against 30 other drivers from B.C., earned $100 and the chance to compete in the national finals in Toronto in July.

Fire Dance at San Francisco Claims Seventh Victim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A seventh victim died today of burns suffered in a fire that swept the parish hall of All Hallows Catholic Church during a Samoan fire dance Saturday night.

The latest victim was identified at Presbyterian Hospital as Tau Lefiti Jr. Like the others who died, Lefiti was a member of the city's Samoan community.

Seventy - five other persons were badly burned and 12 were said to be still in critical condition today.

Meanwhile, one of the three Samoan fire dancers who were performing when the fire broke out said a misunderstanding triggered the blaze and ensuing panic.

David Quaine, for five years a night-club fire dancer, told reporters he intended to borrow a book of matches to light the gasoline-soaked sword he whirls in his act.

A drummer in the band, he said, "whipped out a light and set the sword on fire," and a bowl of gasoline ignited with a roar.

Once the blaze had begun an unidentified man sprayed water into the gasoline, witnesses said. The blaze flared up. Members of the Samoan Catholic Benvolent Society rushed for an exit.

Fire Chief William Murray said there would have been no disaster if the group hadn't panicked. Fleeing men and women, he said, clawed at one another savagely.

Charles R. Broock, 60, a member of the All Hallows Dads' Club, said he grabbed a fire hose from the parish hall wall. He, another man and a youth, he said, took the hose within 15 feet of the fire, when 'whooosh!'—all hell broke loose."

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD JACOBY

What is sauce for the goose is not always sauce for the gander at the bridge table. In expert circles, repeated bids of the same suit are known as sign-offs and invite partner to pass. In other circles, they are still sing-offs, but partner doesn't ever accept.

Opening lead—♣ 3

When North bid two hearts, he wasn't trying to get anywhere except out of no-trump. When South rebid to two no-trump, North realized that a three heart bid would just elicit a further bid from his partner. So North gave up the struggle and settled for what he hoped would be a small penalty.

It was a small penalty. West opened the three of clubs. East took his king and returned the jack. South's queen lost to West's ace and a third club lead gave South two club tricks.

East shed the deuce of diamonds on the fourth club, whereupon South led the queen of hearts and covered with dummy's king after West played low. He led a diamond, finessed his queen, cashed the ace and led a third diamond to set up his last diamond as another trick. Results, down one only.

South was bitter about the whole thing. He pointed out that he had made one no-trump, but that North had put him one trick higher. It did North no good at all to mention that there really was no play for one no-trump and that two hearts was an absolute cinch.

FRONTIERS OF SCIENCE

CLIMATE TO ORDER - Part 1

WITH THE INCREASING VARIETY OF SCIENTIFIC TOOLS AT MAN'S DISPOSAL, THERE COMES THE IDEA OF CLIMATE CONTROL, OR THE DOMINATION OF OUR EARTHLY ENVIRONMENT.
OUR EARLIEST ANCESTORS WERE DRIVEN FROM ONE REGION TO ANOTHER BY SEASONAL CHANGES OF CLIMATE ...
... UNTIL THEY MADE THE MOMENTOUS DISCOVERY THAT THEY COULD CONTROL THEIR OWN LIVING CONDITIONS BY BUILDING SHELTERS AND MAKING FIRES.
SINCE THIS FIRST AND FAR-REACHING ACT OF CLIMATE CONTROL, MAN HAS DONE LITTLE, EXCEPT FOR RECENT ATTEMPTS AT LOCAL WEATHER CONTROL, SUCH AS RAIN-MAKING BY SEEDING CLOUDS WITH CHEMICALS. BUT NOW SCIENTISTS ARE CONSIDERING LONG-TERM, MAJOR CHANGES IN CLIMATE FOR WHOLE CONTINENTS!

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

Stephen

CBC-TV officials have announced some of the programs planned for next season.

Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster will return as hosts and performers in part of a new hour-long program called Show of the Week.

The comedy pair will star in four special hours and will write scripts for, host and narrate six filmed programs dealing with the great comedians. The filmed series, entitled Wayne and Shuster Take an Affectionate Look at ----, will outline the careers of W. C. Fields, Abbott and Costello, Jack Benny, the Marx Brothers, Bob Hope, Burns and Allen, Olsen and Johnson and the Ritz Brothers.

Show of the Week will also carry eight CBC-produced variety programs, using a wide range of Canadian and foreign entertainers. The only program that is definite so far will star country and western singers Wilf Carter and Hank Snow.

During the season, viewers will also see performances by top European artists on four filmed programs entitled Instant TV.

The programs are produced by Bavaria Atelier GMBH, a film production company in Munich, Germany, which produces both feature films and programs for television.

Among the stars to be seen on the show, which will carry an English language soundtrack for the introductions, are Juliette Greco, Sacha Distel, Nadia Gray, Silvio Francesco and the Kessler Twins, among others.

Contemporary drama, dealing with topical themes of particular pertinence to the Canadian scene, will be shown on 14 of the Show of the Week programs.

One drama already planned is Who Needs an Enemy, by Jacqueline Rosenfeld. To be shown in two parts, the play will star Austin Willis, John Vernon and Anna Cameron.

Th program was bought by the BBC and broadcast May 17. The CBC says The Netherlands has also shown interest in purchasing the film.

After the November elections, ABC-TV is determined to show, in prime time, its public affairs creation on Franklin D. Roosevelt, titled simply "F.D.R."

The series is a counterpart to ABC's "Winston Churchill—The Valiant Years," now in global distribution.

The 26 half-hours are narrated by Arthur Kennedy, with Charlton Heston voicing the late president.

V.I. BRIEFS

Tories Request Flag Vote

NANAIMO—Progressive Conservative Association at its quarterly meeting Saturday proposed that the controversial flag issue be resolved by a national referendum.

While the executive of the association went on record as favoring the Red Ensign, the association wants the people to have a chance to choose between the Red Ensign and the proposed "Pearson flag" featuring the maple leaf.

Voting on th equestion should be recorded in such a way that it would not indicate results by provinces or regions, the association said.

Plan Home Aid

DUNCAN — A meeting of the newly-formed Duncan and District Family Emergency Service Association will be held at the Margaret Moss Health Centre tonight at 8.

Service clubs and other organizations in the district have been asked to send representatives.

Sharpe Elected

CAMPBELL RIVER — Ray Sharpe, 38, Campbell River lawyer, has been elected Kinsmen district deputy governor for the Island Zone.

His election to the post came at the concluding session of the annual B.C. Kinsmen convention held in Vernon. He defeated a Parksville Kinsman, Bob Murrant.

Fair Saturday

DUNCAN — The annual fun fair of Queen Margaret's School will be held Saturday at the school grounds.

It will be opened by Margaret Glide, headmistress, at 2 p.m.

Feature attractions include a fancy dress parade at 2:15 p.m. for children. The fair will conclude with a variety show at the Duncan Elementary School grounds at 8 p.m.

Vote in June

GANGES—Gulf Island ratepayers will go to the polls June 20 to vote on a $463,912 money bylaw for construction of a new secondary school on Salt Spring Island and a $12,540 teacherage on Galiano Island.

Funeral Monday

DUNCAN — Funeral service was held in St. John's Anglican Church, Cobble Hill, for Herbert Thomas Collison, who served aboard the Port Jackson, one of the last clipper ships.

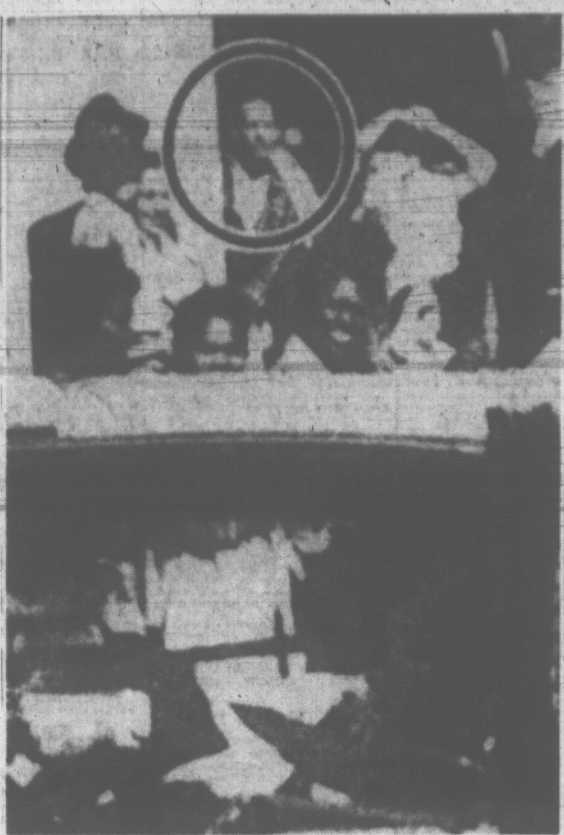
He died Thursday at the age of 75.

Born in England, Mr. Collison was a veteran of the First and Second World Wars and a former agent for Imperial Oil Co. at Skidegate in the Queen Charlotte Islands. He was also an active member of St. John's Church.

Boy Satisfactory

DUNCAN—A six-year-old boy, who suffered a skull fracture and broken arm Saturday when his bicycle he was riding collided with a car, is reported in satisfactory condition today in Kings Daughters' Hospital.

Peter Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wilson of Cedar Street, was in collision with a car driven by Antonio Lomma of Cobble Hill.



WHO IS THE MAN in the circle? Some claim he is Lee Harvey Oswald, photographed seconds after President Kennedy was shot, which would mean he couldn't have been the assassin. However, another employee of the Texas Schoolbook Depository says he is the man in the photo. (AP Wirephoto.)

CAMERA ON GUN

JFK Shooting 'Set Up' Again

DALLAS (AP) — More than six months after the assassination of president John F. Kennedy, federal agents still are reconstructing the murder scene.

A leading New York newspaper caused more speculation when it published a picture Sunday of a man standing near the Kennedy car that resembles Lee Harvey Oswald, who was charged with killing the president.

The New York Herald Tribune called the picture taken by AP photographer J. W. Altgens "probably the most controversial photograph of the decade."

If it was Oswald in the picture near the Kennedy car, he could not have been the man who fired the shots that killed the president from a sixth-floor window of the Texas School Book Depository Building.

Federal agents reconstructed the assassination scene Sunday as cameras recorded the repeated sequence of events from various angles.

The films will be used by the Warren commission investigating the chief executive's slaying.

An estimated 500 persons watched silently as a limousine containing four agents rolled slowly in front of the building.

From the sixth floor a federal agent poked the rifle through a window where police say Oswald shot Kennedy.

J. Lee Rankin, chief counsel for the commission, said the reenactment was staged "to check out some of the approximate positions of the car at the time of the shots."

An FBI agent seated in the limousine had a chalk mark on the back of his coat where the first bullet hit the president. On the back of his head was a patch indicating where the fatal bullet struck.

A second agent posing as John Connally wore the same suit the Texas governor had on when he was seriously wounded. The bullet hole in the coat was circled in chalk.

The re-enactment, staged time and again, took seven hours and traffic was rerouted from the scene. One of the cameras used in the portrayal was mounted to the murder weapon to record the shot sequence.

The AP picture shows a man standing in the background in the first-floor entrance of the school depository.

He resembles Oswald, but at the time, the AP quoted R. S. Truly, superintendent of the depository, as saying the man in the picture was Billy Lovelady, another employee of the firm, where Oswald also worked.

"I showed the photograph to Lovelady," Truly said at the time, "who said 'Yes, that's me.' "

At the time the picture first came to public notice last December, the FBI said it also had investigated the photograph and was satisfied that the man shown in the picture was not Oswald.

HOMES TOUR

Door Opens —and in Troop 700

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wilson opened the door of their home, 606 Inglewood, on Saturday and in trouped 700 people.

But Mrs. Wilson didn't have to worry about where everyone was going to sit.

For she and her husband were just one of four families who agreed to open their homes to the public to help Victoria Art Gallery women's committee.

The tour of four stately homes between 2 and 5 p.m. was arranged as part of a money raising effort for the gallery.

With transport provided from the gallery, visitors were able to see the Wilson's blend of contemporary and traditional styles.

Then, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gavin Chisholm, 3971 Smugglers Cove Road, they witnessed contemporary styling.

An example of the artistic in traditional style was the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Nation, 1051 Beach Drive.

Antiques and some fine old English furniture were features of the former home of Princess Chikmatoff, 2031 Runnymede Avenue, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ellis.

Judge Bonnie Caught The Judge's Eye

Judges were judged sevenfold Saturday when nearly 200 members of 4-H—the government-sponsored junior farmer organization — competed in their annual southern island field day.

Organized by Ken Jameson, district agriculturist with headquarters at Duncan, the field day brought together members of all of the 4-H clubs on Saanich peninsula, Luxton and Metchosin.

Broken down into senior, intermediate and junior groups, the young people spent the day judging seven different classes of agriculture exhibits. The seniors and intermediates had to give written reasons for the placings they made.

GOLD WATCH

And when their judging had been judged and results compiled, the top judge of the day was a dark-eyed 17-year-old member of the Saanich 4-H Aryshire Club, smiling Bonnie Reimer.

She will receive a gold watch from the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce later in the year to go with the rosette ribbon presented her at the close of the competition by Sig Peterson, supervisor of 4-H clubs in B.C.

Prior to the presentations, the contestants were addressed by G. L. Landon, past president of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs, who brought greetings from Charlottetown, P.E.I., where the council held its annual meeting.

Runner-up to Miss Reimer in the aggregate standing was a 17-year-old member of the Saanich 4-H Jersey Calf Club, Wendy Baker.

C'wealth: Teen-Ager With Growing Pains

The modern British Commonwealth really dates from 1947—the year India became independent, British High Commissioner Sir Henry Lintott said here Friday night.

"I think this new Commonwealth is now showing some of the growing pains of adolescence," he told hte Vancouver Island branch of the Royal Commonwealth Society at a dinner in Victoria Golf Club.

"It is only 17 years old—an age which in the individual is associated traditionally with sweetness, but it is also an age of restlessness and turbulence."

Sir Henry said this simile did not apply only to the new countries of the Commonwealth.

MUST ADAPT

"All the member countries have to adapt their attitudes in a lot of ways if this young association is to grow and prosper."

He believed that, behind the contentious issues which sometimes divide Commonwealth governments, there is a "solid foundation" that has weathered the storm of growth.

The high commissioner spoke of a handbook published by his department which devotes nearly 60 pages of close type to organizations in Britain concerned with various aspects of Commonwealth relations.

"There are 88 of them and I am sure this list is not exhaustive."

Sir Henry said there were 14 Commonwealth conferences in 1962 and 10 in 1963, ranging from a prime ministers' meeting to a round-table parley on overseas highway problems.

Same Traits Needed Now as Then Duncan Grads Told

DUNCAN—Today's school graduates need exactly the same qualities as the men and women who built British Columbia from colonial times, Cowichan Senior Secondary class of '64 was told Friday.

Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, addressed the 140 seniors and a packed auditorium of parents and friends estimated at more than 1,000.

Mr. Ireland outlined four basic characteristics of the people who forged the province: courage, enterprise, industry and justice, naming a number of typical persons such as premier John Robson and the first white mother, Catherine Shubert, who came overland from Canada.

Valedictorian was John Morton, son of North Cowichan Reeve Don Morton, and chairman was principal Richard Lendrum, assisted by vice-principal E. A. Goddard, who introduced each graduate.

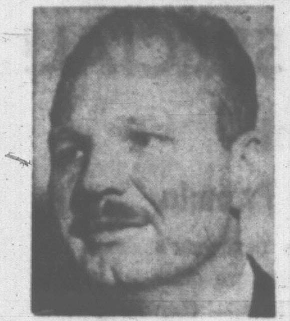
BAND, CHOIR

The event was highlighted by performances by the Cowichan Senior Secondary School band, the Quamichan Junior Secondary School choir, and four local girls who will participate in the world tour of the Vancouver Elgar choir, this summer.

Eight scholarships and bursaries were awarded to the following senior students: John Morton, Macmillan, Bloedel and Powell River Company Ltd. $500 scholarship; Vicki Joyce, Cowichan Registered Nurses' Association bursary; Odean Long, Dogwood Chapter IODE bursary; Katherine France, Royal Canadian Legion bursary; Susan Sterling, Business and Professional Women's Club bursary; Colin Stafford, Cowichan PTA scholarship; William Wilson, Hospital Employees' Association Union scholarship, and Nordahl Flakstad, McKenzie Logging Company scholarship.

A committee of Grade 11 students arranged the ceremony: Brenda Stone, Pam Langlois, James Barker, Colin Tassin, Reta Paquette and Gay Taylor.

ISLAND DIGEST



AUTHORITY on the state of higher education, University of Victoria registrar Ronald R. Jeffels speaks on Education 1964—The Times and the Milieu, at annual luncheon of Vancouver Island University Association, Yellow Point Lodge, on Saturday.

JUVENILE SUSPENDED YEAR IN DEATH OF YOUBOU CHILD

LAKE COWICHAN—A Youbou juvenile charged with careless driving has been placed on one year's probation by Magistrate Colin Anderson.

The charge was laid following an inquest into the death of 3½-year-old Denise Lynn Bremner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bremner, of Youbou.

The jury found the youth had been negligent in the operation of his car on April 11 when the little girl was struck.

NANAIMO MEN TO HELP SET WHALING LAWS

NANAIMO — Two Nanaimo scientists will assist in writing international whaling regulations at the International Whaling Commission meetings in Norway late in June.

Gordon Pike and K. R. Allen, who will begin work at the biological station June 1, will represent Canada at the meetings.

Canada will be particularly interested in the increasing harvest rate of whales in the North Pacific, thought to be caused by the decline of stock in the water of Antarctica.

Mr. Allen is a special member of a committee investigating the decline of the Antarctic whale stock.

Canada's only whaling station is Coal Harbor on the north end of Vancouver Island. More than 700 whales a year are caught and processed for oil by the Coal Harbor fleet.

PRIORITY ASKED ON GARBAGE ROW

The Hartland Road garbage dump is the first problem an inter-municipal conference should tackle, says the Saanich Information Committee.

The conference, suggested last week by Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell, is an "excellent idea," the ratepayers' organization decided at a meeting Friday evening.

A statement prepared by committee president Gordon Campbell—not related to the minister—says the proposed conference would be "the best way to handle tthe problem" of the dump.

The group is on record as applauding the minister's action, and hoping the conference "will take early action on the Hartland Road dump."

SUMMIT LAKE TO ARCTIC SEA

Long Kayak Trip Starts

SEATTLE (AP)—Two adventurous young men have set out on a planned kayak trip along wilderness waterways from northern British Columbia to the Arctic Ocean.

Gordon Rock, 22, and Jerry Botkin, 23, of nearby Mercer Island, left here with Rock's parents Saturday to drive to Summit Lake 30 miles north of Prince George, their take-off point.

"We'll be a jump behind the ice breakup, if we're lucky," Rock said. "We've been planning for a year and hope we have it timed well."

The pair plan a 3½-month, 3,300-mile trip in two small 16-foot kayaks.

Their route will take them down the Parsnip River to the Peace River, down the Peace to Lake Athabasca, down the Slave River to Great Slave Lake and then along the Mackenzie River to the Arctic Ocean.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police have been informed and have given permission, Rock said.

"They're a little unhappy about our kayaks being so small, but they have been cooperative."

They plan to join the two kayaks together as a catamaran along the broad Mackenzie.

In the fall, they expect to work their way back up the Rat River, over the mountains to Fort Yukon, Alaska, on the Yukon River, and then fly home.

Starting May 30th.

German Steam Engine Puffs in James Bay

Eleven tons of steam engine are sitting in Leonard Hutton's back yard after a sea voyage from Germany.

Mr. Hutton, 215 Menzies, spent 35 years driving steam engines from farm tractors to locomotives.

He bought the engine for old time's sake and perhaps to put in a park.

It's cost? Mr. Hutton won't say, but he admits paying $1,150 in customs duties just to get it into the country.

Built in 1936 for use in German surface mining, the engine was retired in 1943 when the mine closed down. It is probably the only engine in Canada to run on two-foot-gauge tracks.

After a safety inspection the engine will be steam cleaned, painted and repaired by Mr. Hutton.

The German engine was bought because it was cheaper to ship it here by sea than to ship a comparable United States engine by land.

Beginning on a steam-driven threshing machine on his parents' farm near Prince Albert, Sask., in the early 1920s, Mr. Hutton has driven steam shovels, steam tractors, steam rollers, small sawmill engines, and the big steam locomotives at Ogden Point.

Mr. Hutton, now a stationary engineer with the federal government, said he expects to have more fun with his new engine than he ever had with any of the 100 or so engines he has driven during his life.

SUPPORTS UNION IN CHIEF HASSLE

Passmore Asks Why . . . 10 Times

Coun. Leslie Passmore has waded into the Saanich firemen's fracas, on the side of the firemen's union.

Like the union, Coun. Passmore is oppoisng the appointment of Joseph Sutherland, 52, a Victoria department first-class fireman, to take over from veteran Saanich fire chief Joe Law.

Both Coun. Passmore and the union feel more consideration should have been given to members of the Saanich force seeking the job.

The union has said it plans to take further action early this week.

Coun. Passmore says there are 10 questions about the appointment Saanich council should answer.

They are:

With over 50 applicants to choose from, why was an interview held with only one man?

If a chief with experience was required, why wasn't the chief of the Kitimat Fire Department or the officer from the Winnipeg Fire Department interviewed, particularly as they both ranked high in the examination submitted by the experts?

Why was there such haste to appoint the Victoria fireman minutes after the private interview was held with him?

Why was there no interview with the Victoria fire chief to obtain his opinion of the appointee?

Why was there no interview with the officers who instructed the appointee, as to his ability?

Why was there no effort to affirm or refute the appointee's statement that lack of seniority was the only reason he had not been able to attain officer rank in the city department?

Why was the brief submitted by the entire Saanich fire department personnel not read at the council meeting?

Why wasn't Chief Law requested to help advise on the appointment of a new chief?

In view of council's admission that it is impossible to determine whether or not the appointee will be capable of the job without a six-month trial, why wasn't the same consideration given to a member of the Saanich fire department?

Is the same treatment that was accorded to Saanich fire department to be perpetuated in other departments when senior officials leave and replacements are required?

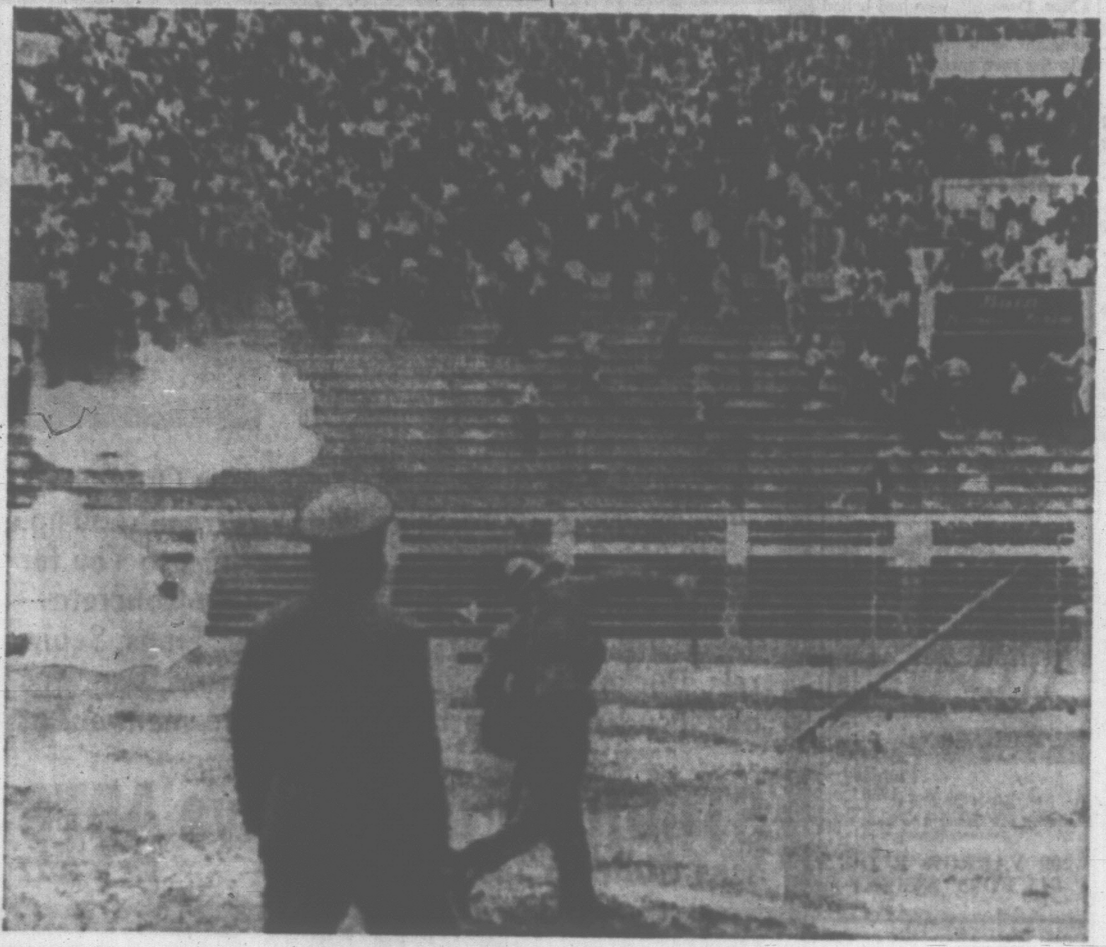
268 Peru Soccer Fans Die In Wild Stadium Stampede



POLICEMAN tosses tear gas bomb toward spectators in stands in Lima, Peru, stadium in futile effort to control riot that killed 268 persons Sunday. At least 300 others were injured. A crowd of 45,000 was in the stadium for the international soccer match with Argentina. (AP Wirephoto.)

Police Tactics Rapped

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — The government decreed semi-martial law today to halt rioting after a stampede in the soccer stadium in which at least 268 persons were killed and more than 300 injured.

A state of national mourning was ordered.

The riot-stampede in the National Stadium started when a Uruguayan referee discounted a goal scored by Peru in a game with Argentina and the latter won, 1-0.

Hot-headed fans in the crowd of 45,000 swarmed on the field to attack the referee and police started throwing tear gas grenades. The crowd stampeded for the exits only to find some of them still closed. Hundreds were trampled to death in the mass hysteria.

A baby was born in the stadium at the height of the rioting. It was not known whether the child and mother survived.

Priests walked among the trampled as the panic eased, administering the last rites. Most of the deaths were due to asphyxiation.

A check of hospitals and morgues showed at least 268 dead and more than 300 injured. At first it was feared the death toll was over 400.

The casualty count was made more difficult by the hundreds of persons who jammed corridors seeking to identify the dead.

WALL SHATTERED

The huge stadium was jammed today by thousands of curious. The shattered steel wall separating the playing field from the bleachers gave mute testimony of the violence of the stampede.

Hundreds of glass windows were shattered. Some sections of the stands had been burned.

There were two piles on central stairways of shoes of the victims trampled to death. A great blotch of blood on one wall showed how people had been crushed against it by the thousands stampeding for the exits.

Three buildings in front of the stadium were charred and smoking ruins. They had been attacked, burned and looted by the rioting mobs which surged into the streets after the disaster.

TEAR GAS BARRAGE

Most of the deaths were caused by the crush of the crowd seeking to flee the barrage of tear gas hurled into the stands by police.

Newsmen at the scene said the small police force present—some 40 men with two dogs—made excessive use of tear gas, perhaps because they were afraid of being overwhelmed.

Newsmen also said the tear gas was thrown into the stadium seats instead of among the rioters who had broken down the steel wall between the stands and the playing field, and were swarming onto the field.

Police identified the principal trouble-maker at the game as a

'Screaming for Help, Gasping for Breath'

Among the 45,000 in the stands Sunday when disaster struck at an Argentine-Peruvian soccer game in Lima was Roland Selfio Angeles. This is his account.

By Rolando Selfio Angeles

LIMA, Peru (AP)—I saw people crushed to death in the tunnels of National Stadium, and heard the horrible screams of others trying to escape the human stampede.

I was on the east side of the field when the trouble started Sunday afternoon.

Argentina was leading 1-0 in the last minutes of the soccer game when Peru sent a ball into the net.

You should have seen the fans scream and yell. Because of interference on the play the Peruvian players protested some, but the game went on.

The crowd jeered, booed and whistled and some bottles and rocks were thrown on the field. But things were not yet out of control.

SCREAMS AT REFEREE

Then away down the field on the south side of the stadium a heavyset man started running toward the referee, screaming insults.

The police grabbed him quickly, roughed him up some and got him off the field.

The players resumed the game, but about that time at the south end of the stadium another fellow ran out on the field and started for the referee.

By now the crowd was really screaming, and began to pour out on the field.

The referee ran for his life, and escaped. The players left the field without any trouble.

FIRE TEAR GAS

The police started shooting tear gas into the stands to try to calm the fans down a little and keep them off the playing field.

But, especially at the north end of the stadium, things really got out of control. The fans started slugging it out with police.

Spectators everywhere then tried to leave the stadium before they got hurt. The ones who went through the tunnels at the south end were lucky. The gates were open.

The real trouble was at the north end, where the gates were closed.

There was a stampede. The first people ran to the gates and were crushed by the ones behind them trying to get out. They began to pile on top of each other.

They were screaming for help and gasping for breath. I saw some collapse and fall to the ground. They were trampled to death.

In the stands, fans were fighting fans, to get out and head for the exits.

IN VIET NAM

A-Bomb Jungle Goldwater Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Barry Goldwater proposed Sunday the use of low-yield atomic weapons to defoliate the forests along South Viet Nam's borders and expose the jungle supply lines of the Communist-led rebels.

The Arizona contender for the Republican presidential nomination also urged bombing of bridges, roads and railroads used for bringing supplies from Communist China and North Viet Dam unless the Communists halt military shipments over them. He said such non-atomic attacks on supply lines should be carried out "wherever they may be."

He said U.S. authorities should "consult with the leading Red Chinese in North Viet Nam to the effect that we are stronger," before bombing the supply routes, and predicted they would back down and cut off the shipments.

"I think those people understand what we woud be getting at, and we should be doing it," he said in an interview recorded for a radio and television program.

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass accused U.S. Senator Barry Goldwater Sunday of issuing a "canibalistic call" for the use of atomic bombs in South Viet Nam.

The Tass commentary said: "He did not dare to say straightforwardly that the bomb would wipe out everything living from the face of the much suffering land of South Viet Nam."

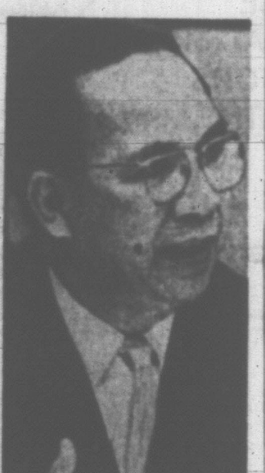
RED CHINESE MASS TROOPS

LONDON (AP)—Red China has massed 100,000 troops and dozens of fighter planes to come to North Viet Nam's aid in case the South Viet Nam war takes a northward turn, the Sunday Times reports.

French Back Cambodia's Attack Claim

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—France today supported Cambodia's aggression charge against the United States and Viet Nam and brushed aside Washington's proposals for a UN border patrol on the Viet-Cambodian frontier.

French Ambassador Roger Seydoux told Security Council the frontier incidents should be left to the three-power international control commission, in which Communist Poland has a veto along with the other members, Canada and India.



SNUBBED by Russian and Czech delegates during Security Council speech at UN today was South Viet Nam's ambassador, Vu Van Mau. Communists do not recognize South Viet Nam government.

IWA Split On Contract Proposals

The International Woodworkers of America is "split right down the middle" over a contract proposal aimed at settling the coast lumberworkers dispute, a union spokesman said today.

A majority of IWA negotiators last week agreed to recommend acceptance by union members of a conciliation report offering wage increases of 28 cents an hour over two years, plus 15 cents for tradesmen. The union was demanding 40 cents in one year.

Two strong locals in the 26,000 member union have already said they will recommend rejec-

IODE Asks Plebiscite To Settle Flag Issue

FREDERICTON (CP) — The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire said today the Canadian government is depriving "citizens of their rights to vote" on the distinctive Canadian flag issue.

The IODE, in a telegram to Prime Minister Pearson unanimously backed by members of the IODE's 64th annual meeting here, said the "national chapter, IODE, deplores that in this democratic country our government would deprive individual citizens of their rights to vote on an issue as vital as the Canadian flag.

"The IODE strongly urges that the prime minister hold a national plebiscite in order that the people of Canada may decide whether the Canadian Red Ensign or a flag of a new design shall be the official flag of Canada."

CHURCHILL SAYS RED ENSIGN 'DISTINCTIVE'

Tories Plan Long Fight Against Canadian Flag

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Progressive Conservative and other opposition members favoring the Red Ensign are prepared to wage a long drawn-out battle in the Commons against adoption of Prime Minister Pearson's proposed distinctive Canadian flag.

Gordon Churchill, Conservative House leader, made this clear today when he vigorously and emphatically denounced Mr. Pearson.

"We are not going to have a flag thrust down our throats by any sawdust Caesar," he said in an interview. "I feel very strongly about this and you can quote me."

The official Opposition, the Progressive Conservative group, will move a want of confidence motion in the Liberal minority government today. However, it will not be concerned with the flag.

Mr. Churchill pointed out that the Conservatives could hardly cast a want of confidence motion on the flag issue at this time because so far there was nothing officially before the House. All that the opposition groups know about the Liberal government's flag proposals are what they have read in the press or what Mr. Pearson has told them in reply to questions.

Consequently, Mr. Churchill indicated that the Conservatives would not be introducing a motion of confidence on the flag despite Prime Minister Pearson's challenge to them to do so last week. They will wait until the flag resolution is introduced and on a vote on the resolution the minority government will stand or fall.

Mr. Churchill was forthright in his stand. "I am for the Red Ensign," he told The Times. "If you think I am going to swallow the Pearson personal design you are wrong. We have a distinctive Canadian flag now in the Red Ensign and that is the flag I support.

"This pretense that adopting a new distinctive design will make for national unity is a delusion. It is purely an attempt to delude the people of Canada. I think it is nonsense to bring this matter forward at this time unless the adoption of a new flag was generally acceptable.

"We are going to have a good fight in the House. It has been a live issue for only a week now that the bombshell has been dropped and already the reaction is setting in. The debate in the House will inform the public and we intend to see that there is a thorough debate."

FLAG BALLOT

Ensign Leads Polling But Both Sides Hot

Victorians are pretty hot on the flag issue!

Over the weekend close to 1,000 letters containing the Times' flag ballots reached the office.

A number of them were accompanied by letters explaining reasons for the votes.

Not all of the ballots were processed for today's paper.

But the count at this juncture indicates that Times' readers favor the Red Ensign better than two to one over the new maple leaf design.

Here is the actual count so far:

Red Ensign 601
Maple Leaf 254

The notes on ballots and the letters indicate the depth of feeling on the subject. Several of those objecting to the new design do so because it eliminates the Union Jack as part of the flag.

Here are a few comments:

"The Hon. Mr. Pearson seems to forget the Red Ensign is a sacred symbol, a flag to be honored always . . ."

For a united Canada; A large Maple Leaf; One for All and All for One."

"As a German I have the experience how a flag change splits the nation."

"Born in Canada 67 years ago . . . To me this is one of my proudest moments . . . to live under a real Canadian flag . . . I shall always love the Union Jack and think it should always be flown . . . but I remain a Canadian who is very happy to live under our own Canadian flag."

"I think the flag issue is only a political football."

For the convenience of those who have not sent in their votes, the ballot form is repeated today.

Just mail it to "Flag Ballot, Victoria Daily Times, 2631 Douglas."

I am in favor of the new maple leaf design for Canada's national flag ____________

I think Canada should confirm the Red Ensign as the national flag ____________

WEEK IN BUSINESS

Americans Richer Than Ever

By JACK LEFLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans are earning more than ever. The commerce department last week reported personal income in April rose to a record level.

They're spending it at a record pace, too. This was shown by zooming sales by automobile manufacturers and department and variety store figures.

Personal income, continuing its steady gain of recent months, climbed $2,200,000,000 last month to an annual rate of $483,100,000,000. Of the total increase, $1,600,000,000 was in wages and salaries.

The big department store chain, Sears, Roebuck and Co., reported record first-quarter profits and forecast record sales and earnings for the year. The variety chain, F. W. Woolworth Co., said sales were running 18 per cent ahead of a year ago.

John A. Barr, chairman of Montgomery Ward and Co., predicted U.S. consumer spending would rise more than six per cent this year to $398,00,000,000 and retail sales should increase about six per cent to $262,000,000,000.

Both gains would exceed those of 1963 when consumer spending climbed five per cent to $373,000,000,000 and retail sales four per cent to $246,000,000,000.

The commerce department reports U.S. production of goods and services ran at an annual rate of $608,000,000,000 in the first quarter of this year. This was a bit below its original estate of $608,500,000,000. The lag was attributed by officials to the reduced rate at which business built inventories during the quarter.

On the darker side, housing starts in April slacked off to the slowest pace since last summer. Starts dropped six per cent from March to an annual rate of 1,558,000, the census bureau reported.

However, an economist for the National Association of Home Builders said the April decline wasn't a surprise because the rate "just couldn't keep going up," as it had in recent months. He said there still is a healthy demand and mortgage money is ample.

BUSINESS VIEWS

Builders Start Season With Record Contracts

By GORDON BELL
Times Business Editor

Bell

The Canadian construction industry as a whole has started out the year with an all-time record high in contract awards. The total for the first four months of the year was up over $1.3 billion, 36.4 per cent over the same period last year and 28.9 per cent higher than the previous record for the same period in 1960.

The figures collected by MacLean Building Reports show that all four regions, Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario and Western showed gains as did all categories, residential, business, industrial and engineering. Strongest regional gain was in Quebec which showed 47.1 per cent, and strongest category gain was engineering with 66.4 per cent.

An important factor in the increases in all regions was the gain in the big projects, $1 million or better, which accounted for $654.7 million of the total $1.3 billion. In the first four months of 1963 the big projects added up to only $352.2 million.

With the projects ahead in Canada, particularly in the engineering field, there is a strong likelihood that the contract awards will continue to show further gains in the months to come and the impact on building product industries should be very good.

* * *

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has released the results of its survey on Canadian manufacturing profits in 1963 which show that average profit on the sales dollar was 5.4 cents, about the same as the average for the past 16 years but up slightly from 1962.

Percentage profit on the sales dollar is one way of measuring the economy but the results of the CMA survey certainly do not reflect the excellent gains made in the overall economy last year.

A better reflection is the Financial Post survey, released last week on the increased earnings, net profit, dividends paid, working capital and net worth of 298 publicly-owned corporations.

These figures show that net earnings were up an average 7.3 per cent to 3,077.5 million net profits, up 10.5 per cent to $1,787.2 million; dividends were up 9.4 per cent to $653.2 million, working capital increased by 4.9 per cent to $4,729.6 million and net worth was up by 6.4 per cent to $13,451.7 million.

Some of the groups in the survey showed outstanding increases last year such as textiles, which was up 22.9 per cent in net earnings and 54.3 per cent in dividends paid. Transportation recorded a 22.3 per cent increase in net earnings, merchandising a boost of 15.8 per cent, iron and steel 13.7 per cent and oils 11.4 per cent.

As a group beverages were the only industry to show a decline in net earnings, of four per cent, but even so managed to increase net profit by 1.4 per cent and dividend payout by 4.9 per cent.

The gain in textiles may be interesting to anyone who has not been watching this group and has tended to think that foreign imports and lack of tariff protection has hit them hard. Textiles actually recorded a gain in net profit last year of 28.7 per cent following gains in 1962 of 18.8 per cent, in 1961 of 19.4 per cent and a decline in 1960 of .7 per cent.

Actually the 10.5 per cent increase in net profit of the 298 Canadian corporations last year compares with an increase of just nine per cent for the 3,934 U.S. corporations surveyed by the First National City Bank of New York. However, the American firms reported a 5.9 per cent return on sales, compared with the 5.4 per cent reported by the CMA.

WEEK ON MARKETS

Buyers Choosy, Turnover Small

By GORD GRANT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Investors were selective on Canadian stock markets last week. Some issues put on impressive displays. A large number marked time.

Trading remained slim with volumes ranging around 4,500,000 shares a day.

Monday's session in New York—when the Toronto market was closed for Victoria Day—set the pace for the week. New York took a loss and Toronto opened Tuesday with industrials experiencing their first setback in three weeks.

Toronto rallied sharply Tuesday paced by Massey-Ferguson which dominated proceedings throughout the week as it turned over 198,301 shares and climbed $3 to 27⅝, up $3. Earlier it traded at $28⅛, high for the issue.

The company reported a 208 per cent increase in its six month earnings while sales earnings for the six months ended April 30 were $1.51 against 49 cents in the same period last year.

Bell Telephone gained 1⅛ to 55⅛ after selling as high as 55⅛.

Building Products was another standout as it climbed $5 to $35½. The stock leaped ahead after an offer of $19,000,000 for its assets by Imperial Oil.

In the construction group Canada Cement, Inland Cement performed and Lafarge were all better.

Steels milled around uncertainly although Dominion Steel and Coal climbed to a high of $18.

Senior mining issues were up and down all week with Falconbridge slumping and then recovering.

Speculative mining issues continued to be traded fairly actively although few issues held gains. Genex, Kirkland Minerals, Paramaque, Magnet and MacDonald were standout performers.

Leitch was active among golds as it climbed to a 1964 high of $4.55 before slumping to $3 late Friday. Leitch is reported involved in a dispute with Texas Gulf.

One rumor linked Leitch with Highland Bell in a deal with Texas Gulf and Highland Bell moved to $5.50 for a gain of 80 cents on the week.

Delegates will come from Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Anchorage, Alaska.

The exhibit will be opened by James Greenwood, international president of the society, and will show some of the latest developments in office equipment, services and communications.

An interesting feature will be the use for the first time in Victoria, of a "message centre" installed by the B.C. Telephone Co. Through a special telephone number and closed circuit television, any delegate to the conference or visitor to the equipment exhibit can be reached by his or her office.

'Don't Curb Foreign Investments'

By KEN SMITH
Canadian Press Business Editor

MONTREAL (CP)—Placing a curb on further foreign investment means Canadians must also be prepared to hobble their economic progress, Herbert H. Lank, president of Du Pont of Canada, said today.

He told the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that recent events in Canada can also scare away some of that needed capital.

He told the 1,200 delegates that foreign investors have provided Canada with immense supplies of capital and skills to accelerate its growth "far beyond what we could have accomplished alone.

"We are going to need more, not less, of this sort of tangible and intangible help in the future.

SAVINGS NOT ENOUGH

"It is generally acknowledged that Canadian savings are not yet substantial enough to finance future industrial and resources development at the rapid pace we have come to expect, even if Canadian investors were more daring."

Mr. Lank said that in meeting European and American businessmen "I have noticed that Canada is creating a feeling of uncertainty in the minds of some people who have money to invest here.

"Our serious political squabbles at the provincial and national levels, our consideration of restrictive legislation that tends to scare money away and our emotional and sometimes ill-informed outcries concerning the domination of our economy by outside interests have our friends worried."

OUTLOOK OBSOLETE

An overly nationalistic outlook "is obsolete and self-defeating in an age that is moving toward more and more international interdependence."

John Deutsch, chairman of the Economic Council of Canada, warned the businessmen that they will have to help pave the way for future technological changes by recognizing the social and human adjustments involved.

If they don't, he said, "the other choice is a social and political struggle out of which could develop a network of protective devices, government intervention, controls, subsidies and unproductive expenditures which, in large part, would frustrate the possibilities of industrial progress."

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices showed a rallying tendency in the last half of today's session on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, following earlier irregularity and hesitation.

An advance in Chicago wheat prices prompted by a heat wave in the United States touched off some demand in rye and feed grains. The rye market had earlier eased off in light trade.

Brazil Traction Reports Loss

TORONTO (CP)—Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Co. Ltd., had a net loss of $1,234,012 or seven cents a share in 1963, compared with a net profit of $1,240,162 or seven cents in 1962.

The loss was incurred despite an increase in operating revenues, the company's annual report said. Figures are expressed in terms of the U.S. dollar.

The report said that changes in the conversation rate of the Brazilian cruzeiro contributed to the decline in net income. The rate was changed to 1,200 cruzeiros to the U.S. dollar from 620.

CPR Rise Sparks Toronto Trading

Canadian Pacific Railway climbed 2⅛ to a new high of 48⅝ in brisk dealings on the Toronto stock exchange today.

The increase gave industrials a solid look despite some hefty losses, and overshadowed a sharp decline by golds.

Montreal prices moved fractionally higher, with trading extremely active among industrials but light in mines and oils.

Chrysler gave Wall Street a small boost late in a moderate session.

AT TORONTO, Argus Corp. was ahead 1⅛ to 17½ while Moore Corp. and Building Products gained $1 at 55 and 36½ resvectively. Best gain in the main list went to Algoma Central and Hudson Bay Railway which jumped 4¼ to 36¼ on small turnover. The warrants were up 2½ to 15.

Canada Packers B dipped $1 to 74, Algoma Steel 1⅛ to 69¾ and Inco ⅜ to 85⅛.

Dome slumped $1 to 28¾ in pacing the gold decline. Smaller losses went to a long list of issues which included Giant Yellowknife, Dickenson and Cochenour Willans.

AT NEW YORK International Harvester, whose profits were up sharply, advanced more than 2. Union Carbide was up about a point.

The performance of the miner-find stocks, which have been favorites in recent weeks, was contradictory. Texas Gulf Sulphur was running second to Chrysler in volume and rose a point or better. U.S. Smelting lost 3. Occidental Petroleum fell more than a point.

AT MONTREAL utilities led the advances as CPR jumped two points. Bell Telephone, Rolland Paper A and Loblaw A were up ¼ each.

Falconbridge and Hudson Bay Mining each lost ½ and Canadian Breweries ⅛.

In speculative mines on the Canadian exchange, Mount Pleasant climbed nine cents, Kodiak Petroleum fell 10 cents, White Star Copper four cents and Talisman three cents.

AT LONDON Courtaulds ran into profit-taking while other sharp falls were registered by Klinger Manufacturing, Plessey and British Cocoa and Chocolate. On the other hand, Dunlop improved and Cannon Holdings remained prominent.

Hudson's Bay was a shade lower.

Oils were generally easier but Ultramar improved further and Premier reflected American support. Plantations were quiet.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate. Midland Pete was up at .17½ and Peace River Pete at .45. Utica was up at .55 while Peso Silver was down at $1.72. B.C. Forest dropped to $28.50 while Trans Mt. Pipe climbed to $19.25.

Trade Fair Pronounced Big Success

VANCOUVER (CP) — The third British Columbia Trade Fair, bigger and more successful than ever, ended Saturday with just about everybody happy over the results of the last 10 days.

"Just walk around and look at those exhibitors," Godfrey Holloway, fair manager, said Saturday. "They're all smiling."

"They've done very well here."

Just how well 140 exhibitors, displaying goods from 40 countries, did during the fair will take a month or more to determine.

And the full effect of the displays that showed everything from Oriental cars to Communist carpets will not be known by the individual exhibitors for months or even years.

GOOD SALES

But Mr. Holloway said there were some dissatisfied exhibitors after the 1958 and 1961 fairs but this year he has found none.

Also:

A Japanese motor company sold 30 cars and 16 trucks since the fair opened.

An Indian display handled 200 inquiries by importers interested in establishing distributorships here for various merchandise;

A Spanish display was sold out completely;

West Keeps Embargo On Exports

PARIS (AP)—Western trade with Communist nations is slowly and steadily rising, but the Western embargo on exports of strategic items is holding firm, according to the international watchdog group which keeps a close eye on the exchanges.

Exports to the Soviet bloc and China made up 4.2 per cent of the West's total exports in 1961, the last full year for which figures are available. Imports from the Soviet bloc and China made up 3.9 per cent of the Western world's total in 1961. Both these figures are almost double the comparative 1952 figure.

Sources close to the 15-nation co-ordinating committee called Cocom for East-West Trade say that the controls over exports to the Communist nations are not intended to dampen international commerce.

"We are not waging economic warfare," said on informant. "The principal objective is to prevent the flow of strategic materials which could add to the ability of the Communist powers to wage war."

The hitch comes in the definition of strategic materials. For some items there is immediate unanimous agreement. For others, long and heated technical arguments consume days every year before a compromise is reached.

FAST START ASSURED AFTER YES VOTE ON SCHOOLS

Trustees to Huddle With Architects

Greater Victoria School Board will meet architects this week to plot a building schedule that will give priority to schools facing serious crowding problems.

The meeting is being arranged on the heels of Saturday's approval of nearly $6.9 million worth of new school construction in the next three years.

A 24% turnout of voters resulted three years in 82% approval for the program.

'BREAD, BUTTER'

Trustee Peter Bunn said architects should give some consideration to the huge program.

"This is bread and butter work. We feel, sometimes, we have been put to the bottom of the pile. We're here all the time. Some big apartment job may be just a flash in the pan."

He urged architects to be imaginative in their detailed plans for new construction, especially where entirely new schools like Reynolds Road and Christie Point junior secondary schools will rise.

FLEXIBILITY

"We would like to see some flexibility in construction, not just a 24 by 36-foot room that meets square footage requirements.

"You can have round rooms, or rooms that join to become a single large room if you want, and it doesn't need to be more expensive.

"I want to see something better, a little more imaginative, more trouble, needing more brains, and if our own architects (those working in Victoria) can't come up with something likt that, we should go abroad to find those who can."

80% AFFIRMATIVE

Mr. Bunn said it has been proven elsewhere that schools built with imagination are not only more useful to the school population, but to the community.

"We got an 80 per cent vote, the highest vote of confidence we've ever had. We're honor-bound to do the very best we can, especially with these junior high schools," the trustee said.

Ratepayers passed the capital construction bylaw by 9,469 to 2,100. The second bylaw, to provide $158,379 for purchase of the Paul building for administration, passed by 9,300 to 2,289.

88 IN SAANICH

Degree of support went as high as 88 per cent, in Saanich, and Victoria voted approval by 81 per cent. Only 14.25 per cent of those eligible cast ballots in Victoria.

In Oak Bay, 27 per cent eligible voted 74 per cent in favor of the school bylaws.

John Gough, district superintendent, said he was pleased by the vote of confidence shown in the board and by the prospect of moving his crowded staff of 55 out of Craigdarroch Castle to the university's Paul building.

Although only a fifth of eligible voters turned out at the polls in Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt, they gave 20 per cent more support than was actually required—60 per cent of those voting.

But trustees will never hold an important vote again on the same day as other issues are being decided, board information officer Bunn said.

Trustee Bunn said it is too risky to the passage of a capital project to have voters influenced by other matters. For example, he said, Esquimalt was seeking expression of opinion on a community swimming pool.

The pool was turned down by a substantial margin—1,077-733—even though the 46 per cent vote was highest in the area.

"The people took it out on the referendum," he said, noting the margin of support here was lowest of the four municipalities.

Talks Under Way With Peterson On Alberni Strike

Management - union representatives in the Port Alberni office workers strike were still closeted with Labor Minister Leslie Peterson in his office at press time.

The strike of sixty office workers has idled 3,000 men in the Alberni valley at MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Company.

The office workers are seeking an average increase of $75 per month.

They rejected last Tuesday a conciliation offer of 5 per cent increase on wages ranging between $200 and $450 per month.

International vice-president of the Office Employees' International Union, William Lowe, asked Mr. Peterson to call the meeting. He said he wanted the company to clarify its position.

It appeared to have changed, Mr. Lowe said, following a letter from the company to all employees making "many misleading statements" about wages and conditions.

Island Woman Killed In Duncan Collision

City Man Involved In Highway Crash

A 60-year-old woman was killed in Duncan in a two-car motor accident Sunday morning.

Dead is Mrs. Georgina Paterson of Lake Cowichan.

The accident occurred at 11:30 a.m. at the intersection of James Street and the Trans-Canada Highway near Cowichan Secondary School.

Mrs. Paterson was a passenger in the car driven by her husband, Stanley.

The other car was driven by William L. McLaren of 431 Arnold Street, Victoria.

Duncan RCMP said Mr. Paterson was crossing the highway from a westerly direction on James Street when he was in collision with the McLaren vehicle travelling north on the Trans-Canada Highway.

STOP SIGN

A stop sign is posted at the James Street intersection but there are no traffic lights.

Coroner D. K. McAdam will open an inquest into the fatality this evening but it will then adjourn until a later date.

Funeral service will be held from the Hirst Funeral Chapel, Duncan, Thursday at 2 p.m. Cremation will follow.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Electric Club: Crest Motel, 12:15 p.m.; Earl Lehna, president, Western Home Guard Patrol.

North Victoria Kiwanis: Tally-Ho Travelodge, 6:15 p.m.; Miss R. Bourneman, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Victoria Kiwanis: Empress Hotel, 12:10 p.m.; "The Canadian Open Golf Championship."

TOP KIWANIAN:

'Freedom Calls For Action By Individual'

The president of Kiwanis International spoke on his concept of freedom at a banquet attended by members of 30 Vancouver Island and lower mainland Kiwanis clubs Saturday night.

Charles A. (Nick) Swain of Cape May, New Jersey, told the gathering that "the preservation and the enhancing of freedom calls for individual action.

"People must be responsible for their own welfare" and guard the entrance of government into any field of service now handled by voluntary service organizations.

He said that "the free enterprise economy has produced the kind of social and economic structure which we enjoy today."

In a press conference, he said services such as the Kiwanis provided—the Oak Bay pavilion, Hammersley Park, a playground, an orphanage helped by Kiwanians, the new Kiwanis home for "displaced girls" and the Kiwanis senior citizens' village — should be performed through private organizations.

SAFEGUARDS

He said Kiwanis has begun expanding into 10 other countries than the original Canada and the U.S., but only with "due safeguards to make sure control remains in the parent countries."

He said Kiwanis were only establishing branches in "freedom-loving countries," and that membership would be withdrawn "if they went communist on us."

AUTONOMOUS

Member clubs in the U.S. South could bar Negroes because they are "autonomous."

This would not violate the Kiwanis objective "to encourage the daily living of the Golden Rule in all human relationships" because, he said, "their idea of the Golden Rule may be different from ours."

Mr. Swain said the organization is fighting the recent Supreme Court decision barring prayer in government-supported schools, a controversy "started by a couple of atheists."

Mr. Swain, whose organization includes 5,300 clubs and 260,000 people, left for Edmonton Sunday after a tour of Victoria and the Butchart Gardens.

TOP HONORS in a six-week naval operations course at Halifax were won by Wren Muriel Bertrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Bertrand, 1885 Quamichan Avenue. Muriel attended Victoria High School before joining the Wrens in October of last year.

CAR MUSEUM, CAFE?

Bastion Square Plan Revealed

The Bastion Square restoration seeds planted last year by Mayor R. B. Wilson began bearing fruit today—in the form of a potential $250,000 private-enterprise tourist development for the Duncan Block, located next to the temporary City Hall.

Most likely development for the block—bought for $41,000 by the city last year to save it from possible destruction—is an antique car museum combined with an authentic Victorian-era restaurant.

W. P. Enman, president of the Royal London Wax Museum, offered to buy the property for $40,000 and submitted a 10 per cent cash deposit. The $1,000 difference in price reflects retention of one corner of the property at the rear to connect with the Yates Street carpark.

A highly pleased Mayor Wilson and the civic finance committee recommended council accept the offer subject to discussion of a few minor points.

The offer said Mr. Enman and his associate A. L. Batty:

"Agree to place or have placed into operation an entertainment attraction of a calibre similar to the London Wax Museum within a period of three years from date of final acceptance of this offer.

They also undertook to clean and paint the front of the historic building, probably using sand blasting or steam removal of the existing grime, and "not attempt to have these buildings destroyed or removed . . ."

UP TO CITY

The offer also indicated that it was contingent on the city going ahead with its plans for landscaping Bastion Square and building a pedestrian mall to Government Street by 1965.

In an interview, Mr. Enman said no conclusive decision has been made yet as to the exact type of development in the building but the investment will involve about $250,000.

"We have a number of ideas we are considering but I would say that the leading ones at the moment are creation of an antique car museum — in which authentic cars would each be placed in a period scene with appropriate background as the figures are in the wax museum — combined with a genuine, authentic restaurant of the Victorian era."

He added that he is leaving for Japan next month as part of a trade delegation and while there "I'll be looking around for any other ideas that are good."

BOUGHT LAST YEAR

Love for old buildings with a genuine Victoria heritage — and a lively appreciation of opportunities to rehabilitate the city — prompted Mayor Wilson last year to convince city council that it should buy the Duncan Block, which was one of the city's original hotels and centre of pioneer night life, as the keystone for redevelopment of Bastion Square.

The gamble has paid off handsomely since then.

On the strength of the city's restoration hopes, it obtained the vacated Courthouse for use as a temporary City Hall which will be turned into a new home for the B.C. Maritime Museum this winter.

CAFE ABUILDING

In addition, a "brazier" type of restaurant is now being built by a private developer across the square and the city has purchased the Heaney block, original home of the city's board of trade, which will be developed into a school of music and possibly other fine arts.

Driver Crashed Wrong Car

A driver who had "had a few beers" made the mistake of crashing into the rear of a police car on Government Street late Saturday night.

Albert Ward, 1060 Southgate, was unsteady on his feet and his voice was slurred when police talked to him at the scene. As a result he was arrested and charged with impaired driving.

Today he pleaded guilty to the charge when he appeared in city court but was put over for sentencing because he said he needs his licence for his work.

Bank Crest Bounces On Bennett

Premier W. A. C. Bennett has been on a wild crest chase, historical writer James K. Nesbitt said today.

W. C. Budd, the premier's executive assistant, last week went to see a big sandstone carving reputed to have decorated the original Bank of B.C. building here at the turn of the century.

Mr. Budd's idea was to put the old crest on the new Bank of B.C. headquarters to be built in Vancouver.

But it turns out to be the wrong crest.

Mr. Nesbitt dug the evidence out of the provincial archives.

He came up with a picture of the crest in question atop a building on lower Yates St. which was torn down in 1949.

It was the original home of the Bank of British North America.

SMALLER CREST

The Bank of B.C., a completely different establishment, was on Government St., and a picture of its original office shows a much smaller crest over the doorway.

Mr. Budd wasn't that interested anyway today.

He said he only went to look at the crest, now at Derick Stratford's Douglas St. service station.

"I never offered any money for it," he said.

GRADUATING CLASS MEMBERS Lorraine Saunders and Gordon Fearn listen intently at the University of Victoria Baccalaureate Service held at St. Andrew's Cathedral Sunday evening. Graduates, their families, faculty members and friends heard Bishop Remi de Roo call for a richer blend of theological, cultural and scientific studies.

'Critical Intelligence' Must for Future Leaders

A society swayed by six-word newspaper headlines needs critical intelligence, 168 graduating students at University of Victoria were told today by congregation speaker Msgr. Jacques Garneau.

The Roman Catholic priest, an associate director of the National Conference of Canadian Universities and Colleges, was chosen to speak at the university's first congregation in which degrees were given in their own right.

"The development of critical intelligence appears to be quite as important a goal for our universities to pursue as is the transmission of professional skills," the speaker said before a crowded gymnasium at Gordon Head campus.

'BEYOND KNOWLEDGE'

Tomorrow's leaders must reach "understanding beyond knowledge," he said.

Part of this can come through a meeting of French and English-speaking cultures in Canada, an opportunity in which Canada has singular advantage.

Past difficulties come, he said, not only through lack of knowledge but "from a failure to understand that our mental schemes are far from being similar and that our different ways of thinking stem from different philosophical influences in both cultures."

'HAPPY RESULTS'

The speaker said his own experience working in the Ottawa headquarters of NCCUC has shown him that English empiricism allied with logical French thinking can produce "surprisingly happy results."

He charged students with the fact that their university education provides them with a "framework within which continuous innovation, renewal and rebirth can occur."

As Canadians, graduates must provide leadership using courage, vision, tolerance and foresight, he said.

LIVE TOGETHER

For Canada to play its full role in international affairs, Canadians must learn to live and operate together.

"We must make our confederation work. If we fail to do so, we will at the same time make a pitiful and notorious showing of ineptitude and unworthiness to bear our international responsibilities," Msgr. Garneau said.

He urged students to be themselves, to keep an open mind and have a friendly heart.

The speaker is a descendent of the first Frenchman to settle on land granted by Samuel de Champlain on the heights of Quebec, where 18 years later, in 1863, the College des Jesuites—forerunner of Laval University—was established.

He spoke a few words in his native language to express how touched he was to be chosen speaker at today's historic occasion, and to wish the class noble careers.

Judge J. B. Clearihue, a member of the original Victoria College class 50 years ago, was named chancellor when the university attained full status last July. He was officially installed before granting degrees to the 129 arts and science gradautes and 39 education graduates.

One honorary degree, that of doctor of laws, was conferred in the ceremony, singling out professor emeritus Jeffree A. Cunningham, a zoologist who served Victoria College 27 years.

On Sunday night, Roman Catholic bishop of Victoria Remi De Roo, addressed the graduating class at its baccaulauerate service in St. Andrew's Cathedral.

He said it is appropriate that age-old links between church and university should be strengthened.

'PARTNERSHIP'

The church and university should be "partners in the pursuit of truth," he said.

In developing the intellectual personality of the student, a university education should enable the student to achieve mastery over his knowledge, the bishop said.

There are two levels of knowledge—the scientific and the theological, finding their unity in God's plan for the universe.

And the pursuit of knowledge and possession of truth are common heritage of church and university, Bishop De Roo said.

"The churches should consider no scholar an adequate theologian who has not first acquired the qualities of a university graduate. Divine truths themselves cannot be made relevant to human life if they seek expression in a scientific and cultural vacuum," he said.

"Only superficial minds will claim that there is any real contradiction, any irreducible opposition between the definite conclusions of science and the authentic doctrines of the Christian tradition."

Young Driver Flies Through Malahat Air

A stolen car driven by a juvenile crashed through a guard rail on the Malahat Sunday morning and went 125 feet through the air before hitting a tree.

It struck the tree, bounced off and landed 50 feet away. Colwood RCMP said parts of wreckage were scattered in a radius of 300 feet.

The driver had not only stolen the car in Saanich, but was also driving while under suspension.

He is reported today in satisfactory condition in hospital and will likely be discharged soon, after which he will appear in juvenile court.

V.I. BRIEFS

Nanaimo PCs Request Flag Vote

NANAIMO—Progressive Conservative Association at its quarterly meeting Saturday proposed that the controversial flag issue be resolved by a national referendum.

While the executive of the association went on record as favoring the Red Ensign, the association wants the people to have a chance to choose between the Red Ensign and the proposed "Pearson flag" featuring the maple leaf.

Voting on th equestion should be recorded in such a way that it would not indicate results by provinces or regions, the association said.

Service clubs and other organizations in the district have been asked to send representatives.

Funeral Monday

DUNCAN — Funeral service was held in St. John's Anglican Church, Cobble Hill, for Herbert Thomas Collison, who served aboard the Port Jackson, one of the last clipper ships.

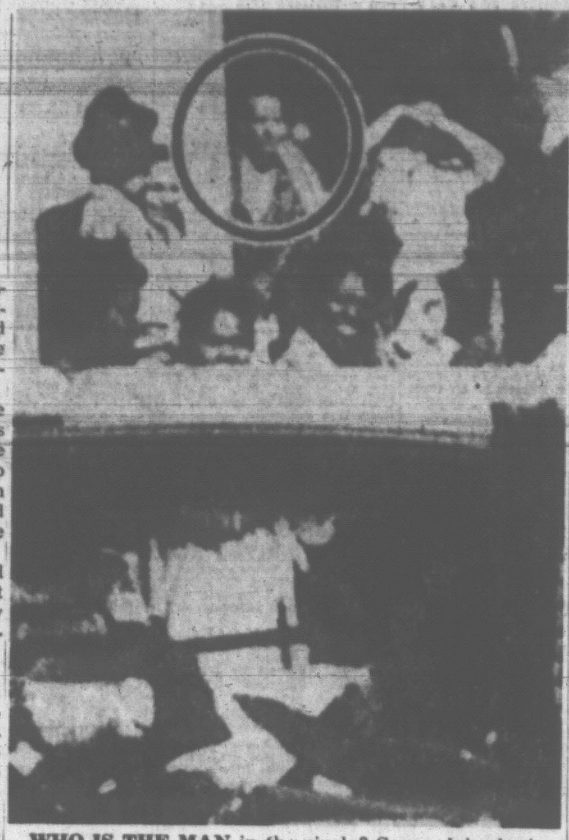
He died Thursday at the age of 75.

Born in England, Mr. Collison was a veteran of the First and Second World Wars and a former agent for Imperial Oil Co. at Skidegate in the Queen Charlotte Islands. He was also an active member of St. John's Church.

Boy Satisfactory

DUNCAN—A six-year-old boy, who suffered a skull fracture and broken arm Saturday when his bicycle he was riding collided with a car, is reported in satisfactory condition today in Kings Daughters' Hospital.

Peter Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wilson of Cedar Street, was in collision with a car driven by Antonio Lomma of Cobble Hill.



WHO IS THE MAN in the circle? Some claim he is Lee Harvey Oswald, photographed seconds after President Kennedy was shot, which would mean he couldn't have been the assassin. However, another employee of the Texas Schoolbook Depository says he is the man in the photo. (AP Wirephoto.)

CAMERA ON GUN

JFK Shooting 'Set Up' Again

DALLAS (AP) — More than six months after the assassination of president John F. Kennedy, federal agents still are reconstructing the murder scene.

A leading New York newspaper caused more speculation when it published a picture Sunday of a man standing near the Kennedy car that resembles Lee Harvey Oswald, who was charged with killing the president.

The New York Herald Tribune called the picture taken by AP photographer J. W. Altgens "probably the most controversial photograph of the decade."

If it was Oswald in the picture near the Kennedy car, he could not have been the man who fired the shots that killed the president from a sixth-floor window of the Texas School Book Depository Building.

The picture was taken almost at the instant of the assassination.

Federal agents reconstructed the assassination scene Sunday as cameras recorded the repeated sequence of events from various angles.

The films will be used by the Warren commission investigating the chief executive's slaying.

An estimated 500 persons watched silently as a limousine containing four agents rolled slowly in front of the building.

From the sixth floor a federal agent poked the rifle through a window where police say Oswald shot Kennedy.

J. Lee Rankin, chief counsel for the commission, said the reenactment was staged "to check out some of the approximate positions of the car at the time of the shots."

An FBI agent, seated in the limousine had a chalk mark on the back of his coat where the first bullet hit the president. On the back of his head was a patch indicating where the fatal bullet struck.

A second agent posing as John Connally wore the same suit the Texas governor had on when he was seriously wounded. The bullet hole in the coat was circled in chalk.

The re-enactment, staged time and again, took seven hours and traffic was rerouted from the scene. One of the cameras used in the portrayal was mounted to the murder weapon to record the shot sequence.

The AP picture shows a man standing in the background in the first-floor entrance of the school depository.

He resembles Oswald, but at the time, the AP quoted R. S. Truly, superintendent of the depository, as saying the man in the picture was Billy Lovelady, another employee of the firm, where Oswald also worked.

"I showed the photograph to Lovelady," Truly said at the time, "who said 'Yes, that's me.' "

At the time the picture first came to public notice last December, the FBI said it also had investigated the photograph and was satisfied that the man shown in the picture was not Oswald.

HOMES TOUR

Door Opens —and in Troop 700

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wilson opened the door of their home, 606 Inglewood, on Saturday and in trouped 700 people.

But Mrs. Wilson didn't have to worry about where everyone was going to sit.

For she and her husband were just one of four families who agreed to open their homes to the public to help Victoria Art Gallery women's committee.

The tour of four stately homes between 2 and 5 p.m. was arranged as part of a money raising effort for the gallery.

With transport provided from the gallery, visitors were able to see the Wilson's blend of contemporary and traditional styles.

Then, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gavin Chisholm, 3971 Smugglers Cove Road, they witnessed contemporary styling.

An example of the artistic in traditional style was the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Nation, 1051 Beach Drive.

Antiques and some fine old English furniture were features of the former home of Princess Chikmatoff, 2031 Runnymede Avenue, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ellis.

Judge Bonnie Caught The Judge's Eye

Judges were judged sevenfold Saturday when nearly 200 members of 4-H—the government-sponsored junior farmer organization — competed in their annual southern island field day.

Organized by Ken Jameson, district agriculturist with headquarters at Duncan, the field day brought together members of all of the 4-H clubs on Saanich peninsula, Luxton and Metchosin.

Broken down into senior, intermediate and junior groups, the young people spent the day judging seven different classes of agriculture exhibits. The seniors and intermediates had to give written reasons for the placings they made.

GOLD WATCH

And when their judging had been judged and results compiled, the top judge of the day was a dark-eyed 17-year-old member of the Saanich 4-H Aryshire Club, smiling Bonnie Reimer.

She will receive a gold watch from the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce later in the year to go with the rosette ribbon presented her at the close of the competition by Sig Peterson, supervisor of 4-H clubs in B.C.

Prior to the presentations, the contestants were addressed by G. L. Landon, past president of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs, who brought greetings from Charlottetown, P.E.I., where the council held its annual meeting.

Runner-up to Miss Reimer in the aggregate standing was a 17-year-old member of the Saanich 4-H Jersey Calf Club, Wendy Baker.

And in third place was Don Alberg, 17, of the Sooke, Sidney, Saanich 4-H Club.

Two other members of the Saanich Jersey Calf club topped the intermediate and junior divisions, David Evans the former, and Sylvia Wright the junior.

Second in the intermediate was George Colgrave of the Luxton Garden and Maldsaan Lamb clubs, and third was Stephen Bapty of the Saanich 4-H Holstein club.

Second to Sylvia in the junior was Wendy Patterson of the Luxton Holstein club, and third was Heather Hobbis of the Luxton Poultry club.

In individual class judging, for which ribbons also were presented, these were the results:

C'wealth: Teen-Ager With Growing Pains

The modern British Commonwealth really dates from 1947—the year India became independent, British High Commissioner Sir Henry Lintott said here Friday night.

"I think this new Commonwealth is now showing some of the growing pains of adolescence," he told hte Vancouver Island branch of the Royal Commonwealth Society at a dinner in Victoria Golf Club.

"It is only 17 years old—an age which in the individual is associated traditionally with sweetness, but it is also an age of restlessness and turbulence."

Sir Henry said this simile did not apply only to the new countries of the Commonwealth.

MUST ADAPT

"All the member countries have to adapt their attitudes in a lot of ways if this young association is to grow and prosper."

He believed that, behind the contentious issues which sometimes divide Commonwealth governments, there is a "solid foundation" that has weathered the storm of growth.

The high commissioner spoke of a handbook published by his department which devotes nearly 60 pages of close type to organizations in Britain concerned with various aspects of Commonwealth relations.

"There are 88 of them and I am sure this list is not exhaustive."

Sir Henry said there were 14 Commonwealth conferences in 1962 and 10 in 1963, ranging from a prime ministers' meeting to a round-table parley on overseas highway problems.

Housing Project Raided in Union Row

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A gang of terrorists raided a housing project with clubs, axes and hammers today causing thousands of dollars damage. The raiders chased 35 workmen from their jobs and injured at least six of them, including a man hurled downstairs.

The builder had been warned by an anonymous telephone call to expect trouble at the construction project because alleged non-union employees were working.

Plane Bomb Plotter Jailed 8½ Years

SYDNEY (Reuters)—A Russian migrant who admitted attempting to blow up an Australian airliner carrying 48 passengers in 1960 was sentenced to 8½ years in jail here today. Alex Hildebrandt, 25, admitted placing explosive on a Trans-Australia airliner. He said he was "sick of the capitalist system and wanted to return to Russia." The judge backdated Hildebrandt's sentence to October, 1960.

Geoffrion Quits Habs to Coach Aces

QUEBEC (CP)—Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, great National Hockey League forward, today began a new career as coach of the American Hockey League's Quebec Aces.

Plane Damaged in North Landing

HUDSON HOPE, B.C. (CP)—A Pacific Western Airlines passenger plane carrying 38 passengers and a crew of four was damaged today when a wheel hit a soft area of the runway and was "pulled off" a shoulder.

No one was injured and passengers were placed on a bus to continue to their destination.

IN VIET NAM

A-Bomb Jungle Goldwater Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Barry Goldwater proposed Sunday the use of low-yield atomic weapons to defoliate the forests along South Viet Nam's borders and expose the jungle supply lines of the Communist-led rebels.

The Arizona contender for the Republican presidential nomination also urged bombing of bridges, roads and railroads used for bringing supplies from Communist China and North Viet Nam unless the Communists halt military shipments over them. He said such non-atomic attacks on supply lines should be carried out "wherever they may be."

He said U.S. authorities should "consult with the leading Red Chinese in North Viet Nam to the effect that we are stronger," before bombing the supply routes, and predicted they would back down and cut off the shipments.

"I think those people understand what we would be getting at, and we should be doing it," he said in an interview recorded for a radio and television program.

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass accused U.S. Senator Barry Goldwater Sunday of issuing a "canibalistic call" for the use of atomic bombs in South Viet Nam.

The Tass commentary said: "He did not dare to say straightforwardly that the bomb would wipe out everything living from the face of the much suffering land of South Viet Nam."

IWA Split OnContract Proposals

The International Woodworkers of America is "split right down the middle" over a contract proposal aimed at settling the coast lumberworkers dispute, a union spokesman said today.

A majority of IWA negotiators last week agreed to recommend acceptance by union members of a conciliation report offering wage increases of 28 cents an hour over two years, plus 15 cents for tradesmen. The union was demanding 40 cents in one year.

Two strong locals in the 26,000 member union have already said they will recommend rejec-

Pay Boost in August

OTTAWA (CP) — The 22,000 clerical employees of the government who did not receive pay boosts with other civil servants when a general increase was granted last year may expect a raise early in August, president Claude A. Edwards of the Civil Service Federation said today.

Police Tactics Hit

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — The government decreed semi-martial law today to halt rioting after a stampede in the soccer stadium in which at least 268 persons were killed and more than 300 injured.

A state of national mourning was ordered.

The riot-stampede in the National Stadium started when a Uruguayan referee discounted a goal scored by Peru in a game with Argentina and the latter won, 1-0.

Hot-headed fans in the crowd of 45,000 swarmed on the field to attack the referee and police started throwing tear gas grenades. The crowd stampeded for the exits only to find some of them still closed. Hundreds were trampled to death in the mass hysteria.

A baby was born in the stadium at the height of the rioting. It was not known whether the child and mother survived.

Priests walked among the trampled as the panic eased, administering the last rites. Most of the deaths were due to asphyxiation.

A check of hospitals and morgues showed at least 268 dead and more than 300 injured. At first it was feared the death toll was over 400.

The casualty count was made more difficult by the hundreds of persons who jammed corridors seeking to identify the dead.

WALL SHATTERED

The huge stadium was jammed today by thousands of curious. The shattered steel wall separating the playing field from the bleachers gave mute testimony of the violence of the stampede.

Hundreds of glass windows were shattered. Some sections of the stands had been burned.

There were two piles on central stairways of shoes of the victims trampled to death. A great blotch of blood on one wall showed how people had been crushed against it by the thousands stampeding for the exits.

Three buildings in front of the stadium were charred and smoking ruins. They had been attacked, burned and looted by the rioting mobs which surged into the streets after the disaster.

TEAR GAS BARRAGE

Most of the deaths were caused by the crush of the crowd seeking to flee the barrage of tear gas hurled into the stands by police.

Newsmen at the scene said the small police force present—some 40 men with two dogs—made excessive use of tear gas, perhaps because they were afraid of being overwhelmed.

Newsmen also said the tear gas was thrown into the stadium seats instead of among the rioters who had broken down the steel wall between the stands and the playing field, and were swarming onto the field.

Police identified the principal trouble-maker at the game as a

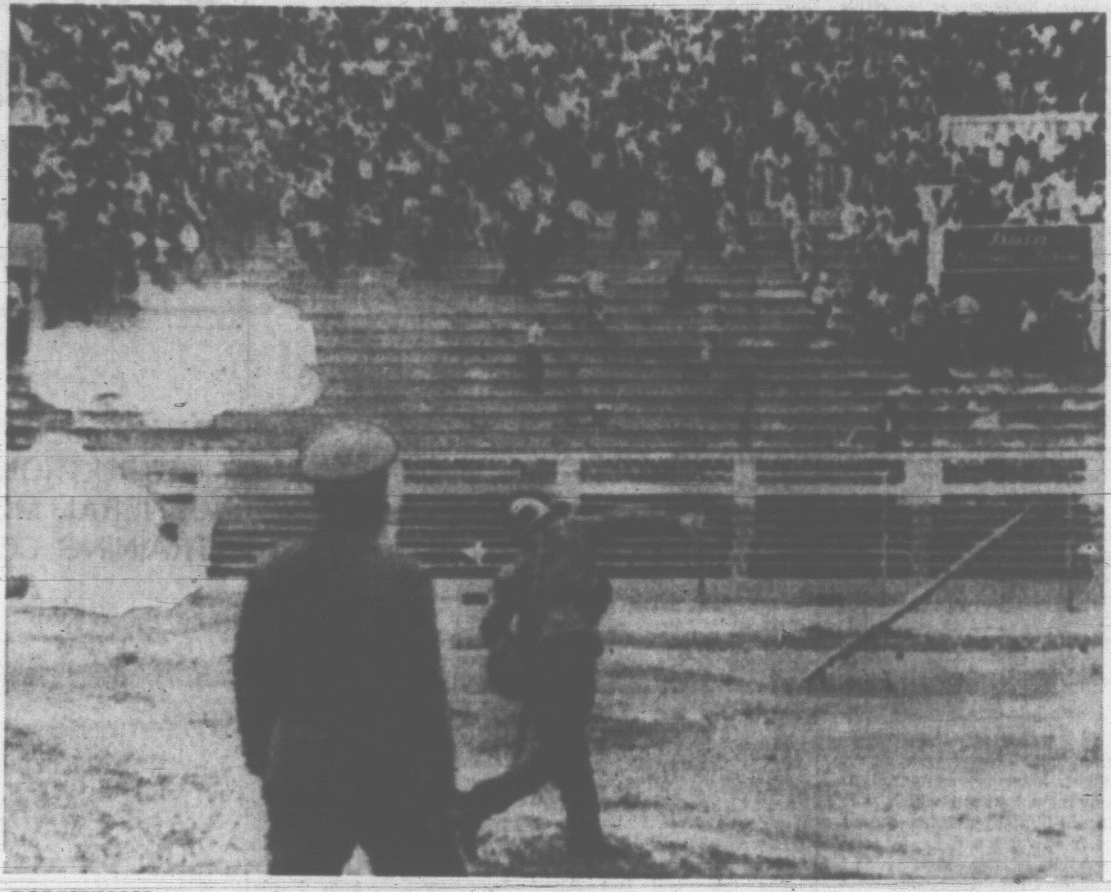
IODE ASKS VOTE ON FLAG ISSUE



POLICEMAN tosses tear gas bomb toward spectators in stands in Lima, Peru, stadium in futile effort to control riot that killed 268 persons Sunday. At least 300 others were injured. A crowd of 45,000 was in the stadium for the international soccer match with Argentina. (AP Wirephoto.)

'Citizens Deprived Of Right'

FREDERICTON (CP)—The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire said today the Canadian government is depriving "citizens of their rights to vote" on the distinctive Canadian flag issue.

The IODE, in a telegram to Prime Minister Pearson unanimously backed by members of the IODE's 64th annual meeting here, said the "national chapter, IODE, deplores that in this democratic country our government would deprive individual citizens of their rights to vote on an issue as vital as the Canadian flag.

"The IODE strongly urges that the prime minister hold a national plebiscite in order that the people of Canada may decide whether the Canadian Red Ensign or a flag of a new design shall be the official flag of Canada."

EYEWITNESS REPORTS:

People Crushed Trying to Flee

Among the 45,000 in the stands Sunday when disaster struck at an Argentine-Peruvian soccer game in Lima was Roland Selfio Angeles. This is his account.

By Rolando Selfio Angeles

LIMA, Peru (AP)—I saw people crushed to death in the tunnels of National Stadium, and heard the horrible screams of others trying to escape the human stampede.

I was on the east side of the field when the trouble started Sunday afternoon.

Argentina was leading 1-0 in the last minutes of the soccer game when Peru sent a ball into the net.

You should have seen the fans scream and yell. Because of interference on the play the Peruvian players protested some, but the game went on.

The crowd jeered, booed and whistled and some bottles and rocks were thrown on the field. But things were not yet out of control.

SCREAMS AT REFEREE

Then away down the field on the south side of the stadium a heavyset man started running toward the referee, screaming insults.

The police grabbed him quickly, roughed him up some and got him off the field.

The players resumed the game, but about that time at the south end of the stadium another fellow ran out on the field and started for the referee.

By now the crowd was really screaming, and began to pour out on the field.

The referee ran for his life, and escaped. The players left the field without any trouble.

FIRE TEAR GAS

The police started shooting tear gas into the stands to try to calm the fans down a little and keep them off the playing field.

But, especially at the north end of the stadium, things really got out of control. The fans started slugging it out with police.

Spectators everywhere then tried to leave the stadium before they got hurt. The ones who went through the tunnels at the south end were lucky. The gates were open.

The real trouble was at the north end, where the gates were closed.

There was a stampede. The first people ran to the gates and were crushed by the ones behind them trying to get out. They began to pile on top of each other.

They were screaming for help and gasping for breath. I saw some collapse and fall to the ground. They were trampled to death.

In the stands, fans were fighting fans, to get out and head for the exits.

FLAG BALLOT

Ensign Leads Polling But Both Sides Hot

Victorians are pretty hot on the flag issue!

Over the weekend close to 1,000 letters containing the Times' flag ballots reached the office.

A number of them were accompanied by letters explaining reasons for the votes.

Not all of the ballots were processed for today's paper.

But the count at this juncture indicates that Times' readers favor the Red Ensign better than two to one over the new maple leaf design.

Here is the actual count so far:

Red Ensign 601
Maple Leaf 254

The notes on ballots and the letters indicate the depth of feeling on the subject. Several of those objecting to the new design do so because it eliminates the Union Jack as part of the flag.

Here are a few comments:

"The Hon. Mr. Pearson seems to forget the Red Ensign is a sacred symbol, a flag to be honored always . . ."

"For a united Canada; A large Maple Leaf; One for All and All for One."

"As a German I have the experience how a flag change splits the nation."

"Born in Canada 67 years ago . . . To me this is one of my proudest moments . . . to live under a real Canadian flag . . . I shall always love the Union Jack and think it should always be flown . . . but I remain a Canadian who is very happy to live under our own Canadian flag."

"I think the flag issue is only a political football."

For the convenience of those who have not sent in their votes, the ballot form is repeated today.

Just mail it to "Flag Ballot, Victoria Daily Times, 2631 Douglas."

I am in favor of the new maple leaf design for Canada's national flag ------------------------

I think Canada should confirm the Red Ensign as the national flag ------------------------

CHURCHILL SAYS RED ENSIGN 'DISTINCTIVE'

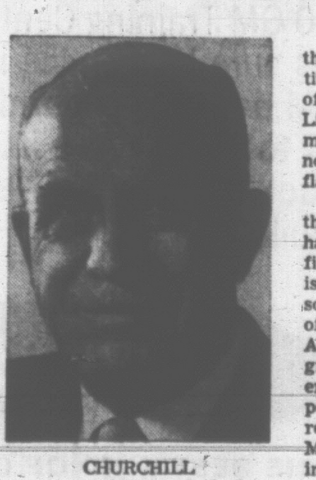
Tories Plan Long Fight Against the New Flag

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Progressive Conservative and other opposition members favoring the Red Ensign are prepared to wage a long drawn-out battle in the Commons against adoption of Prime Minister Pearson's proposed distinctive Canadian flag.

Gordon Churchill, Conservative House leader, made this clear today when he vigorously and emphatically denounced Mr. Pearson.

"We are not going to have a flag thrust down our throats by any sawdust Caesar," he said in an interview. "I feel very strongly about this and you can quote me."



CHURCHILL
. . . against maple leaf

The official Opposition, the Progressive Conservative group, will move a want of confidence motion in the Liberal minority government today. However, it will not be concerned with the flag.

Mr. Churchill pointed out that the Conservatives could hardly cast a want of confidence motion on the flag issue at this time because so far there was nothing officially before the House. All that the opposition groups know about the Liberal government's flag proposals are what they have read in the press or what Mr. Pearson has told them in reply to questions.

WHO IS THE MAN in the circle? Some claim he is Lee Harvey Oswald, photographed seconds after President Kennedy was shot, which would mean he couldn't have been the assassin. However, another employee of the Texas Schoolbook Depository says he is the man in the photo. (AP Wirephoto.)

CAMERA ON GUN

JFK Shooting 'Set Up' Again

DALLAS (AP) — More than six months after the assassination of president John F. Kennedy, federal agents still are reconstructing the murder scene.

A leading New York newspaper caused more speculation when it published a picture Sunday of a man standing near the Kennedy car that resembles Lee Harvey Oswald, who was charged with killing the president.

The New York Herald Tribune called the picture taken by AP photographer J. W. Altgens "probably the most controversial photograph of the decade."

If it was Oswald in the picture near the Kennedy car, he could not have been the man who fired the shots that killed the president from a sixth-floor window of the Texas School Book Depository Building.

Federal agents reconstructed the assassination scene Sunday as cameras recorded the repeated sequence of events from various angles.

The films will be used by the Warren commission investigating the chief executive's slaying.

An estimated 500 persons watched silently as a limousine containing four agents rolled slowly in front of the building.

From the sixth floor a federal agent poked the rifle through a window where police say Oswald shot Kennedy.

J. Lee Rankin, chief counsel for the commission, said the re-enactment was staged "to check out some of the approximate positions of the car at the time of the shots."

An FBI agent seated in the limousine had a chalk mark on the back of his coat where the first bullet hit the president. On the back of his head was a patch indicating where the fatal bullet struck.

A second agent posing as John Connally wore the same suit the Texas governor had on when he was seriously wounded. The bullet hole in the coat was circled in chalk.

The re-enactment, staged time and again, took seven hours and traffic was rerouted from the scene. One of the cameras used in the portrayal was mounted to the murder weapon to record the shot sequence.

He resembles Oswald, but at the time, the AP quoted R. S. Truly, superintendent of the depository, as saying the man in the picture was Billy Lovelady.

"I showed the photograph to Lovelady," Truly said at the time, "who said 'Yes, that's me.'"

At the time the picture first came to public notice last December, the FBI said it also had investigated the photograph and was satisfied that the man shown in the picture was not Oswald.

Judge Bonnie Caught The Judge's Eye

Judges were judged sevenfold Saturday when nearly 200 members of 4-H—the government-sponsored junior farmer organization — competed in their annual southern island field day.

Organized by Ken Jameson, district agriculturist with headquarters at Duncan, the field day brought together members of all of the 4-H clubs on Saanich peninsula, Luxton and Metchosin.

Broken down into senior, intermediate and junior groups, the young people spent the day judging seven different classes of agriculture exhibits. The seniors and intermediates had to give written reasons for the placings they made.

GOLD WATCH

And when their judging had been judged and results compiled, the top judge of the day was a dark-eyed 17-year-old member of the Saanich 4-H Aryshire Club, smiling Bonnie Reimer.

She will receive a gold watch from the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce later in the year to go with the rosette ribbon presented her at the close of the competition by Sig Peterson, supervisor of 4-H clubs in B.C.

Prior to the presentations, the contestants were addressed by G. L. Landon, past president of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs, who brought greetings from Charlottetown, P.E.I., where the council held its annual meeting.

Runner-up to Miss Reimer in the aggregate standing was a 17-year-old member of the Saanich 4-H Jersey Calf Club, Wendy Baker.

And in third place was Don Alberg, 17, of the Spoke, Sidney, Saanich 4-H Club.

Two other members of the Saanich Jersey Calf club topped the intermediate and junior divisions, David Evans the former, and Sylvia Wright the junior.

Second in the intermediate was George Colgrave of the Luxton Garden and Maldsaan Lamb clubs, and third was Stephen Bapty of the Saanich 4-H Holstein club.

Second to Sylvia in the junior was Wendy Patterson of the Luxton Holstein club, and third was Heather Hoobis of the Luxton Poultry club.

In individual class judging, for which ribbons also were presented, these were the results:

Poultry: 1, Ian Hamilton, Luxton poultry and beef clubs; 2, Bob Staniske, SSS beef club; 3, George Colgrave, Luxton garden and Malsaan lamb clubs.

Garden produce: 1, Reg Hoole, Saanich Jersey calf club, and Nancy Miller, Saanich home arts, tied; 2, Albert Pellet, Luxton garden club, Margaret Lord, North Saanich goat club, Don Alberg, SSS beef club, and Wendy Baker, Saanich Jersey calf club, all tied; 3, Selena Kelly, Saanich home arts club.

Goats: 1, Albert Pellet, Luxton garden club; 2, Jean Money, South Saanich goat club and Bonnie Reimer, Saanich Ayrshire club, tied; 3, George Colgrave, Luxton garden and Malsaan lamb clubs.

Beef: 1, Don Alberg, SSS beef club; 2, Wendy Baker, Saanich Jersey calf, Dena Cronk, Malsaan lamb, Bonnie Reimer, Saanich Ayrshire, Douglas Reimer, Saanich Ayrshire, and Kathy Smethurst, Malsaan lamb, all tied; 3, Sharon McCarthy, Saanich Holstein, and David Hobbis, Luxton garden and Holstein.

. . . FLAG

Consequently, Mr. Churchill indicated that the Conservatives would not be introducing a motion of confidence on the flag despite Prime Minister Pearson's challenge to them to do so last week. They will wait until the flag resolution is introduced and on a vote on the resolution the minority government will stand or fall.

Mr. Churchill was forthright in his stand. "I am for the Red Ensign," he told The Times. "If you think I am going to swallow the Pearson personal design you are wrong. We have a distinctive Canadian flag now in the Red Ensign and that is the flag I support.

"This pretense that adopting a new distinctive design will make for national unity is a delusion. It is purely an attempt to delude the people of Canada. I think it is nonsense to bring this matter forward at this time unless the adoption of a new flag was generally acceptable.

"We are going to have a good fight in the House. It has been a live issue for only a week now that the bombshell has been dropped and already the reaction is setting in. The debate in the House will inform the public and we intend to see that there is a thorough debate."

C'wealth: Teen-Ager With Growing Pains

The modern British Commonwealth really dates from 1947—the year India became independent, British High Commissioner Sir Henry Lintott said here Friday night.

"I think this new Commonwealth is now showing some of the growing pains of adolescence," he told hte Vancouver Island branch of the Royal Commonwealth Society at a dinner in Victoria Golf Club.

"It is only 17 years old—an age which in the individual is associated traditionally with sweetness, but it is also an age of restlessness and turbulence."

Sir Henry said this simile did not apply only to the new countries of the Commonwealth.

MUST ADAPT

"All the member countries have to adapt their attitudes in a lot of ways if this young association is to grow and prosper."

He believed that, behind the contentious issues which sometimes divide Commonwealth governments, there is a "solid foundation" that has weathered the storm of growth.

The high commissioner spoke of a handbook published by his department which devotes nearly 60 pages of close type to organizations in Britain concerned with various aspects of Commonwealth relations.

"There are 88 of them and I am sure this list is not exhaustive."

Sir Henry said there were 14 Commonwealth conferences in 1962 and 10 in 1963, ranging from a prime ministers' meeting to a round-table parley on overseas highway problems.
